Old Power Plant May be Removed to Make Room for Building With Stores Fronting on Central Street—Lowell Textile School Graduate Takes Charge of Mills at Central Falls—Other Mill News

It was stated today that the Hamilton Mfg. Co. was preparing to abolish its old boiler house in Central street and to build a new building with stores facing in Central street and extending the full length of the Hamilton wall.

It is stated that plans have been prepared and it is known that when the company put in its new power plant in Middlesex street the intention was to dispose of the old boiler house in Central street and replace it with a building. The plan was for stores on the first floor and the other floors to be used for cloth rooms or other purposes suitable to the company's convenience.

The reason the plans were not carried out at that time was said to be due to the fact that it was considered inadvisable to do away with the old boiler house until the new power plant was shown to be capable of supplying the necessary power for the entire plant. It has been demonstrated, it is stated, to the satisfaction of all concerned, that the new plant is equal to the occasion and the story of today has it that the company will proceed with its original plans.

Clarence N. Childs, agent of the Hamilton Mfg. Co., was not at his office this forenoon and it was stated that he had gone to Boston. There was no one about the mill who, in the absence of Mr. Childs, cared to discuss the plans referred to.

Review of the Company

In a review of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. recently issued, the following appears:

"This company was incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts in 1825. The plant covers an area of about 9 1-2 acres of ground consisting of six mills, plant works, dye houses and an immense cotton store house. It manufactures flannels, prints, ticks, stripes, drills, sheeting and shirtings. The capital of this corporation is $1,500,000; Wellington, Sears & Co. are the selling agents. Number of spindles, 118,200; hands employed, 2,500; cotton consumed per week in pounds, 200,000; yards dyed and printed per week, 1,000,000.

"A recent exhibit of the operations of this company for the past twenty-three years gives totals as follows: There have been paid out of earnings in that time for repairs and renewals, $4,222,508.32, and the average profit for twenty years has been per year, $169,709.82 or 3 1/2 per cent. on the capital.

"From 1900 to 1909, inclusive, a period of ten years, the sum total of the amount of dividends paid was $891,000, making an average dividend per year in that time of about five per cent.

The company closed the year of 1909 with a surplus of $757,565.07. Because of extra expenses during the year and the unsettled state of the cotton market, it was deemed prudent to pass the usual January dividend in 1910. The stock previous to that time was selling from $815 to $820 per share in the open market. The par value of the stock is $1,000 and at above price offered, is at the rate of $70 per hundred or $1,260,000 for the whole property. The property is assessed at $1,500,000.

Textile School Graduate

Joseph W. Bailey, a graduate of the Lowell Textile school with the class of 1899, has resigned his position as principal of the Bradford Durfee Textile school at Fall River to take the position of superintendent of the Samoset mills at Central Falls.

Mr. Bailey's theoretical knowledge, supplemented by his practical education, which he obtained in the cotton mills after his graduation has made him one of the most prominent instructors in cotton manufacturing in the country.

Before entering the Lowell Textile school, Mr. Bailey was employed for four years in the commission house of Clarence Whitman & Co., and after his graduation he began active work in the cotton mills. He was employed for a few years when he received an appointment as director in the Georgia School of Technology, and here he taught carding and spinning. He was highly successful in this branch of work, and in 1904 he was offered the principalship of the Fall River school, which he accepted.

When Mr. Bailey assumed charge there were but five day pupils and 163 evening pupils enrolled at the school. The curriculum was very limited, but Mr. Bailey soon enlarged it and at the present time there are 41 day pupils and 812 evening pupils. During the past two years an entirely new building has been erected with the most modern type of mill machinery.

The best wishes of all who came in contact with him follow Mr. Bailey to his new position, and his many friends are very confident that he will meet with great success in his new position.

Impressive Ceremony at Sacred Heart Church This Morning

With impressive ceremonies and in the presence of a congregation that filled the pretty church of the Sacred Heart, four young members of the Oblate order, three of whom are Lowell boys, were ordained to the priesthood by Most Rev. Archbishop Donnelly, O. M. I., D. D., titular archbishop of Potentia and superior general of the Oblate order.

The ceremony was of more than usual importance to the members of the order on account of the identity of the distinguished prelate who officiated. Archbishop Donnelly resided in Rome, but at present is on a tour of the Oblate houses on the American continent.

Yesterday 12 Oblate brothers received orders preparatory to ordination, the dedicatee being bestowed upon the four young men who were ordained this morning. Prior to the ordination, which took place at a low mass, the following orders were given: Sub-deacon, Bro. Anthony Sevenski, O. M. I., Bro. Robert McCoy, O. M. I., Bro. Herbert Bissette, O. M. I., and Bro. Daniel McCullough, O. M. I.

The order of deacon was conferred on Rev. Daniel Barry, O. M. I., a resident of St. Patrick's parish in this city. The ordination followed the minor orders, the four young priests kneeling on prie Dons before the main altar attired in full vestments.

The ordaining prelate and celebrant of the mass was Archbishop Donnelly, who was assisted by Rev. John Foley, O. M. I., of Billerica as arch-deacon; Rev. John R. McIlroy, O. M. I., as nuncio of the mass; Rev. Patrick Phelan, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, master of ceremonies, and Bro. John McLaughlin, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, assistant master of ceremonies.

Assisting within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial; Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Barrett, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. I., Rev. Edmund J. Connel, O. M. I., Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I., of Green Bay, Wis., Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., Rev. Rev. Watelle, O. M. I., Rev. Julian Racette, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Perneche, O. M. I., Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Hervey Racette, O. M. I., Rev. Charles Denzler, O. M. I., Rev. Edward Strauss, O. M. I., and 22 brothers from the Tewksbury novitiate. There were also present the Sisters of Mary of the Sacred Heart school and Sisters of Charity from St. John's hospital.

The four priests ordained were Rev. John J. Roche, O. M. I., Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., Rev. Edward J. Chaput, O. M. I., of this city, and Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., of Buffalo, N. Y.

The service lasted over two hours and concluded with the pontifical blessing upon all present. At the conclusion of the service the parents and relatives of the young priests, who occupied reserved seats near the altar, were invited into the sanctuary to receive the blessing of the newly ordained clergyman. It was intended to have the meeting for the relatives only but nearly all of the congregation filled in and knelt before the young men.

Tomorrow will be a memorable day at the Sacred Heart church for at 10:30 o'clock Rev. Fr. Wood will celebrate his first mass and he will be assisted by Rev. Fr. Roche as deacon, Archbishop Donnelly will occupy a throne within the sanctuary and the ceremony will be preached by Rev. W. J. Kerwin, O. M. I., formerly of this city but now superior of Holy Angels college at Buffalo, N. Y. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Muldoon, will repeat the Easter program and at the offering Mrs. Muldoon will sing the "Gloria" composed by His Grace Archbishop O'Connor.

Rev. Fr. Roche will celebrate his first low mass at the Sacred Heart church tomorrow at 8 o'clock and his first high mass on Sunday, May 29th. Rev. Fr. Chaput will celebrate his first mass at the church of Notre Dame de Lourdes at 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Sketch of the New Priests

Rev. John J. Roche, O. M. I., was born in Ireland and in September, 1900, some two years after coming to this country, he entered the College of Holy Angels at Buffalo, N. Y., where he pursued his preparatory studies for the priesthood. He entered the Oblate novitiate at Tewksbury in August, 1904, receiving his perpetual vows in September, 1906. In June, 1908, he received the tonsure and was raised to minor orders. On October 9, 1909, he was ordained to a sub-deaconship. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roche of 85 Moore street, and a brother of Sister Isabella of the Sacred Heart convent of Notre Dame, Boston.

Rev. Edward J. Chaput, O. M. I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chaput, was born in St. Joachim, Quebec, Canada, May 12, 1884. The following year his father moved to Lowell. The young priest received his early education at the Marist Brothers' school, Lowell, later attending the Oblate novitiate at Ottawa, following a classical course at the university. In 1905 he began his novitiate at Tewksbury, where he made his final vows in the Oblate order in September, 1906. He has been at Tewksbury pursuing his theological studies since that time.

Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1886. He is the son of Mrs. Winifred M. O'Brien and of the late John M. O'Brien. After completing his classical course in Holy Angels college, Buffalo, he entered the novitiate at Tewksbury, where he has pursued his philosophical and theological studies.

Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., is a son of Mrs. Mary Mullick Wood and the late Frank C. Wood, one time superintendent of police. After graduating from the Sacred Heart school he entered the preparatory college of Holy Angels, Buffalo. In the spring of 1903 he attended the Lowell high school. In the fall of the same year he went to the University of Ottawa, where he completed his classical studies. His first vows were made in 1906, and since that time he has been pursuing his ecclesiastical studies at the scholastic in Tewksbury. Fr. Wood enjoys the unusual privilege of being ordained and of celebrating his first mass in the same church where he received his first communion and was confirmed. As he is not yet 24 years old, a dispensation from the pope was necessary for his ordination to the priesthood.

All four young priests will return to their respective parishes tomorrow morning.

A PISTOL BATTLE

Two Persons Are Dead and Two Others Injured

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 14.—Two persons are dead and two injured today as a result of a pistol battle between the police and a saloon keeper shortly before midnight last night. The fight followed the efforts of Officer Ammons to close Dawson's saloon which was open after lawful hours. After some heated words Patrolman Ammons proceeded to club Dan Dawson when the latter's son Harry opened fire on the officer shattering the novitiate at Tewksbury where they will continue their studies for another year.

Confirmation at St. Joseph's

At St. Joseph's church at 3:30 yesterday afternoon Archbishop Donnelly administered confirmation to a class of 150 girls and 135 boys. Prior to the service His Grace was tendered a reception by the children of St. Joseph's school and college an account of which appeared in The Sun last evening.

The archbishop was assisted in administering the sacrament by Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., superior of the parish, and Rev. Fr. Baxon, O. M. I., Rector of St. Joseph's church; Rev. Fr. Gueltel, O. M. I., spiritual director of the boys, and Rev. Fr. Gratton, O. M. I., spiritual director of the girls, were masters of ceremonies.

Before the ceremony Mr. Donnelly spoke to the children on the significance of the sacrament they were about to receive.

Acting as sponsors to the children receiving the sacrament were Mrs. Euchariste Champagne, president of St. Anne's sodality, and Mr. Laverdiere, president of the Holy Family sodality. Attending the service was a congregation that completely filled the church.

THE IRISH LEAGUE

To Hear Rev. Dr. Keleher Tomorrow

There was a well attended meeting of the executive committee of the United Irish league at A. O. H. hall last evening, at which arrangements were made for a public meeting in the same hall on Sunday evening. It was announced that Rev. Dr. Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church, would deliver an address and a musical program of a high order will be presented. Among the singers will be the well known young baritone, Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy, of St. Patrick's choir.

Announcement was made that the second biennial convention of the American league would be held this year in Buffalo, N. Y., on September 27 and 28. Messrs. John E. Redmond, T. P. O'Connor and Joseph Devlin will attend as a delegation from the Irish party. They will remain in this country about six weeks going in different directions to address meetings.

It was voted to send to the national secretary, Mr. John O'Callaghan, an urgent request to have John E. Redmond cut prices for camera users. See page six.

TWO ACCIDENTS

At the Lowell Machine Shop

The ambulance was called to the Lowell Machine shop in Dutton street twice this morning to remove employees who had met with accidents.

About 8 o'clock Joseph Stafford, residing at 8 Dutton street, had his left leg injured as a result of a heavy beam falling on that member. He was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

Shortly after 9 o'clock James E. Stuart, of 40 West Adams street, had his left hand caught in a beading machine in the wood shop and three fingers were removed. He was also taken to the Lowell hospital.

IN POLICE COURT

Short Session Quickly
Disposed of

This morning's session of the police court was rather characteristic owing to its brevity. For the past several weeks the sessions have been rather lengthy, but this morning the business was rushed through.

Martin Ryan, charged with being drunk, admitted the charge and a fine of $6 was imposed, but Probation Officer Slattery after having a conversation with the man decided that owing to the fact that the defendant had eight children dependent upon him and that he promised to reform, requested the judge to change the sentence, so the fine was revoked and Ryan was given a chance to do better.

Peter Drole, minus his legs from the knees down, pleaded guilty to being drunk. Owing to his physical infirmity, he was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Phoebe E. Phillips, drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Peter Larkin, who claims to have a residence in Boston, was arrested in Middlesex street last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The latter said that Larkin had been soliciting money from people in the street and as soon as he got any money he went to one of the liquor saloons and spent it after which he did more soliciting. He was sent to the state farm.

Michael J. McDonald, who was under a suspended sentence of three months in jail, was surrendered by the probation officer this morning.

George Cross was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Marie A. He entered a plea of not guilty through his counsel, J. Joseph Hennessy. D. J. Donahue, who appeared for the government, started to give the court an explanation of the case, but the court decided that he would hear the testimony. When the government witnesses were called it was found that one Alphonse Bibeault, was missing, and Judge Hadley ordered a subpoena issued for him and continued the case till next Wednesday, holding the defendant under $200 bonds.

Charles W. Johnson was charged with violating a city ordinance covered by section 15 of chapter 5 of the city ordinances, relative to allowing an automobile to remain standing for more than 20 minutes in that part of Merrimack street between John and Bridge streets. Mr. Johnson admitted that his machine had been there more than 20 minutes, but that he was ignorant of the law. He was fined $2.

In the case of Sperios Zecapoz, charged with assault and battery on Yvelios Pappacostas, the former through his counsel, J. Joseph Hennessy, entered a plea of guilty and a fine of $8 was imposed. It seems that the pair got into an argument in Market street yesterday and after a couple of blows were exchanged they were separated by Constable Harry Lemmas.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW OF BRIDGE TO BE ERECTED OVER THE WALKER STREET CROSSING, ONE OF THE FOUR GRADE CROSSINGS TO BE REMOVED THIS YEAR. The lower sketch shows profile of the bridge and grades.

FOUR DEATH TRAPS

Grade Crossings to be Removed at Cost of Over $400,000

The Boston & Maine railroad will soon start the work of removing the School and Walker street grade crossings in this city. The work as laid out at present by the grade crossing commission will involve an outlay of over $400,000 as not only the School and Walker street crossings are to be removed, but also the crossings on Lincoln and Plain streets.

The School street crossing is by far the most dangerous in Lowell, and the accidents there, fatal and otherwise, have been numerous than at all the other crossings together. The reason is, that it is so far from the depot the trains outward have attained high speed and those inward have not lessened their speed to any great extent, so that express trains pass there almost at full speed. The Walker street crossing is not quite so bad, because it is nearer the depot, not so wide and better protected. The crossing at Middlesex street is the least dangerous of all, because there the trains are running very slowly and the tracks are close together.

The Lincoln street and Plain street crossings are about as dangerous as that of Walker street and quite a number of accidents have been recorded at both.

The work of bridging over the School street crossing will be very difficult. The grade will begin to rise at Rock street on the north side and continue beyond Spring avenue on the south side. The bridging of the canal and the wide span of tracks will be a very difficult matter, requiring a number of strong abutments under the long iron bridge. The tracks will not be lowered and the bridge will be at least sixteen feet in the clear.

The sketch presented herewith gives a perspective view of the bridge that will span the Walker street tracks. It will be forty feet long and sixteen feet in the clear, the roadbed remaining at the same level as at present. The grade of the new roadway will vary from three to four per cent on either side the middle of the bridge.

The grade will begin to rise almost midway between Columbus avenue and West Adams street on the south and between Bryant and Vaughn streets on the north side.

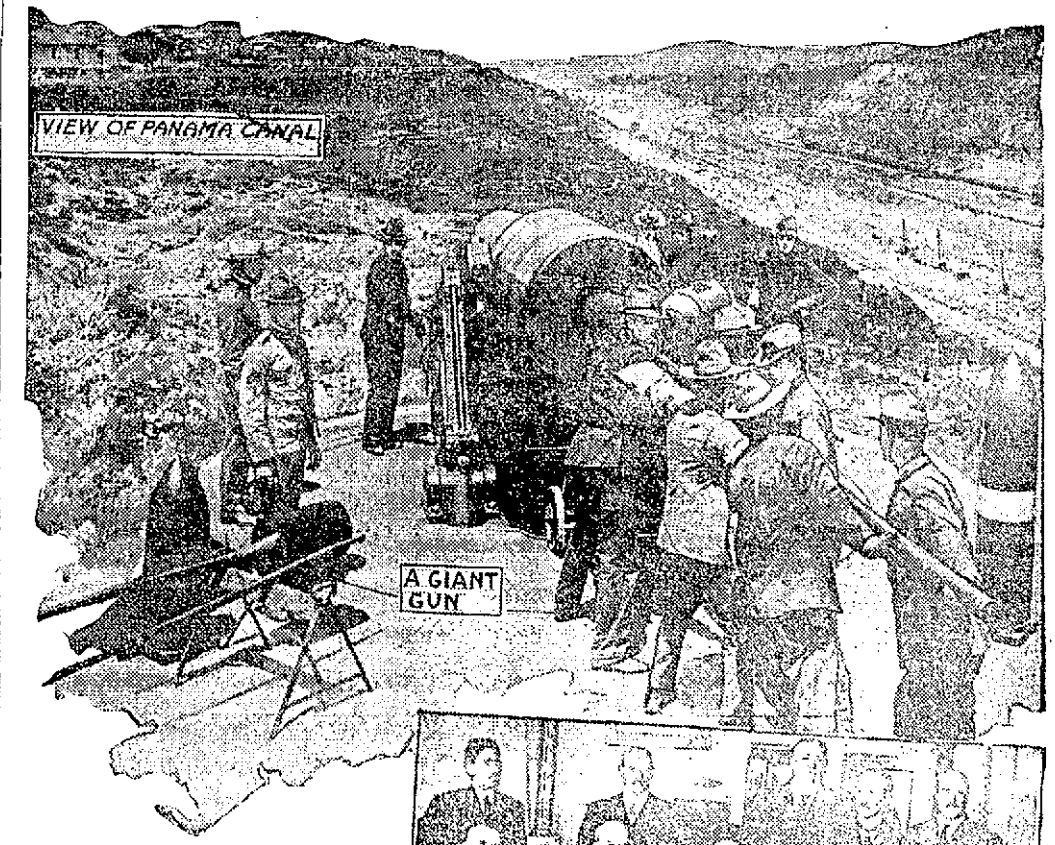

Considerable grading will be required to bring West Adams and Vaughn streets to the grade of the new roadway.

The tracks at Plain street will be lowered five and a half feet and this will necessitate the lowering of the tracks for quite a distance on either side.

Owing to the change of grade Boston road will be built up and a new street constructed across the angle between Plain street and the Boston road through the land of Robert G. Bartlett. The street will extend through to Marshall road. The bridge will be 60 feet long.

The bridge spanning the tracks at Lincoln street will be 100 feet long and Lincoln street from Autumn to Quebec will have to be raised. The difference in grade ranges from zero at Autumn street to 19 feet at the highest point. The removal of this crossing will require a vast amount of regrading and raising of buildings to bring the houses to street grade.

The work of widening the Billerica street bridge is now under way. The Boston and Maine railroad has its hands full in grade crossing work this year, having undertaken to remove the very bad crossing at Lynn depot, others in Malden, Salem, Waltham and Worcester.

FORTIFICATION COMMITTEE OF THE
PANAMA CANAL AND VIEW OF DITCH

PANAMA, May 14.—Acting under orders of President Taft, the Panama canal fortification committee has concluded its report of how Uncle Sam will guard the big ditch in time of war. President Taft's report is in the hands of the congressional committee and action on his recommendations is expected by June 1. The reports do not give the exact locations of the proposed fortifications, but it is explained that this cannot be furnished until information has been obtained regarding the "status and availability of certain parcels of land situated along the route of the canal." The armament for the proposed fortifications is enumerated as follows: Ten four-ton-inch rifles, twelve six-inch rifles and twenty-five twelve-inch mortars. The cost is estimated in excess of $14,000,000. The report states that the board has examined the ground at the terminus of the canal and of territory in the neighborhood of the canal's terminus. I am of the opinion that best sites for the big guns. "It is the duty of the United States to defend the work upon which it is expending such an enormous sum," the president says in his message. "An adequate defense requires suitable fortifications."

FINE BASE BALL

Between the Edson and
Highland Schools

For a contest between Grammar school boys the game between the Edson and Highland school on the South Common this morning was a remarkable exhibition. The Edsons won by a score of 4 to 0 in a pitcher's battle in which both Roane and Wilson covered themselves with glory. Roane struck out 14 men and Wilson struck out 10. Roane was the star of the game for he made a home run and a three-bagger and then stole home. Donohue of the Edsons played a great game at first base. Janitor Condon, coach of the Edsons, says that the Edsons is the best grammar school team in all New England.

BEAM HOUSE PLANS TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

Are Ready to be Submitted to Board of Health

Medical Inspector Not Yet Elected—The Board is in Favor of the Extension of Dummer Street

Although they have not been submitted to the board of health, plans for a new beam house have been prepared by the American Hide & Leather company and are now safely locked in a safe in this city. The board has been assured, however, that the plans will be submitted at its pleasure. C. P. Hall, fourth vice president of the company, dropped in at the meeting of the board of health last evening and had an understanding with the board that seemed satisfactory all around. Mr. Hall will spend a week in the Maine woods, beginning next Thursday and after he has returned he will meet the board of health, go over the plans with them and arrange for a practical observation of the board of plants in Cincinnati, Milwaukee and St. Louis.

In answer to a letter of instruction by the board, "improvement of sanitary conditions in the Keth property in Bridge street, Frank J. Sherwood, who has the care of the property, said that the old buildings were to be torn down to make way for a new theatre. He said that plans for the theatre had been perfected and that work on the new building would be begun within 60 days.

The board had a communication that had to do with rummage sales, the writer of the letter, declaring that goods sold at rummage sales should be fumigated before being offered for sale. Dr. Martin and Huntress allowed that the point was well taken.

The matter of medical inspection in private schools as recommended by Dr. Huntress was touched upon, and Dr. Huntress remarked that it should be hurried along.

The Dummer street extension was referred to and the board went on record as favoring the Dummer street extension in the interests of health.

The board had an unusual number of complaints relative to the keeping of pigs and a number of pig owners were told "right sharp" that they would have to improve their pig pens or their swill licenses would be revoked.

Mr. Hall of the American Hide and Leather company dropped in before the meeting started and after Secretary O'Hare had read the records, Mr. Hall was heard.

"I just dropped in," he said, "to find out if you had taken any definite action. In the newspapers I read there was no action of any kind, but I received no official notification. I have no complaint to offer, but I simply want to know what is going to be done.

"Our plans for the beam house are prepared in detail and are at your disposal. But I thought, perhaps, it would be better if you would see the plants in operation in other places before passing on our plans. I would like to have you see the plants first and then I'll show you how we have improved upon them. I think that a practical observation of a plant is infinitely better than an examination of plans.

The plans, however, are in Lowell and you may see them any time.

"The plants I would like you to see are in Gerard and Cincinnati, O., Milwaukee, and St. Louis."

Mr. Hall said he had arranged for a vacation of one week in the Maine woods, beginning next Thursday, and he would like to arrange it so as not to have that week interfered with.

The chairman assured him that the board would not interfere with his holiday and it was finally decided that the board would meet the company's engineer after Mr. Hall's return from the Maine woods and the question of a practical observation of the plants in motion will be settled.

Objection to Pigs and Cattle

Objection was made to the keeping of pigs and cattle at 624 Chelmsford street, the same being kept by E. L. Gray. The complaint was by Lena M. Hoyt through her counsel, John J. Pickman. Dr. Martin said he had examined the premises and found that the place was too congested and quarters too small for the keeping of pigs. It was voted to order the pigs removed and to have Mr. Gray clean up the premises.

C. P. Sells of Lincoln street was before the board on a complaint charging him with keeping a dirty stable and pig pen on his premises in Lincoln street. Dr. Martin had visited Mr. Sells' place and had found conditions anything but wholesome. He said that the place was too congested and quarters too small for the keeping of pigs. It was voted to order the pigs removed and to have Mr. Gray clean up the premises.

Barlier in the meeting the question as to whether or not E. L. Gray had milk or swill licenses came up, and it was discovered that he did not have a license to deal in milk nor to sell swill and it was voted to ask him to come before the board at its next meeting.

Mr. George Fairburn was granted a permit to enlarge his horse barn in Fort Hill avenue. Dr. Martin said he had visited Mr. Fairburn's stable and he complimented Mr. Fairburn upon its condition.

Henry J. McKelvey of Doane street was ordered to abolish a piggery there. The premises were inspected by Dr. Martin and Agent Bates and said that conditions there were "terrible." McKelvey was ordered to remove the pigs and put the premises in condition satisfactory to the inspector within six days.

A stable license was granted J. F. McMahon at 456 Chelmsford street and the application of John Brady to build and occupy an additional stable for four horses in Warren court was granted.

Will Build Theatre

A letter from Frank J. Sherwood, representing the Keth property in Bridge street, was read. Mr. Sherwood had been instructed to stop passage to a cellar and to improve sanitary conditions in the tenement property. Mr. Sherwood said in his letter that the old tenement property was soon to be done away with. He said the buildings were to be torn down for a new theatre to be started within 60 days. He said that plans for the theatre had been perfected.

Fumigate Rummage Sales

A communication to the board had to do with the fumigation of rummage sales. The sale now going on at Fagin and Bridge streets was referred to. The writer gave as his opinion that all articles should be fumigated before being offered for sale at rummage sales. He allowed that there were more germs lurking in the folds of second-hand articles peddled out at rummage sales than in an eight quart can of milk.

On motion of Dr. Huntress, the board voted that articles offered at rummage sales be fumigated before sale is allowed.

Richard Bray asked for an extension of time to buy in the matter of alterations at the Wamagist Power company and the board took favorable action.

Eugene E. Stoughton of Doane street had a complaint registered against him for keeping pigs, and the matter was tabled.

The board postponed action on the petition of Frank Rutyna for permission to build a stable.

A petition by one Champagne for permission to make certain changes in a building in Moody street which he intends to occupy as a restaurant was received.

Numerous residents of Wigganville were ordered to enter the city sewers within 60 days. There were 20 in all.

Milk Laws Again

Dr. Martin brought up the question of enforcing the milk rules recently adopted by the board. He believed that all milkmen who had no bottles should come before the board and state their cases, rather than have them go along without special permission.

As to sealing the cans, the board agreed that this should be done in every case, and if it was found difficult to place seals directly over each stopper, the seals could be adjusted to the side of the stopper and to the neck of the can with the desired result. The board desired it understood that there is no extension of time.

The question of medical inspection was briefly discussed but there were no appointments voted. Mr. Murphy was absent by reason of illness.

Dummer Street Extension

Dr. Huntress spoke of the conditions existing in and about Market and Dummer streets, and he believed that the extension of Dummer street to Merrimack would mean the elimination of the present unsatisfactory conditions and the erection of a better class of buildings. The doctor moved that a communication be sent to the city council to the effect that:

"It is the opinion of the board of health that the health conditions of the city would be improved by extending Dummer street through to Merrimack street. We believe that if this improvement should be made, a better class of buildings would take the place of the unsightly and unsanitary structures which are now in that neighborhood and that the congestion and filth which at present there exist would be largely remedied."

The board took favorable action on this motion.

Attention was called to the illness of Miss Snow and to her request for leave of absence. The board regretted very much the illness of Miss Snow, and passed a vote of sympathy for her, with the hope that she would speedily recover her health and return to her position in which she has given so much satisfaction. The board voted temporary employment to Mrs. Emma L. Hurley, who was at the head of the civil service list, with salary at $10 a week.

"Loose Milk" of Low Standard

Dr. Martin called attention to a communication from Walter E. Kriesel, director of the work of milk and baby hygiene in Boston, which stated that an effort was being made to amend the rule in Boston providing for sealed cans on all milk bottles. This rule, the writer stated, had been of great value in improving the milk standard, not only in Boston, but everywhere it had been adopted. Of the "loose milk" sold 56 per cent contained more than the legal limit of half a million bacteria to the public centimetre, and the rule adopted in Boston by which "loose milk" was eliminated had improved the standard of milk very much.

The board discussed briefly with Milk Inspector Master the question of taking samples of milk in the open, and adjourned.

THE AUTO RACES

Enthusiasm Grows in Favor of Holding Them

Enthusiasm over the proposed automobile races to be held in this city during two days in the middle of September has reached such a degree that the automobile manufacturers here have written numerous letters during the past few days to the Lowell Automobile club asking for information relative to the races.

That the Merrimack Valley race course is the ideal course goes without saying, manufacturers, drivers and auto fans being unanimous in the opinion that the local course is a natural and ideal one.

Representatives of the Marmon and Hudson cars were in conference with some of the race officials in this city late yesterday afternoon, and the Marmon company is desirous of entering one or more cars in the big race, while the Hudson people have signified their intention of entering a car in the light car race.

The New York and western enthusiasts, who were present in large numbers at the races held here last year, are so enthusiastic over the prospect of continuation of the races in this city that they have been writing daily for information, but owing to the fact that plans for the proposed races have not been formulated yet the inquirers have been told that they would have to bide their time.

There is always a remonstrance against every popular move and it is understood that there will be an effort this year also to prevent the holding of the races in this city.

Should Lowell be deprived of the races Worcester, Springfield, or Providence, R. I., would gladly seek the benefits in advertising and otherwise to be derived from the races.

A LOWELL GIRL

Spoke Against Woman Suffrage at Boston University

BOSTON, May 14.—A suffrage meeting at Boston university occasioned a sharp protest from the men students and a lively mixup in the college building at about 1.30 yesterday afternoon.

The announcement of a debate on the question "Shall Women Vote?" by the Boston university equal suffrage association, in Jacob Sleeper hall, coming immediately after the launching of the "more men movement" by the alumni at their dinner Thursday evening, roused the ire of the men students.

During the morning there were rumblings of disapproval, particularly

COUNTING OUR POPULATION.

Some of the census enumerators report that a lot of people hide to avoid them, thinking that a meeting with the census enumerator means the subsequent visit of a poll tax collector. If this report be true we can rely that the population will not be fully counted, and that Lowell will not, therefore, get a square deal. If some of the enumerators, on the other hand, shirk their work and make it easy for those who so desire to escape being counted, then we may be sure the census will show no increase of population for Lowell.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

In his Berlin speech Col. Roosevelt essayed the profound and philosophical to a greater extent than he has attempted on any previous occasion perhaps. Yet when boiled down his speech amounts to little more than what he delivered in much simpler terms in France regarding the necessity of maintaining the home, every day, all important virtues that guarantee large families of healthy children, good citizenship and a readiness to fight against a foreign enemy. Without these virtues he said a nation is liable to fail and to vanish like some of those known now only to history. And as the individual should be a good citizen so the nation has a duty first to itself and then to the world in the general movement for the highest and most enduring civilization.

TO OBSERVE THE COMET.

Those who are interested in the coming of Halley's comet should cut out the illustration in yesterday's Sun and keep it for reference when the comet appears next week. It shows the relative positions of the earth and the comet for various dates, making particularly clear the positions of both bodies in reference to the sun from May 6 to May 30. It will be noted that on May 18 the comet will reach its nearest point to the earth which is about 14,000,000 miles distant. As the tail of the comet, which is nothing more than electrified dust and gas, reaches out millions of miles on the side remote from the sun, our planet may pass through a portion of it, but there will be no danger of injurious effects. It is surmised that the approach of the comet may exert some influence on the workings of the wireless telegraph. As this is the first time the effect of a comet's approach on the wireless could be observed, those who are interested in that science will watch for any unusual influence upon the etheral waves.

THE ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS.

As was expected, the Massachusetts senate promptly killed the bill favoring an amendment of the constitution so as to provide for election of United States senators by popular vote. Only two more states are needed with the 29 that have already voted upon the question to make the two-thirds necessary to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of formulating an amendment to the constitution in regard to the mode of selecting United States senators.

There have been so many instances in which United States senators seemed to have been in league with large corporations profiting by congressional measures that collusion has been suspected. Then again there have been many instances in which senators were charged with securing their election by corrupt methods. Indeed, there are two senators at the present time accused of this offense. The people seem to have lost confidence in the United States senate as at present constituted, although there are members of that body who are absolutely incorruptible and who are men of the most eminent ability. Nevertheless, the senate is like every other public body—its reputation is smirched by the action of a few members.

It is quite probable that this question rejected so unceremoniously by twenty members of the Massachusetts senate may be submitted to popular vote next November. It is quite likely, however, that of the states yet to pass upon the measure at least two will vote in favor of it and thus furnish the number necessary for calling a constitutional convention.

THE REJECTION OF HIBBARD.

The rejection of Ex-mayor Hibbard of Boston as appointee for tax collector is probably the last blow that frail gentleman can stand. There were two reasons for the rejection, one because of his physical unfitness for any position requiring close attention and the other because his appointment seemed to be in payment of a political debt. If the commission would never do anything worse than this it might well be forgiven.

The system under which the commission is given power to hold up the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald on secret information conveyed in anonymous letters or orally by irresponsible individuals, political enemies of the officials appointed, official cutthroats, unscrupulous liars, hypocrites and humbugs, is one that belongs to past ages, and should not be tolerated under a republican form of government because it encourages calumny, slander and false testimony. Under the shield of secrecy it protects the most infamous liars and assassins of character, while the men attacked have no opportunity to defend themselves because they are acquainted with neither the nature of the charges nor the identity of the authors. No such star chamber method can long survive if justice is to prevail. It is unfair to the candidates appointed and it is unfair to Mayor Fitzgerald who has to bear the responsibility for the government of the city of Boston.

The civil service commission is a state body and thus vested with a certain power over the choice of department heads for the city of Boston we see how pernicious its influence may be. Unless the commission shows more fairness and justice in its judgment of the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald, some of the members should be removed to give place to men who will not permit any good man to be defeated by the secret vilification of men who dare not make the charges publicly.

Everybody connected with the publication of newspapers knows what vile stuff is sent in by anonymous writers against men in public and even in private life.

SEEN AND HEARD

Conductors and that their experience with people gives them occasion to study their ways and habits to a degree and in a way that would scarcely be possible even by such close association as living in the same neighborhood with them. A conductor of one of the city lines remarked that one of the passengers in his car, which happened to be filled with ladies, had not paid, and he would like to know which one it was. A man riding on the rear platform remarked that he would, for the suggestion that any one evading her carfare could be detected by the way in which she nervously occupied herself with some personal attention to herself as the conductor was passing along the aisle. "Look for the one who fiddles with her hatpins or her hair," he remarked. "They always do something like that when they are trying to beat their fare." I've seen them. This was a suggestion to the conductor, and he replied: "I'll try that." He walked up the aisle toward the front of the car. A few moments after he returned to the rear vestibule and as he closed the door the man inquired, "Well was I right?" The conductor nodded a little sheepishly. "Yes, sir," he replied. "She said you'd find it." She said to tell you to pay for her." "Me? I never heard of such impudence in all my life. Me pay her fare? What does she take me for?" This was too much for the conductor, and he began to think that the man was trying to evade his responsibility. She's the woman sitting at the end of the seat on the right hand side of the car," he remarked in a firm manner, at the same time nodding his head in that direction. The man in the vestibule kind of half apologized, and at the same time began to fish for a nickel, remarking sullenly as he passed the coin to the conductor, "Oh, yes, I perceive. I know her. She happens to be my wife."

Into the office of a banking firm the other afternoon walked the boss. The office boy, with a cane, came employer's desk was whistling gaily and the sound reached the other offices. "Young man," said the boss sternly, "this is no way for you to behave. You asked me to raise your pay recently. I said, 'If you are going to so far forget yourself as to whistle in my office.'"

The office boy looked up meekly and replied, "I wanted to show that I could still be cheerful in spite of my miserable salary."

The boss, in telling the story, said that he was so much impressed by the answer that the lad got an extra dollar on his weekly stipend.

Striking his cane at intervals on the sidewalk, a blind man was making fairly good progress.

His familiar tap of the cane and shrill cry of "Excuse me" attracted the attention of other pedestrians, who stopped aside and gave him the right of way. For several squares everything went

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

STAR THEATRE

Flight pictures will command the attention of Lowell sports on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the Star theatre. The Wolcott Nelson battle of over 40 rounds will be depicted as it originally went, and Lowell sports will be the first in New England, outside of Boston, to view the pictures which are regarded as the best ever produced showing a prize fight. A lecturer will be on hand to explain everything. First of all, Ad. Wolcott will be shown in his training quarters; then Battling Nelson will be seen in his training stunts. We will next watch the crowds going into the arena. Before the battle starts, the promoters introduce Owen Moran, Harlem Tommy Murphy and many others. Now the fighters are called to the centre of the ring and instructed by the referee. They return to their respective corners and in a few seconds are up at the top of the first round, starting one of the fiercest battles in ring history.

The pictures have been booked for Lowell at such an early date only under big expense. The sports of Lowell will be able to get a line on the fighters and pick their man for the second clash of the sturdy Ad. Wolcott and the famous Battling Nelson.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Every one of the new acts at the Empire theatre, which constitute today's program, is a feature in itself. There is a selection of the best vaudeville and an assortment of the funniest pictures on the market, including the leading comedy and dramatic subjects which go to make up such a show as picture lovers like.

The vaudeville numbers are of a high class. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Young in their musical comedy "Early Days East" have again made a hit, just as they have done on previous days. Lillian Maynard in her singing specialty act keeps up the fun and is encored several times, her singing is so good. Mr. Charles Rogers sings a ballad with illustrations.

For Sunday, a list of pictures has been selected which cannot help but

THEATRE VOYONS

Tomorrow's concert at the Theatre Voyons will equal in quality any ever given for the closest attention is paid to securing the best pictures and musical features for Sunday performances. The admission is 10 cents to any part of the theatre. On Monday a big bill will be offered, the feature of which will be "Roosevelt in Cairo" which shows Teddy in a dozen different places in that interesting city and once both the Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt appear riding on camels bound for a trip to the pyramids. This is the first worth while picture of the ex-president since he left the wilds and should be seen by all. Another feature will be "Cleopatra" played by an excellent actress and staged in the best possible manner by Pathe.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Marilla Ricker, one year old, of Doyers, N. H., is thought to have more grandchildren than any other girl in New England. She has eight grandmothers and three grandfathers.

Justice of the Peace W. A. Purcell of Jersey City will give 1000 trading stamps to each couple he marries before New Year's, July 1. He has performed 900 ceremonies and wants to make it 1,000 by that date.

Lawyer Francis J. Heney, the celebrated graft prosecutor of the Pacific coast, has gone to New York to practice.

Lady Muir Mackenzie, wife of the senior member of the governor's council, is said to be the moving spirit of the women's club of Poona, India. At a recent exhibition of women's work she, as club roma, made a speech in defense of the women of India and their dissatisfaction with present-day conditions. She held that this dissatisfaction was not confined to India alone, but was a world movement including every civilized nation.

Miss Gertrude Jordan, who was elected last November on the republican ticket treasurer of Cherry County, Nebraska, is expected to hold that office. That was the decision of the supreme court of Nebraska, which says that under the constitution there is nothing to bar a woman from filling such a place. Miss Jordan's predecessor refused to surrender the office to her, on the ground that a woman is not competent under the statutes. Judge Jacob Favett dissented from the majority opinion, on the ground that it was establishing a dangerous precedent, urging that if a woman were competent to be county treasurer, there was no reason why she should not be governor.

By appointment of the Yale corporation, G. G. McCurdy of Peabody Museum, will represent the university at the International Congress of Americanists to be held in the city of Mexico next September. Mr. McCurdy will make archaeological researches in various parts of the country and may visit also the Chiriqui Indian region of Panama for the purpose of adding to the Chiriqui collection of the museum obtained by the late Professor O. C. March. This summer Professor H. E. Gregory will, under the direction of the United States geological survey, again visit Arizona to investigate the water supply of that territory.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Four full shows are given at the Opera House today, starting at 1.30, 3.30, 7.30, and 9.30, and it will be the opportunity of witnessing the current program which includes Bertie Fowler, a clever monologist and character impersonations; Prince Kanazawa and brother, wonderful Japanese acrobats; Johnnie Wise and company in a comedy singing and dancing sketch; and Davis and Davis, vocalists. The program is all new and includes a Biograph as well as a number of other good subjects. Tomorrow, afternoon and evening, a fine concert program has been arranged and will include an entire change of pictures, 14th Webster in new songs, Katharine Strawn, and Davis and Davis. Prices at the Opera House are always five and ten cents and one is always assured of seeing a fine program at this theatre and one of the biggest and best ever seen here for the money.

Another big program will be seen at the Opera House next week.

GLIDDEN MAKES ASCENSION
PITTSFIELD, May 14.—The balloon Massachusetts sailed from here today with Charles Glidden as pilot and James Bailey of Boston as passenger. Mr. Glidden planned to remain aloft six or seven hours but an hour after the ascension the wind was so light that the Massachusetts was still in sight from here to the northward.

MAD CAT ATTACKED CHILD

NEW YORK, May 14.—A big black house cat which for years had curled itself comfortably in front of the hearth of Mrs. Henry Sauer in Ninth avenue went suddenly mad today and with an angry cry attacked a three months' old infant of Mrs. Sauer as it lay in its carriage. The infant was pulled out of the carriage and fell to the floor, suffering a probable fracture of the skull. The baby will likely die. The cat is believed to have become mad from the loss of her kittens which had been drowned. Mrs. Sauer heard the cat's cry and hurried to the nursery. The baby lay unconscious on the floor with blood streaming from its ears and nose. The yellow-eyed cat crouched in the corner and snarled, then leaped at Mrs. Sauer.

KAISER WILLIAM

Presented a Beautiful Vase to Roosevelt

BERLIN, May 14.—Amid the quiet surroundings of the Roosevelt Library at the University of Berlin, Mr. Roosevelt this morning again tackled the correspondence which has outrun him from the moment he emerged from the African jungles. He failed to catch up before the noon hour he had made great progress. Later the former president had a chat with Prof. C. G. Schilling and Paul Nidick, two of the best known hunters of African big game. Mr. Roosevelt had luncheon as the guests of Jos. Grew, second secretary of the American embassy. Other guests were Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Kermit, American Ambassador Hill, Mrs. Hill, Miss Hill, Henry White, former American ambassador to France, Mrs. White, and Prof. Schilling. Prof. Schilling, with a stereoscopic camera, showed some flash-light pictures of jungle animals and presented the colonel with five of the collection.

Mr. Roosevelt concluded the afternoon with a visit to the zoological gardens.

Today Emperor William sent to Mr. Roosevelt a vase, the product of the royal porcelain works. The vase is three feet in height and bears upon one side the likeness of his majesty. On the opposite side are two views of the imperial palace in Berlin, one from the bridge of the Elector, showing the equestrian statue of the Great Elector, and the other the palace terrace with the statue of William of Orange.

One of the newspapers suggests that a medal should be struck commemorating Mr. Roosevelt's visit to Berlin.

HAMILTON MILLS ONE MAN KILLED

Said to be Planning Big Alterations and Improvements

Old Power Plant May be Removed to Make Room for Building With Stores Fronting on Central Street—Lowell Textile School Graduate Takes Charge of Mills at Central Falls—Other Mill News

It was stated today that the Hamilton Mfg. Co. was preparing to abolish its old boiler house in Central street and to build a new building with stores facing in Central street and extending the full length of the Hamilton mill.

It is stated that plans have been prepared and it is known that when the company put in its new power plant in Middlesex street the intention was to dispose of the old boiler house in Central street and replace it with a building. The plan was for stores on the first floor and the other floors to be used for cloth rooms or other purposes suitable to the company's convenience.

The reason the plans were not carried out at that time was said to be due to the fact that it was considered inadvisable to do away with the old boiler house until the new power plant was shown to be capable of supplying the necessary power for the entire plant. It has been demonstrated, it is stated, that the new plant is equal to the occasion and the story of today says that the company will proceed with its original plans.

Clarence N. Childs, agent of the Hamilton Mfg. Co., was not at his office this forenoon, and it was stated that he had gone to Boston. There was no one about the mill who, in the absence of Mr. Childs, cared to discuss the plans referred to.

Review of the Company
In a review of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. recently issued, the following appears:
"This company was incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts in 1905. The plant covers an area of about 9-1/2 acres of ground consisting of six mills, print works, dye houses and store houses for finished goods and an immense cotton store house. It manufactures shirtings, prints, ticks, stripes, drills, shirtings and shirtings. The capital of this corporation is $1,800,000. Wellington, Sears & Co. are the selling agents. Number of spindles, 113,200; hands employed, 2300; cotton consumed per week in pounds, 200,000; yards dyed and printed per week, 1,000,000.
"A recent exhibit of the operations of this company for the past twenty-three years gives totals as follows: There have been paid out of earnings in that time for repairs and renewals, $4,222,808.32, and the average profit for twenty years has been per cent, 15.69, 100.82 or 93 per cent, the capital.
"From 1900 to 1909, inclusive, a period of ten years, the sum total of the amount of dividends paid was $381,000, making an average dividend per year in that time of about five per cent. The company closed the year of 1909 with a surplus of $757,665.57. Because of extra expenses during the year and the unsettled state of the cotton market, it was deemed prudent to pass the usual January dividend in 1910. The stock previous to that time was selling from $25 to $30 per share in the open market. The par value of the stock is $1,000 and at above price offered, is at the rate of $70 per hundred or $1,260,000 for the whole property. The property is assessed at $1,600,000.

Textile School Graduate
Joseph W. Bailey, a graduate of the Lowell Textile school with the class of 1899, has resigned his position as principal of the Bradford Durfee Textile school at Fall River to take the position of superintendent of the Sanost mills at Central Falls.

Mr. Bailey's theoretical knowledge, supplemented by his practical education, which he obtained in the cotton mills after his graduation has made him one of the most prominent instructors in cotton manufacturing in the country.

Before entering the Lowell Textile school, Mr. Bailey was employed for four years in the commission house of Clarence Whitman & Co., and after his graduation he began active work in the cotton mills. He was employed for a few years when he received an appointment as director in the Georgia School of technology, and here he taught carding and spinning. He was highly successful in this branch of work, and in 1904 he was offered the principalship of the Fall River school, which he accepted.

When Mr. Bailey assumed charge there were but five day pupils and 163 evening pupils enrolled at the school. The curriculum was very limited, but Mr. Bailey soon enlarged it and at the present time there are 41 day pupils and 812 evening pupils. During the past two years an entirely new building has been erected, with the most modern type of mill machinery.

Mr. Bailey's contact with Mr. Bailey in his new position, and his many friends are very confident that he will meet with great success in his new position.

THE RAILROAD BILL

Discussion on It Caused Lively Scene in the Senate

WASHINGTON, May 14.—By a sudden twist late yesterday of supposedly irreconcilable factions, the senate by a vote of 56 to 10, adopted a compromise amendment to the railroad bill for the regulation of relative charges for the long and short hauls.

The agreement was reached chiefly for the reason that each faction apparently thought it was getting the better of a shrewdly driven bargain. There are not waiting senators who suggest that the supreme court may have to arbitrate the question as to which faction's judgment is right.

Before adjournment, Sen. Bacon sought to show that Sen. Aldrich, the leader of the forces in charge of the bill, voted for a provision different from that which he advocated during the long debate on this question. He was affecting to quote from one of the Rhode Island senator's speeches when Sen. Bacon interrupted, remarking that Mr. Bacon was mistaken and was quoting from his (Bacon's) remarks.

Bacon Aroused
"I hope the senator from Texas will not interfere," said Mr. Aldrich, laughingly. "The senator is trying to justify his action in voting with me." "That is the time I usually have to justify my vote," retorted Mr. Bacon. "While upholding regular republicans for what he asserted was a change of front, Mr. Bacon was interrupted by Sen. Elkins, whose ruddy face was wreathed in smiles, as he asked, 'Well, you're happy, aren't you?'"

This irritated the Georgia senator, for he retorted sharply that it took "a very little thing to make people happy."

"Make the senator find that it is a big thing," said Sen. Elkins, beaming across the chamber. Significant glances passed between Senators and persons on the floor and in the galleries began to suspect the compromise amendment that had just been adopted meant something different than appeared on its face.

As adopted, the new provision strikes out of section 4 of the interstate commerce law the words "under substantially similar circumstances and conditions," and also eliminates the provisions of that section, and amends the section so as to make it read as follows:

The New Clause
"Section 4.—That it shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act, to charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of passengers, or of like kind of property for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line or route in the same direction, the shorter being included within the longer distance, or to charge any greater compensation for a through route than the aggregate of the local rates; but this shall not be construed as authorizing any common carrier within the terms of this act to charge or to receive any greater compensation for a shorter than for a longer distance."

Provided, however, that the interstate commerce commission may, from its knowledge, or from information, or upon application as certain that the circumstances and conditions of the longer haul are dissimilar to the shorter haul, whether they result from competition by water or by rail, then it may authorize a common carrier to charge less for the longer than for the shorter distances for the transportation of property or passengers. But in no event shall the authority be granted unless the commission is satisfied that all of the rates involved are just and reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory nor unduly preferential or prejudicial.

"And provided, further, that no rates or charges lawfully existing at the time of the passage of this amendatory act shall be required to be changed by the provisions of this section prior to the expiration of six months after the passage of this act, nor in any case where application shall have been filed before the commission, in accordance with the provisions of such application by the commission."

Of the 56 votes in favor of the amendment, 22 were by republican senators who have opposed the insertion of any long and short haul provision in the railroad bill; thirteen by democrats and the remainder by republicans, chiefly insurgents.

The negative vote was equally divided between republicans and democrats, among the former being Senators Frye and Gallinger.

The senate proceeded yesterday under a unanimous consent agreement reached Thursday to begin voting at 4 o'clock upon the long and short haul amendments, of which a dozen or more had been submitted. The pending amendment was one by Senator Elkins, of Idaho, for which Senator Dixon, of Montana, had presented a substitute. The effect of this was to give the Montana senator possession of the floor when 4 o'clock arrived.

For several days the "regular" republicans had been boasting that they had a clear majority to defeat all of the long and short haul amendments. The regulars had been assured of a number of democratic votes. Just before 4 o'clock it came to the knowledge of Senators Aldrich and Elkins that while the democrats on their list would vote against the Dixon amendment, they proposed later to support an amendment introduced by Senator Overman of North Carolina, the effect of which would be to place all rates on a mileage basis. Such a provision would be particularly obnoxious to the opponents of a long and short haul provision and they were unable in a hasty call to show a majority against the Overman amendment.

Senators Carter of Montana and

Smoot of Utah, both of them ardent supporters of a long and short haul provision which would prevent discrimination against the intermountain country, received overtures from the regular republicans who offered a compromise in the form of a portion of the original Dixon amendment and a proviso taken from an amendment offered by Senator Paynter of Kentucky.

Picturing the political effect of a humiliating defeat through the adoption of an exclusively democratic amendment that put the whole question on a mileage basis, the "regular" republicans encountered little difficulty in bringing a large majority of the senate to their way of thinking. The compromise, which finally was adopted, was put in the hands of Senator Smoot and in turn presented to Senator Dixon, who offered it as a modification of his own amendment, just prior to the hour of 4 o'clock.

By the clumsy handling of scissors and paste brush, the composite compromise was sent to the clerk's desk in a form far different from that intended by its authors. As the clerk began to read Sen. Aldrich hurried to the desk of Sen. Dixon and a whispered conversation ensued. Mr. Dixon claimed for recognition.

"I move that the senate recess," shouted Dixon, "until 4:30 o'clock."

He appeared greatly excited. The demand for a recess was met with cries of "No, No." But on a vote a large majority sustained the demand. Then ensued a scene of great confusion, such as rarely takes place in the senate. Some declare it to have taken place in recent years. Obviously from persons in the gallery the move meant. On every side there were cries that the unanimous consent agreement had been violated. Evidently the insurgent republicans did not know what was happening and Sen. Bristow, who had been in the cloak room, hurried to the chamber with a bundle of papers in his arms, which he threw upon the floor with every intention of anger.

Sen. Cummins hastened to Mr. Dixon's seat and Mr. LaFollette followed. The conversation which had taken place between Messrs. Dixon and Aldrich around a suspicion of every side and a number of senators, without knowing what the next step was to be, loudly charged that they were being betrayed.

Mr. Dixon ran from seat to seat, claiming they had "brought the regular rates into existence," the coalition of republican and democratic support of the long and short haul clause would bring a victory greater than they had anticipated.

After a few moments of personal explanation by the few senators who were in the secret, of the proceeding there was a perceptible cooling off, and a number of leaders, representing all factions, went to work to shape up a compromise.

Mr. Smoot took the Dixon-Paynter compromise and set to work to whip it into shape. Around him crowded Messrs. Aldrich, Elkins, Bacon, Crawford, Bristow, Rayner, Gallinger, and others, all of whom took part in a rapid interchange of comment. Other senators hung about the outskirts of the group. All elements were represented in this shifting crowd. When 4:30 came the work was still incomplete. Mr. Dixon demanded another recess until 5; but protests were made by so many senators, that he obtained it only after a roll call which consumed nearly 10 minutes of the previous half hour. The general confusion of the recess hour resulted in the restoration of the words of the Dixon amendment which he had intended to eliminate. They provided that in making exceptions under the long and short haul clause, the interstate commerce commission shall satisfy itself that all the rates involved are just and reasonable, and not unjustly discriminatory. With the exception of these words, the provision is identical with that introduced by Sen. Paynter of Kentucky.

BOARD OF TRADE

Committee on Street Improvement

The board of trade committee on new streets met yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock in the rooms of the Old Lowell National bank and discussed a number of important matters, including new streets, plans for the Andover street district and other improvements.

A few days ago the committee invited land owners of lower Andover street district to meet with it and discuss the committee's plan for making a street development. The tract of land lying between Wentworth avenue and the city line, as well as that land between the river and Andover street, make up the special district which was under consideration.

Charles I. Hood, together with Robert G. Bartlett, are the owners of the largest portion of land in the vicinity, and they sent George H. Taylor to represent them at yesterday's meeting. Albert E. O'Hair was (even) and J. Harry Boardman represented Frank J. Ladd.

A long discussion was held over the proper layout of streets in the vicinity and Mr. Taylor assured the committee that the land he represented could very easily be adapted to the committee's ideas. He said that Messrs. Hood and Bartlett would be willing to adopt the methods proposed and would be glad to enter into any agreement which would enable the land to be laid out to streets without reference to land owners, and then have the land owners come to an agreement with the city as to a fair disposition of the spots where one owner suffered to the advantage of another.

All present there are no buildings to be considered and only a few land owners and the district could be laid out admirably.

The question of the need of topographical surveys in order that the streets might be laid out in an intelligent manner was brought up and City Engineer Bowers, who is a member of the special committee, said that the funds of his department are too low to admit of such work being undertaken by the city. He said that the underlying country made a topographical survey almost necessary before proper street layouts could be made. The survey could best be made in the summer months when a force of students from the technical schools could be obtained at student prices to do the work. Mr. Bowers said that it would cost $600 or $700 to do the work in this district. He said it would be well worth while and his ideas were seconded by Supl. of Streets Newell P. Putnam, who is a member of the committee.

The committee has found that the men in the vicinity have no objection to the line of work which the committee has laid out for itself and that the results will therefore be easily obtainable if all the land owners will act as one.

The matter of widening Rogers street was not taken up, it being decided to allow it to go over until another meeting.

Engineer Bowers showed a plan of streets for a city in the northwest which had been prepared by a force of experts. It was full of winding, curving and diagonal streets, and provided standing streets for all grades, that would otherwise be too steep. He considered the plan an admirable one. Such a plan can be adopted in the new lands about Lowell and for this purpose the committee has started its work. Topographical are to be urged upon all the new territory which shall lead across to the main objective points from the points nearest the city proper.

DAY NURSERY FAIR POLICE CALLED HELD IN $1000

Large Attendance at Prescott Hall

Large attendances marked the second day of the May Festival in aid of the Day Nursery, which is being held in Prescott hall and which will come to a close tonight. Yesterday afternoon hundreds of people were present, while in the evening the hall was packed to its capacity. Owing to the fact that the proceeds of the fair are to be devoted to a very worthy cause, the booths and sales tables have been well patronized.

The afternoon was devoted to bridge, the prizes being motor bonnets, a hydriange and rubber plant and a brass bookrack, for the ladies; and for the juvenile winners there was a tennis racket, a fishing rod, and two tennis covers. Mrs. Thomas Stott won first prize, Mrs. Harry Reed second, Mrs. P. L. Batcher third, Mrs. Fred. Hicks A. Batcher fourth, and Mrs. C. E. Hoxie fifth.

The managers of the whist express their sincere gratitude to the following people, who contributed the prizes: Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. Rose Jordan Hartford, Mrs. May Lunlap Leighton, Morse & Beals, and McMillan.

In the evening the opera, "Cyprius Garden," was repeated with the same cast as on the first night.

This afternoon there was a matinee with a Punch and Judy show as a special attraction for the children, and also fancy dancing by the pupils of Miss Fernin, and general dancing for the young people. The supper menu, from 5 to 8, is as follows: Baked beans and brown bread, cold ham, chicken paties, chicken salad, ice cream, frozen pudding, tea and coffee.

The fair committee is very grateful to Mr. Daniel Carroll for general assistance rendered before and during the fair.

To Stop Wrestling Bout Men Are Accused of Being Pickpockets

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 14.—Owing to the roughness of the bout between John Percell and William Demetrale in a wrestling match at the Queen City A. C. last night the police were obliged to interfere after the principals had struggled about the ring for twenty-five minutes without either one gaining a fall. Percell and Demetrale scuffled off at each other and were engaging in a backhanded fight when the police stopped the bout. Much excitement prevailed and it appeared for a few moments that a riot would ensue.

In preliminaries, Lucien Landry defeated William Berry, both of Manchester. Landry throwing Berry three times in 21 minutes and 52 seconds. Landry wanted to throw Berry three in one hour.

John Kilgus failed to win his bout with Fred Chennette at Manchester, his agreement being to throw Chennette twice within an hour. He won the first fall from Chennette in 41 minutes and 50 seconds but failed to throw him twice in the required period.

LABOR FIGHTS

SETTLED BY THE BOARD OF CONCILIATION
That the past year has been a favorable one for industrial arbitration is the opinion of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, just published. In their annual report, just published, "Industrial controversies of 1909," the report says, "with few exceptions resulted in mutual adjustments or in agreements to submit differences to arbitrators."

"Difficulties of the magnitude speedily by statute, when strikes had been declared or was expected, were few in which hostilities and threats had not been replaced by friendly overtures. The board often found that the parties were already seeking to terminate their contests and were willing to be advised."

During the year 194 applications were made to the board for intervention. Three of the controversies submitted were settled by agreement, two were abandoned and 15 were still under consideration at the end of the year. The remaining 84 controversies were determined in 83 decisions by the board, all of which have been accepted by both parties.

The bulk of the report is taken up with the 83 decisions of the board. The board is composed of Willard Howland, chairman, Richard P. Barry and Harry P. Morse.

WHITE RANGERS

In Danger of Being 'Massacred'

EAST LAS VEGAS, N. H., May 14.—An uprising of serious proportions has broken out among the Pueblo Indians at Taos, seventy miles northwest, and troops are hurrying by special train from Santa Fe to check a possible massacre of white ranchers.

The Indians have cut all telephone and telegraph wires from Taos, but reports indicate that the depredations have been confined to an attack on the wife and children of L. L. Myers, a homesteader, the cutting of fences and the theft of horses and cattle.

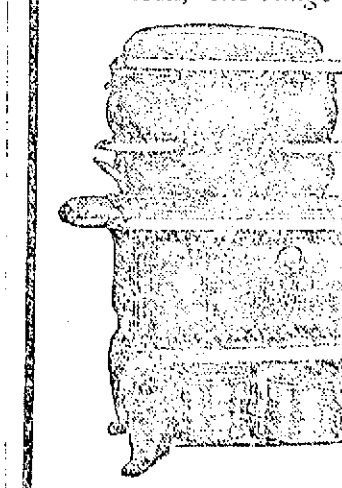

Further attacks are feared by ranchers and yesterday Judge J. R. McFie, conducting court at Taos, made an urgent demand for troops upon Governor Mills. He declared a massacre was imminent.

The uprising of the Indians, who for years have been peaceful, is believed to have been caused by the punishment of Pueblos by territorial officers.

6 O'CLOCK PICKETING BILL

Was Defeated in Lower Branch of the Legislature

BOSTON, May 14.—The senate yesterday, by a roll call, 8 to 24, refused to postpone the motion to reconsider the vote whereby the senate on Thursday refused to adopt the Riley resolution for a convention for a constitutional amendment to permit the election of U. S. senators by popular vote.

This action was taken after Senator Malley of Springfield had moved a postponement, saying that he did so because Senator Farley of Irving, chairman of the committee on federal relations, was absent and he would like to debate the matter.

Senator Wilcox R. Evans of Everett said he thought no agreement would be broken if the senate should act on the motion made by Senator Mahoney of Holyoke Thursday to reconsider the rejection of the resolution. He did not believe that the senate would change its attitude. By a roll call, 6 to 24, the senate refused to postpone reconsideration. Those who voted for Senator Malley's motion were: Harvey, Mahoney, Malley, Nason, O'Connor, Teeling.

On the motion to reconsider the vote was:

Yes—Bunting, Butler, Mahoney, Malley, Meane, Nason, O'Connor, Teeling—8.

No—Bennett, Blanchard, Bray, Burnham, Crosby, Denny, Evans, Greenwood, Harvey, Hubbard, Keith, Mellon, Mulligan, Nash, Newhall, Parker, Pickford, Rankin, Rockwood, Tinkham, Tolman, Turner, Tuttle, White—24.

Not voting—Doyle Lomasney, Farley, Rees, Treadway (president).

Senator Spalding's Salary

A resolve was introduced by Senator Blanchard of Somerville to pay the father of the late Senator Thordike Spalding of Cambridge the salary and mileage to which the senator would have been entitled had he lived to the close of the session.

On motion of Senator Tuttle of Weymouth an order was adopted to print 300 copies of a Berkshire trolley bill for the use of the committees on railroads and street railways sitting jointly.

In the house yesterday morning the committee on ways and means reported ought not to pass on the bill to establish a homestead commission and to provide for the purchase of land by the commonwealth, and ought not to pass also on the bill relative to the taxation of property of a resident decedent not in the commonwealth at the time of his death.

The resolve directing the railroad commission to bring about the speedy abolition of the Sullivan square grade crossing in Charlestown was ordered on a rising vote, to a third reading, 58 to 32.

The bill requiring the state board of education to assist teachers in securing positions was passed to be engrossed without debate, as was the bill making an appropriation of $65,000 for the New Bedford textile school.

The Tinkham peaceful picketing bill was rejected on a rising vote, 29 to 62, without debate, and a roll call was refused. Mr. Riley gave notice of a motion to reconsider on Monday.

The "lights on vehicles" bill was rejected without debate, 26 to 49. On motion of Mr. Cavanaugh of Everett the house reconsidered yesterday's rejection of the bill providing for an excise tax on express companies, and further consideration was postponed until Tuesday.

Without debate, the house passed to be engrossed a bill to regulate the issue of restraining orders and injunctions, and ordered to a third reading the bill providing that the hours of labor of street railway employees shall not exceed nine per day, and that they shall be performed within 11 consecutive hours.

Firecracker Bill Goes Over

Mr. Riley's motion to substitute for an adverse report a bill providing for a more effective enforcement of the law relative to the survey of lumber was opposed by Mr. Bayley of Lexington. Substitution was refused on a voice vote.

The adverse report of the committee on ways and means on the bill providing for reimbursing cities and towns for loss of taxes on land used for public institutions was laid over until Tuesday; the bill relative to the payment of pensions to the members of the teaching or supervising staff of the public schools of the city of Boston until Wednesday, and the bill to change the boundary line between the cities of Chelsea and Everett in Island End river until Thursday.

The bill to restrict the sale and use of firecrackers and the bill to place the collector's, treasurer's and penal institutions department in Boston under the civil service were laid over until Monday.

The resolve providing for an investigation of the employment and intelligence offices of the commonwealth by the director of the bureau of statistics was ordered to a third reading without debate.

For the first time in many weeks the house disposed of every matter on its calendar and adjourned at 12:35 p. m.

"JIM" JEFFRIES HALLEY'S COMET

To be Assisted in Training by Brother

BEN LOMOND, Cal., May 14.—Jim Jeffries has been urged on in his training by his brother Jack who arrived here recently and who is expected to furnish the big fighter grueling ring work during the remainder of Jim's training. It has been many years since Jack has donned the mitts for a scrap in the arena but he is in fair shape and says he is now prepared to go up against Jim in light bouts and from now on the brothers are expected to box together regularly. For the last two years Jack has been in Mexico and has not seen his brother since leaving the states.

"I have studied Jim closely since I have been here," said Jack last night. "From every viewpoint I honestly believe Jim is going to be the better fighter with Johnson than he ever was. I think Johnson is going to be a snafu for him."

Just before leaving last evening for San Francisco, Sam Berger, in discussing the referee question intimated that the situation seemed so tangled that an eastern man would probably have to be selected.

Seen by Harvard Men This Morning

CAMBRIDGE, May 14.—Halley's comet has attained first magnitude and tomorrow morning will give one of its last performances in the eastern sky preparatory to fulfilling a long and brilliant engagement in the west during the evenings of May, June and July. It is looked for a return engagement in 1935, but only the youngest children of the present day will be admitted.

The Harvard observatory astronomers caught a fleeting glimpse of the visitor this morning when the clouds broke and showed the comet burning like a firebrand low in the east. Then the curtain of haze again hid it from the searching gaze. But in those few seconds it revealed itself grandly and was a match for Vega sparkling overhead. It also showed that its splendor will make it a thrilling object about a week from today when it will sweep across the western sky and carry consolation to the superstitions of the world.

MORSE PLEASED

That Heinze Has Been Acquitted

ATLANTA, Ga., May 14.—Probably no friend or former business associate finds deeper joy in the acquittal of F. Augustus Heinze than Charles W. Morse, the New York banker who is serving a fifteen year term in the Atlanta federal prison and who lives in daily hope that efforts being made by his attorney and other powerful friends will serve to bring to him the same freedom that Heinze enjoys.

"I am glad indeed that Heinze is cleared and I expected no other result from a fair trial," said the imprisoned banker. "Furthermore, I am thoroughly hopeful that justice will soon be done me and I will enjoy my freedom again."

Impressive Ceremony at Sacred Heart Church This Morning

With impressive ceremonies and in the presence of a congregation that filled the pretty church of the Sacred Heart, four young members of the Oblate order, three of whom are Lowell boys, were ordained to the priesthood by Most Rev. Archbishop Dentonwill, O. M. I., D. D., titular archbishop of Ptolemais and superior general of the Oblate order.

The ceremony was of more than usual importance to the members of the order on account of the identity of the distinguished prelate who officiated. Archbishop Dentonwill resides in Rome, but at present is on a tour of the Oblate houses on the American continent.

Yesterday 12 Oblate brothers received orders preparatory to ordination, the deaconate being bestowed upon the four young men who were ordained this morning. Prior to the ordination, which took place at a low mass, the following orders were given: Sub-deacon, Bro. Anthony Sewenceski, O. M. I.; Bro. Robert McCoy, O. M. I.; Bro. Herbert Dissotto, O. M. I.; and Bro. Daniel McCullough, O. M. I.

The order of deacon was conferred on Rev. Daniel Barry, O. M. I., a resident of St. Patrick's parish in this city. The ordination followed the minor orders, the four young priests kneeling on prie-dieus before the main altar attended in full vestments.

The ordaining prelate and celebrant of the mass was Archbishop Dentonwill, who was assisted by Rev. John Foley, O. M. I., of Billerica as arch-deacon; Rev. John R. McElroy, O. M. I., as notary of the mass; Rev. Patrick Phelan, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, master of ceremonies; and Bro. John McLaughlin, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, assistant master of ceremonies.

Assisting within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial; Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Barrett, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. I., Rev. Edmund J. Cornell, O. M. I., Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I., of Green Bay, Wis., Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., Rev. Henri Wattelle, O. M. I., Rev. Julian Racette, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Bernache, O. M. I., Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I., Rev. Hervey Encontre, O. M. I., Rev. Charles Denzil, O. M. I., Rev. Edward Strauss, O. M. I., and 22 brothers from the Tewksbury novitiate. There were also present the Sisters of Mary of the Sacred Heart school and Sisters of Charity from St. John's hospital.

The service lasted over two hours and concluded with the pontifical blessing upon all present. At the conclusion of the service the parents and relatives of the young priests, who occupied reserved seats near the altar, were invited into the sanctuary to receive the blessing of the newly ordained clergymen. It was intended to have the meeting for the relatives only but nearly all of the congregation filed in and knelt before the young men.

Tomorrow will be a memorable day at the Sacred Heart church for at 10:30 o'clock Rev. Fr. Wood will celebrate his first mass and he will be assisted by Rev. Fr. Roche as deacon. Archbishop Dentonwill will occupy a throne within the sanctuary and the women will be preached by Rev. W. J. Kerwin, O. M. I., formerly of this city but now superior of Holy Angel's college at Buffalo, N. Y. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Muldon, will repeat the Master program and at the offertory Mrs. Muldon will sing the "Juravit," composed by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell.

Rev. Fr. Roche will celebrate his first low mass at the Sacred Heart church tomorrow at 8 o'clock and his first high mass on Sunday, May 29th. Rev. Fr. Chaput will celebrate his first mass at the church of Notre Dame de Lourdes at 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Sketch of the New Priests

Rev. John J. Roche, O. M. I., was born in Ireland and in September, 1860, some two years after coming to this country, he entered the College of Holy Angels at Buffalo, N. Y., where he pursued his preparatory studies for the priesthood. He entered the Oblate novitiate at Tewksbury in August, 1904, receiving his perpetual vows in September, 1906. In June, 1908, he received the tonsure and was raised to minor orders. On October 9, 1909, he was ordained to a sub-deaconship. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roche of 55 Moore street, and a brother of Sister Isabella of the Sacred Heart convent of Notre Dame, Boston.

Rev. Edward J. Chaput, O. M. I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chaput, was born in St. Joachim, Quebec, Canada, May 12, 1884. The following year his father moved to Lowell. The young priest received his early education at the Marist Brothers' school, Lowell, later attending the Oblate novitiate at Ottawa, following a classical course at the university. In 1905 he began his novitiate at Tewksbury, where he made his final vows in the Oblate order in September, 1906. He has been at Tewksbury pursuing his theological studies since that time.

Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1886. He is the son of Mrs. Winifred M. O'Brien and of the late John M. O'Brien. After completing his classical course in Holy Angels college, Buffalo, he entered the scholasticate at Tewksbury, where he has pursued his philosophical and theological studies.

Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., is a son of Mrs. Mary Millerick Wood and of the late Frank C. Wood, one time superintendent of police. After graduating from the Sacred Heart school he entered the preparatory college of Holy Angels, Buffalo. In the spring of 1905 he attended the Lowell high school, in the fall of the same year he went to the University of Ottawa, where he completed his classical studies. His first vows were made in 1906, and since that time he has been pursuing his ecclesiastical studies at the scholasticate in Tewksbury. Fr. Wood enjoys the unusual privilege of being ordained and of celebrating his first mass in the same church where he received his first communion and was confirmed. As he is not yet 24 years old, a dispensation from the pope was necessary for his ordination to the priesthood.

All four young priests will return to the novitiate at Tewksbury where they will continue their studies for another year.

Confirmation at St. Joseph's

At St. Joseph's church at 3:30 yesterday afternoon Archbishop Dentonwill administered confirmation to a class of 150 girls and 125 boys. Prior to the service His Grace was tendered a reception by the children of St. Joseph's school and college on account of which appeared in The Sun last evening.

The archbishop was assisted in administering the sacrament by Rev. Fr. Wattelle, O. M. I., superior of the parish, and Rev. Fr. Roche, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church; Rev. Fr. Ouellette, O. M. I., spiritual director of the boys, and Rev. Fr. Gratton, O. M. I., spiritual director of the girls, were masters of ceremonies.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Donnelly spoke to the children on the significance of the sacrament they were about to receive.

Acting as sponsors to the children receiving the sacrament were Mrs. Euchariste Champagne, president of St. Anne's sodality, and Mr. Laverdiere, president of the Holy Family sodality. Attending the service was a congregation that completely filled the church.

THE IRISH LEAGUE

To Hear Rev. Dr. Keleher Tomorrow

There was a well attended meeting of the executive committee of the United Irish league at A. O. H. hall last evening, at which arrangements were made for a public meeting in the same hall on Sunday evening.

It was announced that Rev. Dr. Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church, would deliver an address and a musical program of a high order will be presented. Among the singers will be the well known young baritone, Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy, of St. Patrick's choir.

An announcement was made that the second biennial convention of the American league would be held this year in Buffalo, N. Y., on September 27 and 28. Messrs. John E. Redmond, T. P. O'Connor and Joseph Davlin will attend as a delegation from the Irish party. They will remain in this country about six weeks going in different directions to address meetings.

It was voted to send to the national secretary, Mr. John O'Callaghan, an urgent request to have John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, speak in Lowell before his return.

The meeting on tomorrow evening is free to the public and all friends of the cause, particularly the old members are invited, as the address of Rev. Dr. Keleher is sure to be a rare treat.

TWO ACCIDENTS

At the Lowell Machine Shop

The ambulance was called to the Lowell Machine shop in Dutton street twice this morning to remove employees who had met with accidents.

About 8 o'clock Joseph Stafford, residing at 8 Dutton street, and his left leg injured as a result of a heavy beam falling on that member. He was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

Shortly after 9 o'clock James E. Bunt, of 19 West Adams street, had his left hand caught in a banding machine in the wood shop and three fingers were removed. He was also taken to the Lowell hospital.

A PISTOL BATTLE

Two Persons Are Dead and Two Others Injured

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 14.—Two persons are dead and two injured today as a result of a pistol battle between the police and a saloon keeper shortly before midnight last night. The fight followed the efforts of Officer Ammons to close Daneson's saloon, which was open after lawful hours. After some heated words Patrolman Ammons proceeded to club Dan Daneson when the latter's son Harry opened fire on the officer shattering the hand which held the club. Ammons then drew his gun and fired six shots, every one of which took effect in the body of the elder Daneson who fell dead in his tracks.

Policeman Heirs, attracted by the shooting, was shot through the head by young Daneson as he entered the saloon. A woman was hit by a stray bullet and her condition is serious. Harry Daneson was placed in jail and a formal charge of murder entered against him.

SUGAR SCANDAL CASES

Misfortune Seems to be Pursuing Witnesses in Them

NEW YORK, May 14.—Misfortune seems to be pursuing witnesses in the sugar scandal cases. Recently Richard Parr, star witness in preceding trials, and expected to figure prominently in the trial of Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Refining Co., was threatened with peritonitis and it is still uncertain whether he can appear at the trial next week. Today it was learned that Otto Schmeiter, one of the American Sugar Refining Co.'s book-keepers, a man upon whose testimony the government's legal lights depend even more largely in the Heike prosecution, is seriously ill. The prospects are that he will be unable to testify.

Parr uncovered the crooked work with the scales on the Williamsburg sugar docks which sent a quartet of checkers and Oliver Spitzer, their boss, to the penitentiary after a sensational trial on the government's charges that they had conspired to defraud the customs in underweighing sugar cargoes in process of importation by means of cheating scales. The hole in the scale post, the concealed spring and the signal for the use of caution at the inspectors' approach, which figured in Parr's declarations—are classics in sugar scandal history. Schmeiter, at his post in the sugar company offices, checked the weighing operations. It was the tables he prepared and concerning which he testified at previous trials that enabled the government to show the differences proving the underweighing, which sent the checkers to prison and which resulted in the refunding to the government by the sugar company of more than $2,000,000 in duties. Schmeiter is said to have suffered a breakdown as a result of the laborious work he did in making the computations and the nervous strain of the long continued prosecutions.

The government counsel are somewhat cast down at the illness of Parr and the indicated breakdown of Schmeiter. They insist, however, that other evidence has developed that makes their case stronger than ever and that the trial of Heike and others accused in the sugar conspiracy cases will start next Monday, according to schedule.

BANKERS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Ten prominent Pittsburgers, including bankers, physicians and politicians, faced Judge Frazer in criminal courts today to receive their sentences on various charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with communalistic corruption recently exposed. All except one have already pleaded no defense to indictments alleging the giving and receiving of bribe money. When court opened the name of A. A. Vilsack, former cashier of the German National bank, was called. Vilsack's attorney, ex-Gov. William A. Stone, moved for an argument to appeal any sentence that might be forthcoming later. At the conclusion of the argument Judge Frazer imposed a sentence of eight months in the county jail and a fine of $5,000.

BIG OYSTER GROWER DEAD

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 14.—Robert Pettis of this city, 90 years of age, the oldest and most prominent oyster grower and dealer in Rhode Island, died at his summer home at Pawtuxet Neck today. Since 1845 he had followed the oyster industry steadily, owning all of the best beds along the coast.

ROOSEVELT AS AMBASSADOR

LONDON, May 14.—When Mr. Roosevelt arrives here on Monday morning he will have dropped the role of a private citizen and so will be accorded the honors due to the special American ambassador to the funeral of King Edward VII. King George today designated two aides-de-camp to attend upon the American ambassador during his stay in London. These are Lord Dundonald and Commander Charles E. Cunningham-Graham, both distinguished in the service of the crown.

Lord Dundonald served with Sir Herbert Stewart's column for the relief of Khartum and was subsequently commander of the mounted brigade of the Natal army and commander of the Canadian militia in the Boer war.

Commander Cunningham-Graham is a groom-in-waiting to his majesty the king. He served for many years in the royal navy.

The aides-de-camp will meet Mr. Roosevelt at Queensborough and accompany him to London. His train is due at Victoria station at 7:45 o'clock. Awaiting the former president at the station will be one of the king's equestrians, a representative of the British foreign office, American Ambassador Reid and the staff of the American embassy with their wives.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, May 14.—With Chief of Field Division Schwartz, the man who has assumed all responsibility for every step taken by the interior department in the Cunningham-Graham case, on the stand, the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation proceeded today. When the committee met today the request of Mr. Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Olvies, that Atty. Gen. Wickersham be subpoenaed as a witness, remained to be acted upon.

GREAT BATTING

Lowell Beaten in Loose-ly Played Game

HAVERHILL, May 14.—Free hitting and loose holding abounded in yesterday's game, which Haverhill won from Lowell, 13 to 10. A redeeming feature of the fielding was a double play by Jones and Fleming in the fifth, which required six players to complete. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES

Haverhill today.

The man who originated the line "Smile, d— you, Smile!" must have seen Tom Fleming when a pitcher was going bad.

How some of the papers are roasting Byrne! To listen to some of them, the only warm thing about him is his name.

Umpire O'Brien chased Page from the field yesterday for kicking at a decision, whereupon Uncle Jesse substituted for him as a kicker and he, too, was chased. But Jesse does about as he pleases on the home grounds and, instead of beating it to the luncheon table, he took a seat in the grand stand and continued to talk without further interruption. When the manager becomes thus and gets by with it, why roast the humble member of the team who occasionally cuts loose at the umpire? Rank should impose obligation even in baseball.

There isn't a kicker on the Lowell team, and the quietest man on the team has the reputation of being able to go low when occasion requires it.

The Lawrence Eagle informs us that Gus Damm is the league's best backstop. Huston of Lowell and McCune of Worcester are not so awfully bad.

Here's a little bit of a surprise for the fans of the city but it is harmless and will work out all right for the club. It is this. Pitcher Arthur Maybom has been turned over to the Brockton club and will pitch in the game against Fall River at Fall River this afternoon.

Manager Damm was as silent as a clam last evening when interviewed on the subject of the conditions under which Maybom was allowed to go to Brockton or as to why he had gone but the fact remains that "Blondie" will be strutting about in a Brockton uniform this afternoon and will be working for Steve Flanagan.

Flanagan is in a bad way for pitchers and some deal had to be made so that he could go along and make a showing and Maybom, who was with his team for a time last year, seemed to strike his fancy. For that reason he made some kind of a bid for the player and the result is here chronicled. Pitcher Eberley, the only available man Brockton has had for the last few days injured his shoulder and will be out of the game so that something was necessary. This will give some of the Other Lawrence pitchers a chance—Lawrence Sun.

George Boardman, Joe Briggs and Harold Danzig, three former New England league players with the Sacramento club, are doing some very heavy stick work, setting the Pacific Coast class A league on fire. Boardman and Briggs were drafted from the Haverhill club by the Boston Red Sox last fall and later released to Sacramento. Danzig was with Lowell and was recalled by the Red Sox, by whom he was drafted two years ago from New Bedford. Danzig is playing first base. Boardman (third) and Briggs (center field). All three men have apparently struck their gait and have their eye on the ball.

In seven consecutive games Briggs got 12 hits, Boardman 10, and Danzig seven. Of Briggs' 12 hits five were for two sacks, Boardman, out of ten hits, got two two-baggers and one three-bagger. Danzig got two two-baggers in seven hits.

Henderson and Hole were given releases last night. Henderson did not come up to expectations, and with Moore and Faulke in the outfield there was no show for him. Hole was sent to Fall River, but did not make an impression. As Jack O'Brien is endeavoring to get "Candy" Lachance to play the first sack, Hole did not fit.

There are now three catchers on the list, but when Toomey's finger heals there will have to be a cut somewhere, one of the three men coming for the ticket as only two backstops will be carried. With Fleming in the game permanently, one outfielder will have to be let go, but all of these will come later. The team stands as it is for the present.

Umpire Charley Lanigan, who officiated at Glen Forest Thursday afternoon, was remembered by local members of the Knights of Columbus. Previous to the game, after he had announced the batteries he was called to the plate and presented with a handsome K. of C. button. The gift was from members of the order in this city and was a great surprise to the umpire. Lanigan recently became a member of the Knights in Providence and some of his friends in Lawrence heard of it, so they arranged the pleasant little affair. Mr. Lanigan replied and thanked the donors for their thoughtfulness.—Lawrence Eagle.

Jack Slattery, the former Lawrence player, is now a member of the Toronto team. He was sent up as a pinch hitter last Saturday and connected for a single, helping the Maple Leafs along to victory.

Slattery came to this city after he was let go by New Bedford. He caught and played first base. He was also tried in the outfield. His work was very unsatisfactory. The upshot of it was that he was released. Later he bought on with the Washington team of the American league. He was let go during the winter and is now with Toronto.

Fred Reiger, formerly of the New Britain and Holyoke clubs, has landed a pitching job with the New London team in the new Connecticut association.—Norwich Evening Record.

Fall River is trying to land Candy Lachance, the former Waterbury first baseman and veteran big leaguer.

The Lynn baseball team will have to be figured on in the race this season for the New England league pennant. With an infield such as Lyons, a fair outfield, a promising battery department, Hamilton should be a contender from the start. A clever player like Burg on third, a ground coverer like Cargo at short, a ground player like Logan on second and Nettie first complete the best infield in the league today. Gus Damm behind the bat is the league's premier backstop—Billy Peters in the Lawrence Eagle.

Johnny Murphy, captain of the Boston team of the United States league, and shortstop for Brockton at the end of last season, witnessed the Brockton-New Bedford game yesterday. Murphy is doing scout duty for the Boston Americans and came down here to look over some of the youngsters.—Brockton Times.

Attorney Byrne of Providence, Rhode Island, is probably an honest man, as most lawyers are, but he could hardly have put up a good defense for himself on the charges of highway robbery and grand larceny that Brockton fans put up to him yesterday when he umpired the clash between Flanagan's crew and the New Bedford Whalers and slid about all the close decisions over to the aggregation from out of town. He made a pretty bad job of it, for he lost the readily lost decision on the bases and twice called Brockton men out at the plate when the plays were not even close. Once he favored Brockton, but it had no effect on the score. If the Brockton team had not

THREE OF DETROIT AMERICANS' GREAT STARS WHO HAVE TAKEN A BIG SLUMP

It is a noticeable fact that nearly every big league club has three stars whose playing stands out above all others. In the National league Pittsburgh has Wagner, Clarke and Leach; Cincinnati, Bescher, Holtz and Egan; New York, Mathewson, Devlin and Murray; Chicago, Evers, Tinker and Steinfield; Philadelphia, Magee, Doolin and Grant. In the American Detroit has Cobb, Crawford and Bush; Philadelphia, Bender, Davis and Collins; Boston, Speaker, Lord and Carrigan; Cleveland, Lajoie, Turner and Bradley. Were any of the above mentioned clubs to lose their three star players, what would Pittsburgh do without Clarke, Leach and Wagner? It's dollars to doughnuts that the Pirates would take a big tumble. It's the same way with the other teams. And another thing, when all three greats have a batting or fielding slump the rest of the players seem to fall in line also. It's curious, but it shows the uncertainty of baseball. Take, for instance, the recent series between the Detroit and New York teams. Cobb, Crawford and Bush played away below their standard, and the result was that the Tigers lost two games that under ordinary circumstances would have been victories.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The J. P. S. will play the Cadets on Sabbath's day. A good game is expected.

The Richmond will play the Pawtucket Blues today at their grounds at Fourth avenue.

The Crimsons will play the Wonders on the Cricket grounds at Dracut Centre, this afternoon.

The following games will be played in the Lowell and Suburban league this afternoon.

O. M. T. Cadets and Pillings at Tibbett's field; Y. M. C. A. and Mysteries at North Billerica; Dixwells and Brooklides at Alton street grounds; Wanderers and Crimsons at Dracut Cricket grounds.

The Brooklides will play the Dixwells on the Alton street grounds today.

A well attended meeting of managers of various independent teams of the city was held Thursday night and formed the Spindle City league. The following eight teams out of 15 applicants were accepted: Saginores, Lamson C. C. Buntings, Almont A. C. (of Travelers of Americans), Polham, Travelers of Travelers, Lincoln, Wanderers and Crimsons with the following scheduled games:

Almont A. C. vs. Buntings (Tewksbury); Saginores vs. Travelers; Lamson C. C. vs. Lincoln.

Owing to previously arranged games Polham and Americans will not play.

As the teams entered are all well known amateur teams, a fast article of ball may be expected, and a good season is assured.

The next meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, May 17, 1910, at 8 o'clock.

A very pleasant surprise party took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ready in honor of their daughter, Mary E. Ready, when she was surprised by about fifty of her young friends and presented a handsome and costly pendant and chain, a gold ring and jewel case. Mr. Russell Gandette made the presentation speech and Miss Ready answered happily. During the evening games were enjoyed and there were piano solos by Mr. Geo. Carney, Agnes Collins and Mr. Wm. Morris; vocal solo by Miss Isabelle Carney, Mary Ready and Miss Helen Murphy; violin solo by Miss Florence Murphy; and Sherry Torrey, comic sketch entitled "A Night Off," by Messrs. Frank Mahoney, Raymond Morris and Arthur Mahoney. Supper was served and the following people had charge: Mr. and Mrs. William Ready, Mrs. John Carr, Mrs. Mary Peters, Mrs. Annie Conway and Mrs. Richard Conway. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

FORWARD PASS

Retained By Football Rules Committee

NEW YORK, May 14.—The intercollegiate football rules committee at a meeting in New York yesterday decided to retain the forward pass unrestricted. The committee framed a number of rules designed to throw safeguards around the operation of this and other plays, and adjourned sine die, having completed the task of "reforming" football, which has kept it busy much of the time since the first of last February.

The working details of the new game was left in the hands of a sub-committee, composed of Walter Camp of Yale, Dr. Carl Williams of the University of Pennsylvania, and Percy L. Haughton of Harvard, but as the new regulations are largely theoretical, it is admitted the precise results will not be known until the football season of 1911 is underway. Members of the committee hope, however, that they have succeeded in devising a plan whereby the game will not be robbed of its spectacular features, yet will be more safe than it has been in the past.

It was felt that having weakened the offense by the new rules previously adopted, some method had to be invented to strengthen the offense as an offset.

For this reason, great effort was made to draft rules for retaining the forward pass. Without it under new restrictions scoring would be so difficult that the game would be almost destroyed.

At former sessions the committee adopted six rules. They are that the offense must keep seven men on the line of scrimmage; prohibiting of the diving tackle; permitting quarterback runs to be made through any part of the line; that an on-side kick must go 20 yards to be on-side; prohibiting pushing or pulling of players or interfering and dividing the game into four quarters of 15 minutes each.

At the last session, held in Philadelphia, the committee decided to ascertain the effect of limiting the forward pass to behind the line of the scrimmage, with eight yards to gain on three downs instead of 10 yards. A sub-committee, composed of E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, Crawford Blagden of Harvard and Dr. Williams, was appointed to frame a system of plays on this basis. This committee presented its report yesterday, and at the same time there was presented another plan, allowing the unrestricted use of the forward pass. The latter plan was adopted.

The rules adopted yesterday read as follows:

1.—The forward pass may cross the line of scrimmage at any point, but the player making the pass must be at least five yards behind the line of scrimmage when the pass is made, and the player receiving the pass shall not be, when the catch is made, more than 20 yards in advance of the place where the ball was passed.

Under this rule, there will be no forward pass in the territory of the on-side kick, which must go at least 20 yards from the line of scrimmage.

2.—Only the end men on the line of scrimmage and the four men in the backfield shall be eligible to receive the forward pass, and the backs in order to be eligible, must be at least one yard back behind the line of scrimmage when the ball is put in play.

3.—A forward pass which crossed the line of scrimmage, or a kick of any description, must be made from a point at least five yards back of the scrimmage line.

4.—Penalties: On the first and second downs, in case of an incomplete forward pass, the ball shall be brought back to the spot where the pass was made.

By lightening the penalties in this manner the committee expects to encourage the use of the forward pass.

5.—Players on the offense who have crossed the line of scrimmage must not interfere with the defensive players on a kick until the ball shall have gone 20 yards, or on a forward pass until it shall have been caught, except in an actual attempt to catch the ball.

6.—Players on the defense, except when they are behind the line of scrimmage, may play as heretofore. Players on the defense behind the line of scrimmage may use their hands only upon their opponents' bodies in order to get at the man with the ball, until the ball shall have advanced across a five yard line of scrimmage. After the ball has advanced across this five yard line, they may play as heretofore. Defensive players behind the line of scrimmage on a forward pass shall not in any way interfere with their opponents except in an actual attempt to catch the ball, nor shall such players in case of a kick in any way interfere with their opponents until the opponents have gone 20 yards beyond the line of scrimmage. No player on the offense or defense shall, while in the act of catching a forward pass, be tackled, thrown, punched, pulled, shouldered, or straight armed until he has caught the ball and taken more than one step in any direction; provided that any such interference which is incidental to a bona fide attempt to catch or intercept a pass shall not come within this prohibition.

In addition to these rules, the committee adopted one designed to safeguard the players in another direction. This rule reads:

In case a player with the ball crawls after the ball is declared dead, his team shall be penalized five yards.

Piling up of players had been forbidden previously.

The committee also formally adopted a provision which was favorably considered at previous sessions, that any player withdrawn from the game for any cause except disqualification, may return once at the beginning of any subsequent quarter. This is to allow a third player to participate, and to save the temptation to keep players in the game when they are not in it condition.

All the members of the committee were present except Altona Steff of Chicago, who sent Walter P. Steff of Chicago as a substitute; W. L. Dudley of Vanderbilt, who was represented by D. E. McGowan of Michigan, and H. H. Williams of Minnesota, whose substitute was S. B. Newton of Lafayette.

HOW TO TREAT SKIN DISEASES

A Simple Remedy That Can Be Tried For 10 Cents

Many skin diseases like Eczema and Salt Rheum are due to an external cause that is little understood, and are not the result of impure blood. The taking of internal remedies is a waste of time and money, as many sufferers can testify. The simplest and safest remedy is Cadum, the new medical preparation. Cadum, when applied, excludes the air and all external agents that cause inflammation and irritation. It stops the itching at once, and the healing process begins immediately. Wonderful cures are reported not only of Eczema and Salt Rheum, but of less serious troubles like Psoriasis, Ringworm, Acne, Herpes, Scaly Skin, Scabs, Pimples, Boils, Eruptions, Chunks, Blackheads, etc. Trial box, 10c. A second notice has been sent out by Archbishop O'Connell, stating that candidates for the permanent rectorship at St. Joseph's church, Amesbury, left vacant by the departure of the Rev. John J. Nihan at the episcopate at Hartford, must turn in their names within a week. The first notice resulted in no eligible candidate applying.

INJURIES FATAL

Mother Tried to Save Her Child

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Celia Rosenberg died last night as a result of her main effort to save her 3-year-old daughter Freda from being run over and killed by a trolley car in the Williamsburg street of Brooklyn yesterday. The child was crushed to death before the mother's eyes. Mrs. Rosenberg was fatally hurt. The car wheels severed one of her legs from her body above the knee.

Little Freda started across the street to buy a cent's worth of ice cream. In the center of the street a car drove down upon her. The child stood still. The mother, who had stood watching, was out in the street in an instant. She seized the girl and tried to drag her from the tracks, but was too late, the car striking both of them. A squad of police had hands full in protecting the motorman of the car from the mob of excited residents of the populous district. The motorman was finally taken in safety to a station house, where he was charged with homicide.

LUCKY HEIRS

TO A $70,000 ESTATE ARE BEING SOUGHT

Representative Thomas M. Vinson of Washington, D. C., visited the room at police headquarters yesterday and announced that he wanted to turn Friday, the 13th, into a day of joy for some unknown person or persons in Boston.

"I want to make today the luckiest day in somebody's life," he said.

When he calmed down, he explained that he was looking for relatives of James M. Kelly, who died April 10 on Market street, San Francisco, leaving an estate of about $70,000. Some years ago he had a married sister living in Boston. To her or her descendants the money will go according to Representative Vinson.

does away with all drudgery of cooking. Why should you be a slave to a coal range when you can have an Oil Cook-Stove that is cheaper than coal, cleaner than coal, doesn't "smell," doesn't smoke, lights instantly, can be put out instantly, leaves no ashes, and doesn't heat the kitchen. With one of these stoves you can boil, bake or roast the most elaborate dinner. You can change from a slow to a quick fire, or the other way about, by simply turning a wheel. Apply a match, and instantly the heat from an intense blue flame shoots upward through the turquoise-blue enamel chimneys to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven—but nowhere else. The stove has every convenience that can be thought of: Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping food and dishes hot, drop shelves to hold coffee or teapots, towel rack; in fact every convenience possible.

The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

BEAM HOUSE PLANS TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

Board of Health

Medical Inspector Not Yet Elected — The Board is in Favor of the Extension of Dummer Street

Although they have not been submitted to the board of health, plans for a new beaming plant have been prepared by the American Hide and Leather company and are now safely locked in a safe in this city. The board has been assured, however, that the plans will be submitted at its pleasure. C. P. Hall, fourth vice president of the company, dropped in at the meeting of the board of health last evening and had an understanding with the board that seemed satisfactory all around. Mr. Hall will spend a week in the Maine woods, beginning next Thursday and after he has returned he will meet the board of health, go over the plans with them and arrange for a practical observation by the board of plants in Cincinnati, Milwaukee and St. Louis.

In answer to a letter of instruction by the board for the improvement of sanitary conditions in the Keith property in Bridge street, Frank J. Sherwood, who has the care of the property, said that the old buildings were to be torn down to make way for a new theatre. He said that plans for the theatre had been perfected and that work on the new building would be begun within 60 days.

The board had a communication that had to do with rummage sales, the writer of the letter declaring that goods sold at rummage sales should be fumigated before being offered for sale. Drs. Martin and Huntress allowed that the point was well taken.

The matter of medical inspection in private schools as recommended by Dr. Huntress was touched upon, and Dr. Huntress remarked that it should be hurried along.

The Dummer street extension was referred to and the board went on record as favoring the Dummer street extension in the interests of health.

The board had an unusual number of complaints relative to the keeping of pigs and a number of pig owners were told "right sharp" that they would have to improve their pig pens or their swill licenses would be revoked.

Mr. Hall of the American Hide and Leather company dropped in before the meeting started and after Secretary O'Hare had read the records, Mr. Hall was heard.

"I just dropped in," he said, "to find out if you had taken any definite action in the newspaper. I read the report of your last meeting, but I received no official notification. I have no complaint to offer, but I simply want to know what is going to be done."

"Our plans for the beaming plant are prepared in detail and are at your disposal. But I thought, perhaps, it would be better if you would see the plants in operation in other places before passing on our plans. I would like to have you see the plants first and then I'll show you how we have improved upon them. I think that a practical observation of a plant is infinitely better than an examination of plans. The plans, however, are in Lowell and you may see them any time."

"The plants I would like you to see are in Gerard and Cincinnati, O., Milwaukee, and St. Louis."

Mr. Hall said he had arranged for a vacation of one week in the Maine woods, beginning next Thursday, and he would like to arrange it so as not to have that week interfered with.

The chairman assured him that the board would not interfere with his holiday and it was finally decided that the board would meet the company's engineer after Mr. Hall's return from the Maine woods and the question of a practical observation of the plants in motion will be settled.

Objection to Pigs and Cattle
Objection was made to the keeping of pigs and cattle at 624 Chelmsford street, the same being kept by E. L. Gray. The complaint was by Lena M. Hoyt through her counsel, John J. Pickman. Dr. Martin said he had examined the premises and found that the place was too congested and quarters too small for the keeping of pigs. It was voted to order the pigs removed and to have Mr. Gray clean up the premises.

C. P. Sells of Lincoln street was before the board on a complaint charging him with keeping a dirty stable and pig pen on his premises in Lincoln street. Dr. Martin had visited Mr. Sells' place and had found conditions anything but wholesome. He said conditions there were such as to offend the neighborhood. The board voted to instruct Mr. Sells to clean the place up within six days. If he doesn't do that, his swill license will be revoked and the board will order the pigs removed.

Earlier in the meeting the question as to whether or not E. L. Gray had milk or swill licenses came up, and it was discovered that he did not have a license to deal in milk nor to sell swill, and it was voted to ask him to come before the board at his next meeting.

Mr. George Fairburn was granted a permit to enlarge his horse barn in Fort street. Dr. Martin said he had visited Mr. Fairburn's stable and he complimented Mr. Fairburn upon its condition.

Henry J. McKelvey of Doane street was ordered to abolish a piggy there. The premises were inspected by Dr. Martin and Agent Bates and said that conditions there were "terrible."

McKelvey was ordered to remove the pigs and put the premises in condition satisfactory to the inspector within six days.

A stable license was granted J. P. McMahon at 458 Chelmsford street and the application of John Brady to build and occupy an additional stable for four horses in Warren court was granted.

Will Build Theatre

A letter from Frank J. Sherwood, representing the Keith property in Bridge street, was read. Mr. Sherwood had been instructed to stop passage to a cellar and to improve sanitary conditions in the tenement property. Mr. Sherwood said in his letter that the old tenement property was soon to be done away with. He said the buildings were to be torn down for a new theatre to be started within 60 days. He said that plans for the theatre had been perfected.

Fumigate Rummage Sales
A communication to the board had to do with the fumigation of rummage sales. The sale now going on at Paige and Bridge streets was referred to. The writer gave as his opinion that all articles should be fumigated before being offered for sale at rummage sales.

He allowed that there were more germs lurking in the folds of second-hand articles peddled out at rummage sales than in an eight quart can of milk.

On motion of Dr. Huntress, the board voted that articles offered at rummage sales be fumigated before sale is allowed.

COUNTING OUR POPULATION.

Some of the census enumerators report that a lot of people hide to avoid them, thinking that a meeting with the census enumerator means the subsequent visit of a poll tax collector. If this report be true we can rely that the population will not be fully counted, and that Lowell will not, therefore, get a square deal. If some of the enumerators, on the other hand, shirk their work and make it easy for those who so desire to escape being counted, then we may be sure the census will show no increase of population for Lowell.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

In his Berlin speech Col. Roosevelt essayed the profound and philosophical to a greater extent than he has attempted on any previous occasion perhaps. Yet when boiled down his speech amounts to little more than what he delivered in much simpler terms in France regarding the necessity of maintaining the home, every day, all important virtues that guarantee large families of healthy children, good citizenship and a readiness to fight against a foreign enemy. Without these virtues he said a nation is liable to fail and to vanish like some of those known now only to history. And as the individual should be a good citizen so the nation has a duty first to itself and then to the world in the general movement for the highest and most enduring civilization.

TO OBSERVE THE COMET.

Those who are interested in the coming of Halley's comet should cut out the illustration in yesterday's Sun and keep it for reference when the comet appears next week. It shows the relative positions of the earth and the comet for various dates, making particularly clear the positions of both bodies in reference to the sun from May 6 to May 30. It will be noted that on May 18 the comet will reach its nearest point to the earth which is about 14,000,000 miles distant. As the tail of the comet, which is nothing more than electrified dust and gas, reaches out millions of miles on the side remote from the sun, our planet may pass through a portion of it, but there will be no danger of injurious effects. It is surmised that the approach of the comet may exert some influence on the workings of the wireless telegraph. As this is the first time the effect of a comet's approach on the wireless could be observed, those who are interested in that science will watch for any unusual influence upon the etheral waves.

THE ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS.

As was expected, the Massachusetts senate promptly killed the bill favoring an amendment of the constitution so as to provide for election of United States senators by popular vote. Only two more states are needed with the 29 that have already voted upon the question to make the two-thirds necessary to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of formulating an amendment to the constitution in regard to the mode of selecting United States senators.

There have been so many instances in which United States senators seemed to have been in league with large corporations profiting by congressional measures that collusion has been suspected. Then again there have been many instances in which senators were charged with securing their election by corrupt methods. Indeed, there are two senators at the present time accused of this offense. The people seem to have lost confidence in the United States senate as at present constituted, although there are members of that body who are absolutely incorruptible and who are men of the most eminent ability. Nevertheless, the senate is like every other public body—its reputation is smirched by the action of a few members.

It is quite probable that this question rejected so unceremoniously by twenty members of the Massachusetts senate may be submitted to popular vote next November. It is quite likely, however, that of the states yet to pass upon the measure at least two will vote in favor of it and thus furnish the number necessary for calling a constitutional convention.

THE REJECTION OF HIBBARD.

The rejection of Ex-mayor Hibbard of Boston as appointee for tax collector is probably the last blow that frail gentleman can stand. There were two reasons for the rejection, one because of his physical unfitness for any position requiring close attention and the other because his appointment seemed to be in payment of a political debt. If the commission would never do anything worse than this it might well be forgiven.

The system under which the commission is given power to hold up the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald on secret information conveyed in anonymous letters or orally by irresponsible individuals, political enemies of the officials appointed, official cutthroats, unscrupulous liars, hypocrites and humbugs, is one that belongs to past ages, and should not be tolerated under a republican form of government because it encourages calumny, slander and false testimony. Under the shield of secrecy it protects the most infamous liars and assassins of character, while the men attacked have no opportunity to defend themselves because they are acquainted with neither the nature of the charges nor the identity of the authors. No such star chamber method can long survive if justice is to prevail. It is unfair to the candidates appointed and it is unfair to Mayor Fitzgerald who has to bear the responsibility for the government of the city of Boston.

The civil service commission is a state body and thus vested with a certain power over the choice of department heads for the city of Boston we see how pernicious its influence may be. Unless the commission shows more fairness and justice in its judgment of the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald, some of the members should be removed to give place to men who will not permit any good man to be defeated by the secret vilification of men who dare not make the charges publicly.

Everybody connected with the publication of newspapers knows what vile stuff is sent in by anonymous writers against men in public and even in private life.

SEEN AND HEARD

Conductors find that their experience with people gives them occasion to study their ways and habits to a degree and in a way that would scarcely be possible even by such close association as living in the same neighborhood with them. A conductor on one of the city lines remarked that one of the passengers in his car, which happened to be filled with ladies, had not paid, and he would like to know which one it was. A man riding on the rear platform remarked that he would offer the suggestion that any one evading her carfare could be detected by the way in which she nervously occupied herself with some personal attention to herself as the conductor was passing along the aisle. "Look for the one who fiddles with her hatpins or her hair," he remarked. "They always do something like that when they are trying to beat their fare." I've seen them. This was a suggestion to the conductor, and he replied "I'll try that." He walked up the aisle toward the front of the car. A few moments afterward he returned to the rear vestibule and he closed the door the man inquired, "Well, was I right?" The conductor nodded a little sheepishly. "Yes, sir," he replied. "She-e-e said you'd fix it. She said to tell you to pay for her." "Me? I never heard of such impudence in all my life. Me pay her fare. What does she take me for?" This was too much for the conductor, and he began to think that the man was trying to evade his responsibility. "She's the woman sitting at the end of the seat on the right hand side," the conductor remarked in a firm manner, at the same time nodding his head in that direction. The man in the vestibule kind of half-politely, and at the same time began to look for a ticket, remarking sullenly as he passed the coin to the conductor, "Oh, yes, I perceive. I know her. She—happens to be my wife."

Into the office of a banking firm the other afternoon walked the boss. The office boy, with feet on his employer's desk, was whistling gaily and the sound reached the other offices.

"Tough man," said the boss sternly. "This is no way for you to behave. You asked me to raise your pay recently. I cannot do so if you are going to do so far forget yourself as to whistle in my office."

The office boy looked up meekly and replied, "I wanted to show that I could still be cheerful in spite of my miserable salary."

The boss, in telling the story, said that he was so much impressed by the answer that he had got an extra dollar on his weekly stipend.

Striking his cane at intervals on the sidewalk, a blind man was making fairly good progress.

His familiar tap of the cane and shuffle of feet attracted the attention of other pedestrians, who stepped aside and gave him the right of way. For several squares everything went along nicely, but there was a mishap in store for him.

Hardly had he walked a dozen yards when some one coming the other way collided with him. "The cane dropped from the first man's hands and his hat fell from his head and rolled into the gutter."

"You fool why don't you watch where you are going. Didn't you hear me knocking my stick on the ground?"

The other man stood still and said nothing.

"Pick up my hat," shouted the first blind man, growing exasperated, "can't you see that I am blind?"

At the mention of the word "blind" the other man smiled. "Well isn't that unusual?" he muttered and then turning around and touching the other on the arm he added, "You must forgive me. I didn't know that you were blind, for I am blind myself."

WHAT THE SPARROW CHIRPS

I am only a little sparrow,
A bird of low degree;
My life's of little value,
But the dear Lord careth for me.

He gave me a coat of feathers
'Tis very plain I know,
With never a speck of crimson,
For it was not made for show.

By and by when it is springtime
I will build me a little nest,
With many a chirp of pleasure,
In the spot I like the best.

I have no barn or storehouse,
Neither sow nor reap;
God gives me a sparrow's portion,
With never a sparrow to keep.

I fly through the thickest forests,
I light on the smallest spray;
I have no chart or compass,
But I never lose my way.

I am only a little sparrow,
A bird of low degree;
But I know the dear Lord loves me,
Have you less faith than we?

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Marilla Ricker, one year old, of Dover, N. H., is thought to have more grandparents than any other girl in New England. She has eight grandmothers and three grandfathers.

Justice of the Peace W. A. Purcell of Jersey City will give 1000 reading stamps to each couple he marries between now and July 1. He has performed 300 ceremonies and wants to make it 1,000 by that date.

Lawyer Francis J. Heney, the celebrated graft prosecutor of the Pacific coast, has gone to New York to practice.

Lady Muir Mackenzie, wife of the senior member of the governor's council, is said to be the moving spirit of the women's club of Poona, India. At a recent exhibition of women's work in the club rooms, she made a speech in defense of the women of India and their dissatisfaction with present-day conditions. She held that this dissatisfaction was not confined to India alone, but was a world movement including every civilized nation.

Miss Gertrude Jordan, who was elected last November on the republican ticket treasurer of Cherry County, Nebraska, is entitled to hold that office. That was the decision of the supreme court of Nebraska, which says that under the constitution there is nothing to bar a woman from filling such a place. Miss Jordan's predecessor refused to surrender the office to her, on the ground that a woman is not competent under the statutes. Judge Jacob Fawcett dissented from the majority opinion, on the ground that it was establishing a dangerous precedent, urging that if a woman were competent to be county treasurer, there was no reason why she should not be governor.

By appointment of the Yale corporation, G. G. McCurdy of Peabody Museum, will represent the university at the International Congress of Americanists to be held in the city of Mexico next September. Mr. McCurdy will make archaeological researches in various parts of the country and may visit also the Chiriqui Indian region of Panama for the purpose of adding to the Chiriqui collection of the museum obtained by the late Professor O. C. March. This summer Professor H. E. Gregory will, under the direction of the United States geological survey, again visit Arizona to investigate the water supply of that territory.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Four full shows are given at the Opera House today, starting at 1.30, 3, 7 and 8.30, and it will be the last opportunity of witnessing the current program which includes Bertie Fowler, in a clever monologue and character impersonations; Prince Kazanawa, and brother, wonderful Japanese acrobats; Johnnie Wise and company in a comedy, singing and dancing sketch; and Davis and Davis, vocalists. The pictures are all new and include a Biograph as well as a number of other good subjects. Tomorrow, afternoon and evening, a fine concert program has been arranged and will include an entire change of pictures, Herb, Webster in new songs, Katherine Stowell, and Davis and Davis. Places at the Opera House are always free and ten cents and one is always assured of seeing a fine program at this theatre and one of the biggest and best ever seen here for the money.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

STAR THEATRE

Fight pictures will command the attention of Lowell sports on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the Star Theatre. The Volga-Nelson battle of over 40 rounds will be depicted as it originally went, and Lowell sports will be the first in New England, outside of Boston, to view the pictures which are regarded as the best ever produced showing a prize fight. A lecturer will be on hand to explain everything. First of all, Ad. Volga will be shown in his training quarters; then Battling Nelson will be seen in his training stunts. We will next watch the crowds going into the arena. Before the battle starts, the promoters introduce Owen Moran, Harlem Tommy Murphy and many others. Now the fighters are called to the centre of the ring and instructed by the referee. They return to their respective corners and in a few seconds are up at the top of the first round, starting one of the fiercest battles in ring history.

The pictures have been booked for Lowell at such an early date only under big expense. The sports of Lowell will be able to get a line on the fighters and pick their man for the second clash of the sturdy Ad. Volgaist and the famous Battling Nelson.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Every one of the new acts at the Empire theatre, which constitute today's program, is a feature in itself. There is a selection of the best vaudeville and an assortment of the funniest pictures on the market, including the leading comedy and dramatic subjects which go to make up such a show as picture lovers like.

The vaudeville numbers are of a high class. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Young in their musical comedy "Early Days East," have again made a hit, just as they have done on previous days. Lillian Maynard in her singing specialty act keeps up the fun and is encored several times, her singing is so good. Mr. Charles Rogers sings a ballad with illustrations.

For Sunday, a list of pictures has been selected which cannot help but

IN POLICE COURT

Short Session Quickly
Disposed of

This morning's session of the police court was rather characteristic owing to its brevity. For the past several weeks the sessions have been rather lengthy, but this morning the business was rushed through.

Martin Ryan, charged with being drunk, admitted the charge and a fine of $6 was imposed, but Probation Officer Slattery after having a conversation with the man decided that owing to the fact that the defendant had eight children dependent upon him and that he promised to reform, requested the judge to change the sentence, so the fine was revoked and Ryan was given a chance to do better.

Peter Drolet, minus his legs from the knees down, pleaded guilty to being drunk. Owing to his physical infirmity, he was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Phoebe E. Phillips, drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Peter Larkin, who claims to have a residence in Boston, was arrested in Middlesex street last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The latter said that Larkin had been soliciting money from people in the street and as soon as he got any money he went to one of the liquor saloons and spent it, after which he did more soliciting. He was sent to the state farm.

Michael J. McDonald, who was under a suspended sentence of three months in jail, was surrendered by the probation officer this morning.

George Cross was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Marie A. He entered a plea of not guilty through his counsel, J. Joseph Hennessy. D. J. Donahue, who appeared for the government, started to give the court an explanation of the case, but the court decided that he would hear the testimony. When the government witnesses were called it was found that one Alphonse Bibault was missing, and Judge Hadley ordered a subpoena issued for him and continued the case till next Wednesday, holding the defendant under $200 bonds.

Charles W. Johnson was charged with violating a city ordinance covered by section 15 of chapter 5 of the city ordinances, relative to allowing an automobile to remain standing for more than 20 minutes in that part of Merrimack street between John and Bridge streets. Mr. Johnson admitted that his machine had been there more than 20 minutes, but that he was ignorant of the law. He was fined $2.

In the case of Sperles Zecap, charged with assault and battery on Vasilios Pappaconstantinos, the former through his counsel, J. Joseph Hennessy, entered a plea of guilty and a fine of $3 was imposed. It seems that the pair got into an argument in Market street yesterday and after a couple of blows were exchanged they were separated by Constable Harry Lemaras.

FUNERAL NOTICES

On Monday morning at 8 o'clock regular mass will be sung at the Sacred Heart church.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Albert Nebes, the well known roller skater, and Miss Anna Harriet Emsley were married Thursday at the home of the bride, 67 Pine street, by

Rev. George F. Kennigott, pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational church. In the presence of a number of relatives and friends, Miss Emsley was attended by Anna Nebes and Mr. John P. Conley was best man.

Mrs. Maude Hobden of White street, Pawtucketville, has gone to Detroit, Mich., where she will join her husband, Mr. George T. Hobden.

FOUR DEATH TRAPS

Grade Crossings to be Removed
at Cost of Over $400,000

The Boston & Maine railroad will soon start the work of removing the School and Walker street grade crossings in this city. The work is laid out at present by the grade crossing commission will involve an outlay of over $400,000 as not only the School and Walker street crossings are to be removed, but also the crossings on Lincoln and Plain streets.

The School street crossing is by far the most dangerous in Lowell, and the accidents there, fatal and otherwise, have been more numerous than at all the other crossings together. The reason is, that it is so far from the depot the trains outward have attained high speed and those inward have not lessened their speed to any great extent, so that express trains pass there almost at full speed. The Walker street crossing is not quite so bad, because it is nearer the depot, not so wide and better protected. The crossing at Middlesex street is the least dangerous of all, because there the trains are running very slowly and the tracks are close together.

The Lincoln street and Plain street crossings are about as dangerous as that of Walker street and quite a number of accidents have been recorded at both.

The work of building over the School street crossing will be very difficult. The grade will begin to rise at Rock street on the north side and continue beyond Spring avenue on the south side. The bridging of the canal and the wide span of tracks will be a very difficult matter, requiring a number of strong abutments under the long iron bridge. The tracks will not be lowered and the bridge will be at least sixteen feet in the clear.

The sketch presented herewith gives a perspective view of the bridge that will span the Walker street tracks. It will be forty feet long and sixteen feet in the clear, the roadbed remaining at the same level as at present. The grade of the new roadway will vary from three to four per cent on either side of the middle of the bridge.

The grade will begin to rise almost midway between Columbus avenue and West Adams street on the south and between Revere and Waugh streets on the north side.

Considerable grading will be required to bring West Adams and Waugh streets to the grade of the new roadway.

The tracks at Plain street will be lowered five and a half feet and this will necessitate the lowering of the tracks for quite a distance on either side.

Owing to the change of grade Boston road will be built up and a new street constructed across the angle between Plain street and the Boston road through the land of Robert G. Bartlett. The street will extend through to Marshall road. The bridge will be 60 feet long.

The bridge spanning the tracks at Lincoln street will be 100 feet long and Lincoln street from Autumn to Quebec will have to be raised. The difference in grade ranges from zero at Autumn street to 19 feet at the highest point. The removal of this crossing will require a vast amount of regrading and raising of buildings to bring the houses to street grade.

The work of widening the Bitterica street bridge is now under way.

The Boston and Maine railroad has its hands full in grade crossing work this year, having undertaken to remove the very bad crossing at Lynn depot, others in Malden, Salem, Waltham and Worcester.

FORTIFICATION COMMITTEE OF THE
PANAMA CANAL AND VIEW OF DITCH

PANAMA, May 14.—Acting under orders of President Taft, the Panama canal fortification committee has concluded its report of how Uncle Sam will guard the big ditch in time of war. President Taft's report is in the hands of the congressional committee and action on his recommendations is expected by June 1. The reports do not give the exact locations of the proposed fortifications, but it is explained that this cannot be furnished until information has been obtained regarding the "status and availability of certain parcels of land situated along the route of the canal." The argument for the proposed fortifications is enumerated as follows: Ten fourteen-inch rifles, twelve six-inch rifles and twenty-five twelve-inch mortars. The cost is estimated in excess of $14,000,000. The report states that the board has examined the ground at the terminal of the canal and of territory in the neighborhood of the canal's termini near the approaches to the course with a view of choosing the terminals. I am of the opinion that the best sites for the big guns. "It is the such works as may be erected for the right and duty of the United States to defense of the canal should be defend the work upon which it is expended, occupied and ready for operation such an enormous sum." The lion at the time the canal itself is president says in his message. "An ad- completed and opened to the passage equate defense requires suitable fortifications of vessels."

FUNERALS

PURTELL—The funeral of Irene Catherine Purtell was held yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, 107 Adams street, and burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertaker Savage.

TOUSIGNANT—The funeral of Alphonse Tousignant took place yesterday morning from his home, 85 Austin street, with solemn funeral services at St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Fr. MacFadden, Gratton and Queller, O. M. I., officiated. The choir sang "Peregrinus" under the direction of Dr. Geo. E. Caisse, with Arthur J. Martel at the organ. The bearers were Leode, Dolor, Amadee and Angelo Tousignant, brothers of the deceased; H. Desbarnals and N. Lemoine. The Catholic Order of Foresters was represented by N. Bergeron, E. Morin and A. Mirault. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Napoleon Blodreau had charge.

McCARTY—The funeral of Margaret McCarty took place this morning at 9 o'clock from her late home, 21 Church street. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John O'Brien, celebrant. Rev. W. George Mullin, deacon, and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, sub-deacon. Master George McDonough was master of ceremonies. The choir sang the Gregorian mass and solos were sung by Miss Mary E. Whitley and Mr. James E. Donnelly. There was a large attendance in the church. The bearers were Patrick Conlon, James Hickey, Thomas King, John Martin, Thomas Riley, John Carr. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery where Rev. Fr. O'Brien read the final prayers. Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons had charge.

STAFFORD—The funeral of Eben B. Stafford took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 301 Main street. The services were conducted by Rev. George F. Kennigott, pastor of the First Trinitarian Congregational church, and appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. George E. Burns. A delegation was present representing the Lowell Lodge of Elks. The bearers were Samuel E. Snow, Hiram Vining, Lorenzo E. Smith, Edward Boardman, Leonard D. Hunt and Daniel F. Bean. Burial was in the Edson cemetery. The floral offerings were as follows: Large pillow, inscribed "Eushand," Mrs. E. B. Stafford; pillow, Lowell Lodge of Elks; baskets, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and Guy, McDonald Bros.; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Smith, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. ## DEATHS

MARTIN—Mrs. John T. Martin died yesterday at the Lowell hospital, aged 50 years, 7 months. She leaves her husband, three daughters, Beatrice Corinne and Alice; three brothers, Oliver, Joseph and Alphonse Landry, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Brunet, all of Lowell. The body was removed by Undertaker Joseph Albert to her home, 11 McIntyre street.

McLARNY—Elizabeth McLarny, aged 85 years, died Friday night at the home of her nephew, James A. McLarny, the well known plumber, on Centre street, Chelmsford Centre. The deceased had been a resident of New- port, R. I., until about five years ago, when she came to Chelmsford to make her home with her nephew. She is survived by two nephews, James A. McLarny of Chelmsford and Hugh McLarny of Lowell, and three nieces, Mrs. Mary A. McGann and the Misses Bella and Eliza McLarny of Lowell.

WELCH—Margaret T. Welch, aged 70 years, died yesterday morning at the home of her son, Andrew J. Welch, 83 Bowden street. Deceased was an old resident of this city and for many years a member of the Sacred Heart church. She leaves a husband, Patrick; one son, Andrew J., and one brother, Patrick Ford.

McNALLY—Mrs. Elizabeth McNally, aged 52 years, died this morning at her home, 165 Aven street. She leaves a husband, Michael, three daughters, Mary, Elizabeth and Mrs. Bridget St. John and one son, James.

FINE BASE BALL

Highland Schools

For a contest between Grammar school boys the game between the Edson and Highland school on the South Common this morning was a remarkable exhibition. The Edsons won by a score of 4 to 0 in a pitcher's battle in which both Roane and Wilson covered themselves with glory. Roane struck out 14 men and Wilson struck out 10. Roane was the star of the game for he made a home run and a three-bagger and then stole home. Donohue of the Edsons played a great game at first base. Janitor Condon, coach of the Edsons, says that the Edsons is the best grammar school team in all New England.

Colors Not Flattering to the Complexion

FOLLOWING the example of the trees and shrubs, we have chosen this spring to dress in all possible shades of green—from the murky golden green of absinth to the fresh cool green of the lettuce.

Green, however, is difficult to wear. We must be well and strong in body to don this charming nuance. True, like

Even our tussore silks seek relief from the monotony of their sand-colored schemes in gay printed borders of rosebuds or poppy flowers. And, as you know, bordered fabrics are very chic this season, and the borders are being used anywhere but where they are entitled to be. They appear as ribbons just now. We wear end-les yards of ribbon on our hats, on our neck ruffles and on our dresses. Sometimes a black ribbon is used in the guise of a stock. There is a stiff bow in the front, with long ends that reach down to the knees. This is an extremely new stock and has the Parisian approval of the moment. When black is not becoming or advisgear worn by the officers of Napoleon's army. In the "modern instance" the hat is of taupe hemp straw, with heron feathers. To say that it is a Georgette model stamps it as the last word of fashion.

Millinery gets more and more festive, and some of the hats are perfect flower gardens. All the flowerettes that one could gather on a country walk

HOW TO CARE FOR WOOD FLOORS.

A HOUSEKEEPER who is noted for her neatness says that a wood floor is as much care as a baby. This is no doubt true, and yet a little attention given systematically to the floor each day is productive of splendid results. A flannel bag made to slip over the bristles of the broom makes an excellent and convenient polisher. The wood floor should be swept each morning with this flannel covered broom, and twice a week it should be carefully oiled. If the floor is of hard wood use linseed oil, while if it is stained or painted the inexpensive crude oil will answer just as well. It should be rubbed upon the floor with cheesecloth rather than flannel to avoid the lint scattering over the floor. Deep stained or varnished floors should be wiped lightly and frequently with a solution of milk and water.

A USEFUL BRACKET.

It is often difficult in a small room to know how to dispose of soiled linen. A basket is expensive, often in the way and is not ornamental, while a bag swinging on the door is unsightly. Both outlay and unsightliness may be avoided by procuring a cheap corner bracket with a shelf, enameling it and fixing it from thirty inches to thirty-six inches from the floor.

Next make a clothes bag, the bottom being stiffened out by means of a three cornered piece of cardboard. Into the upper hem run a piece of stout wire, bending it so as to fit into the corner of the wall to keep the bag open. Screw a hook under each corner of the bracket and sew a loop of tape at each corner of the bag to hang it by, allowing space between the top of the bag and the shelf to drop in the linen easily.

WHEN MEASURING MEDICINE.

When drops have to be measured out of a medicine bottle cut a small notch at the edge of the cork just big enough for one drop to come through at a time.

This answers the same purpose as a lip. The cork should be pushed well in when not in use to keep in the strength of the contents of the bottle.

GIFT FOR THE TRAVELER.

A useful gift for the traveler is a cushion covered with heavy crash and decorated with raffia in a simple design. This pillow is made from eighteen to twenty inches long, and sixteen to eighteen inches in width will be a desirable size. Diamonds, squares or any other geometrical design should be worked on both sides, using strands of raffia in harmonizing shades. The bottom of the pillow may be finished with a fringe of the raffia and the top fitted with handles made from the raffia braided into strands. This is for convenience when carrying the pillow from place to place.

the Parisiennes, we can range up to it, but that is another story.

My advice is for a fallow woman to let green costumes severely alone, but the rosy cheeked blond with pink cheeks looks her best in the livery of spring.

In foulard and voile green is a delightful color scheme to select, and these materials breathe the perfume of simplicity to the uninitiated. Alas, how deceptive are outward appearances! The truth is we have complicated everything nowadays, dress included. Our smart foulard gowns, beflowered and fanciful, are veiled in a mist of mousseline de soie, which enhances their charm and their price, for we have two dresses to buy instead of one. But foulard lends itself to simple effects delightfully, and altogether it is one of the most serviceable gowns a woman can own for summer wear. It is cool; it does not crease; it can be worn by young and old. What more would you have, readers mine?

To continue the story of foulard, its suppleness allows for all the new modes of trimming. It can be fashioned into quilling, frilling, ruffles and flounces, all of which are indispensable adornments for our sheath-like skirts. We have forgotten the ways of the stiff old foulard. These we wear now have the suppleness of satin, and they are belowered or show dots in all sizes and checks colors, which latter designs in black and white make up into smart "tailored frocks," enlivened by a touch of the chanticleer red.

fact, they make the most original and inexpensive of trappings. One of the gowns illustrated is of natural colored tussore with a Persian border, which is used for the trimming scheme.

There is a tendency to discard the plaited skirts and to do away with all but the back and side plaits, and very lovely are the Greek tunics of silk muslin with kimono tops, which veil some of the short satin frocks. Tall, slim women are affecting the three-quarter proportions are content with merely two flounces. In thin materials quilted headings are used to finish these bordered gowns, with rosettes of the silk, satin or whatever the trimming used to trim the side or fronts. These rosettes illustrate the passion ble to use about the neck of a frock the new Egyptian blues, which savor of metallic green, are much in favor, and a bright chanticleer or cherry red has captured Paris. For the nonce it is seen in straw hats or the broad ribbons worn under the chiffon veiling blouse. But to speak of hats, the Napoleon chapeau is having things all its own way this season, and a 1910 hat that has its inception from the French period at the time of "The Little Corsair" is reproduced in the shape pictured. It is an exact copy of the head-display of a few facial lines to do them. Indeed, never was dress more luxurious and more seductive. The only crucial point is, What are women to do to whom money is a consideration? It is not only dress itself, but all the accessories it is made up of that run away with money. But if a woman has the instinct of dress in her composition the sartorial situation is robbed of much of its seriousness.

WHY MEN ARE AFRAID TO MARRY

THIS problem is soon solved. It is because women of the present day are too extravagant, and the reason of this is that so many girls are never brought into contact with the experiences of home life.

If mothers would teach their daughters how to be economical wives and allow them to take their part in the household duties and teach them how to cook and go through household accounts much unhappiness might be prevented.

For instance, a girl leaves her home, where she has been accustomed to every luxury and comfort, and marries a man in receipt of a small income and expects to live in the same style as before, forgetting that her husband's income will not allow it.

In many cases the husband lunches out and the wife might prepare a dainty little meal that he could take with him, which would be a great saving.

The wife, too, if she is clever with her needle, can make a number of pretty things to wear, so that she can look her best at all times. It is a great mistake for a woman to think that because she has married she need not trouble about her personal appearance any longer.

She should recognize that if her petty troubles of home life are serious how much more serious are her husband's business worries and anxieties, and she should endeavor to brighten his life with her love and womanly sympathy.

It is possible for a young couple to be happy though poor when each tries to make the home a place of cheerfulness, but the great trouble now is that young people want to begin where their parents left off.

A PRETTY WEDDING GIFT.

Are You Taking Care of Baby's Skin?

A PHYSICIAN who makes the care of children a special study has remarked that "there is nothing of more importance to the well being of a child than the care which is bestowed on their skins." There can be no doubt that from the very earliest start of an infant's life the mother ought to pay particular attention to the condition of her child's skin so that it may not become irritated, for irritation of any sort is a great source of discomfort. One of the most usual causes of this irritation is lack of absolute cleanliness, which is perhaps quite a different matter from what is ordinarily regarded as cleanliness. The skin of children is peculiarly sensitive, especially that of very young ones, and should be washed with the softest water obtainable and with good, pure soap.

Water for a baby's bath can be softened by putting into it a handful of coarse oatmeal, but it is an inconvenient way of using it, and it is much better to put the meal into small muslin bags. Boiling water is poured over them and allowed to stand until almost cool; then the bag is squeezed and the liquid added to the regular bath water.

Ammonia is used for softening the water in baths for older children, but it should be used sparingly, for ammonia will take away too much of the natural grease of the skin and leave it hard and dry. Don't treat the child's skin as a scrubbing board. One extreme is as harmful as the other.

There is a popular belief that when children are not feeling well it is a bad thing to wash them. As a matter of fact, the best thing for a child under such circumstances is to see that the skin is absolutely clean, for dirt even when it is not visible sometimes makes the little ones feel very ill.

Many affections of the skin are due to a disordered stomach, and when this is the case it is useless to do anything to affect the skin primarily. The cause of the trouble must be removed. Children having ringworms must be rigorously kept away from brothers, sisters and other companions. No doubt it is hard on the child to be denied its playmates, but until the disease is cured there is always the danger of one child infecting another. One cause of infection from this disease is the reprehensible habit of children wearing one another's hats. It is a trivial matter, but it is a point on which too much insistence cannot be laid.

The idea of hardening children by exposure of the skin is one which is responsible for not a little suffering and discomfort. Sending children out in the cold with their arms and legs bared in the spring when the weather does not warrant such exposure is very bad. It looks pretty, but a moment's good looks are often the cause of much later loss of beauty.

The practice of letting children's hair grow long is not to be commended for several reasons, but especially on the score of cleanliness. Girls' hair should be kept short until they are ten or eleven years old. There is a general belief that by doing this the hair becomes longer, stronger and thicker, but whether this is so or not is a mooted point. At all events, it can do no harm to the hair of the future woman, and it may do good, while at the same time it insures that cleanliness which, after all, is one of the greatest charms of childhood.

RHUBARB RIVAL OF HALLEY'S COMET

LIKE Halley's comet, the rhubarb season is at hand, and the occasion serves to prove that there are pessimists and alarmists in every walk of life and thought. While one school of astronomers is busy hinting at all kinds of deadly dangers we are to face when our earth passes through the fiery tail of our illustrious visitor, medical men are to be heard lifting up their voices in a similar minor key and uttering the warning that rhubarb, the tart filling for pie, is nothing better than poison. We are told that there can be no possible doubt of the injurious effects of eating rhubarb. The harm is due by the abundance of oxalate of lime in the vegetable—or dare it be called fruit? This is in the form of oxalic crystals, which are hidden away in the center of the bundle of cells that make up the heart of the stalk. If any still doubt let him know that these crystals are known as rapides and, being practically insoluble, set up irritation in the stomach and intestines and finally in the kidneys. Generous consumption of rhubarb easily can be responsible for gravel, gallstones and similar troubles, and the crisper the rhubarb, the more dangerous it is, according to some physicians. Halley's comet, after all, will not have to shoulder the blame of all the troubles that may afflict mankind.

An Adjustable Petticoat.

THIS petticoat with an adjustable flounce is one of the most useful garments a girl can add to her summer outfit. The skirt may be made of silk, and the flounces may be attached by means of a series of buttonholes in the flounce and buttons on the skirt or when the skirt material is not washable glove snappers are excellent for this purpose.

The skirt illustrated is of white silk and the flounce of embroidered chiffon.

THE LATEST HAND PAINTED SLIPPER

HERE is good news for the artistic girl. Let her get out her paint tubes and set to work on painting her slippers to match her summer frocks. The illustration shows a white kid slipper of the latest vogue adorned with painted forget-me-nots. Naturally small blossoms are the best to select for reproduction, but some of the larger flowers might be conventionalized and worked up into good slipper subjects.

Very artistic, too, are the slippers of brocade outlined with dull gold or silver threads. The cloth of steel slippers are equally pretty and may be worn with a gown of almost any color. Black velvet pumps are one of the novelties of the summer for wear with light-colored gowns. By the way, the new pumps have ankle straps which make them much more comfortable than the old models, which kept slipping off. Laced sandals will be used for dress shoes. They are fascinating and have a tendency to decrease the size of the foot because the toes are short.

PENNY SAVINGS BANK FOR WORKING GIRLS

Photograph copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

IN one of the most congested districts of New York city there has recently been established a penny savings bank for working girls. This institution is run in connection with a settlement house which is doing splendid work along semicharity lines. There is great need all over the country for institutions of this sort that encourage saving in a very small way. Lots of girls say: "What's the use thinking about putting away money. It's all we can do to make ends meet." So it is in a number of cases, but it is the exceptional girl who could not save a penny a day from her salary. "Great oaks from little acorns grow." Andrew Carnegie's fabulous wealth was begun from very small savings. Indeed, there is no more important thing for a wage-earning girl to bear in mind than the necessity of putting aside a certain part of her income in view of a possible "rainy day."

It is hard to depend upon charity, but it is harder still when out of work or ill to accept things from relatives or friends. Most girls argue that they will marry. Possibly so, but all don't. Then, again, it is hard to save when there are so many pleasures to be had for the spending of a little money and so many pretty things in the shops to tempt one. Yes, that's true, but don't let the temptation get the better of your judgment. If there is no penny savings bank near your home buy a little savings bank and put all your spare pennies in it, and some day you will find that you have accumulated it, and you can then open a real bank account.

Former Governor's Wife Arraigned

Wife of Ex-Gov. Rollins Arraigned Before U. S. Commissioner

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Catherine Rollins, the wife of Frank W. Rollins, former governor of New Hampshire and a Boston banker, appeared with her lawyer before U. S. Commissioner Shields in the federal building today to answer to a charge made by Customs Inspector Matthew P. Cassidy, charging her with entering into a conspiracy with her husband and son, Douglas, to smuggle wearing apparel, jewelry and trinkets on the Cunarder Lusitania yesterday on her arrival here. Commissioner Shields fixed bail at $2,000 and bond was immediately offered and accepted.

Ex-Governor Rollins and his twenty-five-year-old son Douglas were arrested yesterday at the pier and released in $2,000 bail each for appearance next Friday, at which time Mrs. Rollins will also appear.

Mrs. Rollins broke down yesterday when her husband and son were taken into custody and she was not brought before Commissioner Shields for arraignment at that time.

"The Rollins family returned from England yesterday on the Lusitania and customs men say their declaration was only one dutiable article, a fur jacket valued at $800. The customs officers searched Mr. Rollins, his wife and son and say they found jewelry worth several hundred dollars on them. Six of the nine trunks belonging to the Rollins family awaited examination at the customs stores today.

George W. Wanamaker, appraiser, said that these trunks would not be examined before Monday at the earliest.

"At the present time," he said, "I have no official cognizance of the attempted smuggling and I am not aware officially that I have any trunks to examine. When an order comes from the customs house for the examination and appraisal of matter contained in the trunks, I shall proceed forthwith. Of course, results of the search will be made known by me to the proper authorities in a confidential report."

Former Gov. Rollins gave out the following statement this afternoon:

"The newspapers in the last twenty-four hours have contained statements in regard to my landing from the Lusitania on the 13th which are highly colored and give a wrong impression. My natural impulse is to publish a statement correcting the misconception but I do not deem it wise or advisable at this time to make any statement through the papers. At the proper time I expect to make a statement which will put the matter in a different light."

OLDEST PRINTER

C. M. Langley is 83 Years Old

Lowell's oldest printer, C. M. Langley, was 83 years old yesterday. During the day he busied himself at his place of business in the basement of Wyman's Exchange and in the evening there was a little gathering at his home, 94 Fremont street. Among those who called to offer congratulations was C. Oliver Barnes of the J. C. Ayer company. Mr. Barnes is one of the old-time printers and a great admirer of the dean of the "art preservative of art" in Lowell, Mr. Langley. Mr. Langley is still a printer and he also makes rubber stamps and, of course, is along the same line. He was as busy as a natter when the writer dropped in upon him this afternoon and when asked as to his health he replied that he was feeling "tip top." He is a wonderful man for his years and he bids fair to make the century run.

PEARY'S DOGS DEAD

PORTLAND, Me., May 14.—The comparatively tropical climate of Maine has proved fatal to the Eskimo dogs which Commander Peary brought with him from his successful trip to the North pole. Twelve of the fourteen Arctic animals have succumbed to some form of distemper at Flag Island, where they have been kept near the explorer's summer home on Eagle Island, Casco bay.

BOSTON & MAINE Y. M. C. A.

PORTLAND, Me., May 14.—Charles Clark of Concord, N. H., was chosen president at the closing of the annual convention of the Y. M. C. A. of the Boston & Maine system. H. R. Bolden of Troy, N. Y., was elected secretary and F. C. Brown of East Deerfield, Mass., treasurer.

THOMAS GOODALE, BURIED

SANFORD, Me., May 14.—The entire town of Sanford ceased activities today to pay tribute to the memory of Thomas Goodale, the pioneer blanket robe manufacturer, during the funeral services in the town hall. The Goodale mills and other places of business were closed during the whole day and other places of business were closed for ten hours. Even the postoffice by sanction of the post office department at Washington was closed during the services. Nearly three thousand persons viewed the body as it lay in state in front of the stage, surrounded by a great mass of flowers and guarded by the constabulary. Rev. J. J. Prescott, pastor of the local Unitarian church, conducted the services. Burial was in Oakdale cemetery.

QUEEN'S ACCOUCHMENT

MADRID, May 14.—It was learned today that the accouchment of Queen Victoria is expected within a month.

MILK PRODUCERS

To Get Aid From N. Y. Grange

BOSTON, May 14.—The Massachusetts milk producers who are fighting for the maintenance of the winter rates were encouraged today by receiving pledges of support from the New York state grange. A circular to the subordinate organizations in New York calling attention to the strike and asking that farmers in the Empire state withhold their milk from the Boston market has been sent out by F. M. Godfrey, the master of the state grange and a copy sent to C. M. Gardner of the Massachusetts grange. The strike has been in progress two weeks and neither side shows any disposition of yielding. The legislative investigation will probably be finished by the last of next week.

JUDGE HOLT

DISMISSED WRIT OF HABEAS

NEW YORK, May 14.—Judge Holt in an opinion filed today in the United States circuit court dismissed the writ of habeas corpus sued out in behalf of Frank Hoffstet, president of the Pressed Steel Car Co. whose extradition to Pittsburg, Pa., was ordered by Governor Hughes. In case Hoffstet desired to appeal Judge Holt says a stay will be granted as the question involved in the case in his opinion is doubtful. Mr. Hoffstet is charged with conspiracy to bribe certain Pittsburg municipal officers.

The writ of habeas corpus was sued out to test the legality of the detention of Hoffstet who is held under Governor Hughes' warrant directing his surrender to the authorities of Pennsylvania as a fugitive from justice.

FUNERALS

BUYANOWSKI.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Yuzziola Buyanowski took place this morning from her home, 2 Charles place, off South street. At 8 o'clock high mass of requiem was sung at the Lithuanian church. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott.

STRUCK ON HEAD

Man Was Killed While Shoveling Coal

CALAIS, Me., May 14.—By being struck on the head by a heavy hook attached to a fall which slipped from a staging, Seymour Thelmont, 35, of St. George, was killed today while shoveling coal in the hold of the schooner W. B. Herlick.

TREATY WITH CANADA

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The United States government has already taken steps looking to the negotiation of a treaty with Canada. It was officially announced today that last Thursday the secretary of state sent a communication to the British ambassador here transmitting to the Canadian government the formal proposal of the United States that tariff negotiations between the two countries be initiated at the earliest time convenient and agreeable to the Dominion government. The state department officials have no doubt that Canada will accept the proposal of this government but on what lines the negotiations will proceed and as far as this government is concerned, has not been determined.

AERONAUTS RECOVERING

GLASGOW, Ky., May 14.—A. Holland Forbes and J. C. Yates, the aeronauts who narrowly escaped death in the fall of their balloon last Tuesday, have recovered sufficiently of their undertaking the trip to New York. They will leave Centre Sunday afternoon and will probably remain overnight at Louisville.

BIG TRACK MEET

NEW HAVEN, May 14.—Athletes from thirteen preparatory schools have gathered here today to participate in the interscholastic track meet which Yale has sponsored for eight years. Strong teams have been sent by both Phillips-Andover and Phillips-Exeter academies and they meet some classy youngsters carrying the colors of the Worcester academy, Mercesburg and Lawrenceville schools.

BELGIAN MINISTER INJURED

BRUSSELS, May 14.—J. Liebart, Belgian minister of finance, was knocked down in the street by an automobile and severely injured today.

PEARY IN ROME

ROME, May 14.—Commander Peary and his family arrived here today. They were met in the railroad station by the president of the Royal Geographical society, which body the explorer is expected to address.

JAPAN-BRITISH EXPOSITION

LONDON, May 14.—The Japan-British exposition at the White City, Shepherd's bush, London, was opened to the public today. Owing to the national mourning the ceremony planned for the first day was omitted.

Although called the Japan-British, this year's exhibition depends for its success almost entirely upon the efforts of the Japanese government and the big commercial companies of Japan. It is said nothing like the Japanese collections have heretofore been seen outside the emperor's kingdom. Belle Grove opens tonight.

GLIDDEN TOUR

Date Has Been Changed to June 14

CHICAGO, Ill., May 14.—Following the arrival of the official 1910 Glidden tour pathfinding car here yesterday morning, a conference was held between Samuel M. Butler, chairman of the American Automobile Association contest board; David Beecraft, a member of the board; D. H. Lewis, the association scout, and E. L. Ferguson, business manager of the tour, who covered the route taken by Lewis from Cincinnati to Dallas and Chicago.

Mr. Butler who came from New York to greet the pathfinders on their arrival, was much pleased by the final reports made by Lewis and Ferguson. The stops and time were determined upon, and Mr. Butler characterizes the entire tour as the most promising ever conducted.

The route is 2550 miles and over roads superior to those encountered in any previous contest. The date tentatively set for the start, June 15, was changed to June 14, because of an extra day's running between Dallas and Oklahoma City, which was not reckoned with in framing the pathfinding schedule.

The tour will include Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, Little Rock, Fort Worth, Wichita, Omaha, Des Moines and Davenport.

The Sunday stops will be made at Hot Springs and Kansas City. Thirteen states will be visited.

Mr. Butler, after attending a banquet given by the Chicago Motor Club in honor of the Pathfinders' return, left for Indianapolis and Detroit to confer with the manufacturers of Indiana and Michigan regarding the tour.

The Chalmers, with the motor and the three other members of the trail-blazing crew, arrived this noon, accompanied by a procession of cars from the Chicago Motor Club, which met the travelers at Geneva. The pathfinding car had been thirty days on the road and came through in good condition. It was driven the entire distance by Joe Gardham of Detroit.

WHITE RANCHERS

In Fear of Raid by Indians

TAOS, N. M., May 14.—Ranchmen throughout this section spent a sleepless night keeping vigil against a possible organized raid by Pueblo Indians from the reservation north of here, but at daylight no word of any further movement on the part of the braves had reached this town. Following the raids of yesterday and the day before in which the ranch of L. S. Myers was destroyed, and it is reported the female members of the family attacked and armed and gathered in groups for better protection.

Troops from Santa Fe and other points, ordered yesterday, were due to arrive this morning, but in the meantime a general massacre was feared as the younger warriors of the San Juan and other tribes were engaged in war dances. None of the older bucks had donned the war bonnet.

Several causes are given as the possible reason for the outbreak. Opposition to census taking and general dissatisfaction with the whites because of encroachments on their rights are generally accepted as the cause of the trouble. The attack upon the Myers ranch was explained by the fact that Myers had fenced a section of land which the Indians claimed.

STOLEN CLOTH

Found in a House in Methuen

LAWRENCE, May 14.—The discovery at a dwelling in Methuen last night of 300 yards of cloth, alleged to have been stolen from the Arlington mills in this city led to the appearance of two men and two women in the local police station today on charges of theft. The persons under arrest are George Yelland, at whose home the cloth was found, Timothy Murphy, Mrs. Sarah Rosenberg and Mrs. Sarah Krommel. Murphy pleaded guilty to the others entered pleas of not guilty and all the cases were continued until Wednesday next. Bail was fixed at $1000 each for Yelland, Murphy and Mrs. Rosenberg and $500 for Mrs. Krommel.

BIG GOLF TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, May 14.—Golfers swarmed over the Fox Hills links today to take part in the handicap and matchplay divisions. The four who had worked their way to the semi-final stage in the chief division appeared to be quite evenly matched. On the upper side were George Baxter of Brooklyn and L. A. Hamilton, who entered from the Englewood Golf club, while in the lower half appeared Spotswood D. Bowers, the Bridgeport veteran who distinguished himself by beating Jerome D. Travers yesterday and W. E. Conklyn of Dunwoody.

There is more than usual interest in the better eight set of the first division because of the presence of Travers, the former national champion from Montclair, N. J., and G. W. White, the Cutter schoolboy who recently won the interscholastic title.

TRIAL POSTPONED

NEWARK, N. J., May 14.—The trial of the three Wardlaw sisters, accused of complicity in the death of Mrs. O'Connell, the East Orange bath tub victim, was postponed until August 29.

BOY WAS KILLED

He Was on Way to Buy Candy

BOSTON, May 14.—An electric runabout owned and operated by Charles P. Cummings of 8 Walnut avenue, No. Cambridge, knocked down and almost instantly killed Constantino Smyrnos, aged 3, of 1 Clark street, North End, in front of 30 Ferdinand street, South End, about 3 yesterday afternoon.

Constantino and his sister Angela, who is about two years his senior, attend the Greek school on Winchester street. At recess yesterday they left the school and were crossing the street to a candy store when the auto came along Ferdinand street from Castle square.

Angela crossed the street safely, but her brother was knocked down by the rear wheels passing over his head, crushing him.

Mr. Cummings is positive that the front of the car did not strike the boy. His theory, which is supported by bystanders, is that the little boy started to run across the street after his sister and that the auto came along before he could stop himself, and that he ran against the mudguard, being thrown in such a way that his head was struck by the rear wheel.

Mr. Cummings hurried to his garage at 52 Church street for medical assistance while the injured boy was carried to the school. Dr. Charles A. Bangs of 519 Boylston street was at the garage and he hurried to the school and tried to alleviate the sufferings of the child. Three of Mr. Cummings' employees hastily equipped a fast four-wheeled car as an ambulance. Little Constantino was placed in the car, but he died before the city hospital was reached.

ONE MAN KILLED

Several Others Injured at 24-Hour Auto Race

BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, N. Y., May 14.—One man killed and another painfully maimed and three more badly bruised was the hospital record for the first ten hours for the 24 hour race held at the Brighton beach motorrome track last night and today. At the end of the 10th hour the Fiat car led with 497 miles to its credit and the Rainier was only one mile behind.

Pessimistic people figured that as the race began on Friday, the 13th of the month, something bad would happen, but Friday and the 13th got away clear. Cars which led ran without a serious mishap until after midnight and as the track was then in excellent condition there seemed ground for hope that the race would be devoid of accident.

Eighteen minutes after midnight the looked for crash came. The Marion car, driven by Hubert Anderson, tore through the fence on the turn of the home stretch and turned turtle. Anderson jumped clear of the wreck but his mechanic, Bill Bradley, was so badly mangled that he died an hour later in the emergency hospital at Coney Island from concussion of the

HARVARD-YALE

Big Track Meet is on Today

CAMBRIDGE, May 14.—Seldom in the long history of the Harvard and Yale track games have the two universities met under such equal conditions as those that prevailed when the lightly clad athletes trooped into the Stadium under the clearest skies this afternoon. Even the close followers of track athletics were unwilling to venture a prediction regarding the outcome of the meet and the expectations of many an exciting contest in strength, ability and fleetness brought into the long rows of spectators' seats several thousand students and other enthusiasts over college sports.

The Yale team arrived last night and the trailers of both organizations declared their men today to be in the proper condition.

Weather conditions were almost perfect and with little wind there was, came from the east, blowing into the bowl of the Stadium and on the backs of the runners in the sprints.

Before the games began, Harvard was conceded to be strong in the short and long distance runs and in a couple of the field events. Yale was thought to have the better chance in the middle distance runs, the weights and the pole vault.

The weather continued to improve during the day from a spectator's viewpoint, for the east wind subsided to a gentle sighing.

As usual the three place winners were allowed five, two and one points respectively, this method having obtained since their inception, nineteen years ago.

TRAGIC DEATH

WAS MET BY A YOUNG AVIATOR

LYONS, France, May 14.—Chauveton Michelin, a young Frenchman, met a tragic death here yesterday while competing in the races of an aviation meeting.

Shortly after leaving the ground in an Antoinette monoplane, Michelin seemed to lose control of the machine, which bumped into a telephone booth and knocked over a derrick, which struck the aviator, fracturing his skull. The horrified spectators rushed the barriers built to keep the crowds from the aviation field and rushed to the spot where the monoplane was lying.

Michelin was still in the seat of the monoplane. He was quickly taken in an ambulance to a hospital, where his skull was trepanned in a vain attempt to have his life. He died shortly after the operation. Michelin was only 23 years old. To an assistant who wished him luck as his machine arose into the air, the young aviator said:

"No more aviation for me after this meeting; I have had enough."

THE RAILROAD BILL

Discussion on It Caused Lively Scene in the Senate

WASHINGTON, May 14.—By a sudden, winding into yesterday of supposedly irreconcilable factions, the senate by a vote of 56 to 10, adopted a compromise amendment to the railroad bill for the regulation of relative charges for the long and short haul.

The agreement was reached chiefly for the reason that each faction apparently thought it was getting the better of a shrewdly driven bargain. There are not wanting senators who suggest that the supreme court may have to arbitrate the question as to which faction's judgment is right.

Before adjournment, Sen. Bacon sought to show that Sen. Aldrich, the leader of the forces in charge of the bill, voted for a provision different from that which he advocated during the long debate on this question. He was affecting to quote from one of the Rhode Island senator's speeches when Sen. Bacon interrupted, remarking that Mr. Bacon was mistaken and was quoting from his (Bacon's) remarks.

Bacon Aroused

"I hope the senator from Texas will not interfere," said Mr. Aldrich, laughingly. "The senator is trying to justify his action in voting with me."

That is the time I usually have to justify my vote," retorted Mr. Bacon.

While upbraiding regular republicans for what he asserted was a change of front, Mr. Bacon was interrupted by Sen. Elkins, whose ruddy face was wreathed in smiles, as he asked "Well, you're happy, aren't you?"

This irritated the Georgia senator, for he retorted rather sharply that it took "a very little thing to make people happy."

"Maybe the senator will find that it is a big thing," said Sen. Elkins, bearing across the chamber. Significant glances passed between senators and persons on the floor and in the galleries began to suspect the compromise amendment that had just been adopted meant something different than appeared on its face.

As adopted, the new provision strikes

Smoot of Utah, both of them ardent supporters of a long and short-haul provision which would prevent discrimination against the intermountain country, received overtures from the regular republicans, who offered a compromise in the form of a portion of the original Dixon amendment, and a proviso taken from an amendment offered by Senator Paynter of Kentucky.

Pluturing the political effect of a humiliating defeat through the adoption of an exclusively democratic amendment that put the whole question on a mileage basis, the "regular" republicans encountered little difficulty in bringing a large majority of the senate to their way of thinking. The compromise, which finally was adopted, was put in the hands of Senator Smoot and in turn presented to Senator Dixon, who offered it as a modification of his own amendment, just prior to the hour of 1 o'clock.

By the clumsy handling of scissors and paste brush, the composite compromise was sent to the clerk's desk in a form far different from that intended by its authors. As the clerk began to read Sen. Aldrich hurried to the desk of Sen. Dixon and a whispered conversation ensued. Mr. Dixon clamored for recognition.

"I move that the senate recess," shouted Dixon, "until 4.30 o'clock."

He appeared greatly excited. The demand for a recess was met with cries of "No, No." But on a vote a large majority sustained the demand. Then ensued a scene of great confusion, such as rarely takes place in the senate. Some declare it to have been unprecedented in recent years. Obviously few persons realized what was going on. On every side there were cries that the unanimous consent agreement had been violated. Evidently the insurgent republicans did not know what was happening and Sen. Bristow, who had been in the cloak room, burst into the chamber with a bundle of papers in his arms, which he threw upon the floor with every indication of anger.

Sen. Cummins hastened to Mr. Dixon's seat and Mr. LaFollette followed. The conversation which had taken place between Messrs. Dixon and Aldrich aroused suspicion on every side and a number of senators, without knowing what the next step was to be, loudly charged that they were being betrayed.

Mr. Dixon ran from seat to seat, claiming "they had brought the regular into camp" and that the coalition of republicans and democratic supporters of the long and short haul clause would bring a victory greater than they had anticipated.

After a few moments of personal explanation by the few senators who were "in the secret," of the proceedings, there was a perceptible cooling off, and a number of leaders, representing all factions, went to work to shake up a compromise.

Mr. Smoot took the Dixon-Paynter compromise and set to work to whip it into shape. Around him crowded Messrs. Dixon, Aldrich, Elkins, Bacon, Crawford, Bristow, Raynor, Gore and others, all of whom took part in the rapid interchange of comment. Other senators hung about the outskirts of the group. All elements were represented in this shifting crowd. When 4.30 came the work was still incomplete. Mr. Dixon demanded another recess until 5; but protests were made by so many senators, that he obtained it only after a roll call which consumed nearly 10 minutes of the precious half hour. The general conference of the recess hour resulted in the restoration of the words of the Dixon amendment which he had agreed to eliminate. They provided that in making exceptions under the long and short haul clause, the interstate commerce commission shall satisfy itself that all the rates involved are just and reasonable, and not unduly discriminatory, nor unduly preferential or prejudicial. With the exception of these words, the provision is identical with that introduced by Sen. Paynter of Kentucky.

BOARD OF TRADE

Committee on Street Improvement

The board of trade committee on new streets met yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock in the rooms of the Old Lowell National bank and discussed a number of important matters, including new streets, plans for the Andover street district and other improvements.

A few days ago the committee invited land owners of lower Andover street district to meet with it and discuss the committee's plan for making a street development. The tract of land lying between Wentworth avenue and the city line, as well as that land between the river and Andover street, make up the special district which was under consideration.

Charles I. Hood, together with Robert G. Bartlett, are the owners of the largest portion of land in the vicinity, and they sent George H. Taylor to represent them at yesterday's meeting. Albert E. O'Heir was present, and J. Harry Boardman represented Frank J. Lutz.

A long discussion was held over the proper layout of streets in the vicinity and Mr. Taylor assured the committee that the land he represented could very easily be accommodated to the committee's ideas. He said that Messrs. Hood and Bartlett would be willing to adopt the methods proposed and would be glad to enter into any agreement which would enable the land to be laid out to streets without reference to land owners and then have the land owners come to agreement among themselves as to a fair disposition of the spots where the owners suffered to the advantage of another.

At present there are no buildings to be considered and only a few land owners and the district could be laid out admirably.

The question of the need of topographical surveys in order that the streets might be laid out in an intelligent manner was brought up and Mr. C. E. Engineer Bowers, who is a member of the special committee, said that the funds of his department are too low to admit of such work being undertaken by the city. He said that the undulating country made a topographical survey almost necessary before proper street layouts could be made. The survey could best be made in the summer months when a force of students from the technical schools could be obtained at student prices to do the work. Mr. Bowers said that it would cost $500 or $700 to do the work in this district. He said it would be well worth while and his ideas were seconded by Supt. of Streets Newell P. Putnam, who is a member of the committee.

The committee has found that the men in the vicinity have no objection to the line of work which the committee has laid out for itself and that the results will therefore be easily obtainable if all the land owners will act as a unit.

The matter of widening Rogers street was not taken up, it being decided to allow it to go over until another meeting.

Engineer Bowers showed a plan of the streets for a city in the northwest which had been prepared by a force of experts. It was full of winding, curving and diagonal streets, and provided slanting streets for all grades that would otherwise be too steep. He considered the plan an admirable one. Such a plan can be adopted in the new lands about Lowell and for this purpose the committee has started the work. Thoroughfares are to be urged through all the new territory which shall lead across to the main objective points from the points nearest the city proper.

DAY NURSERY FAIR POLICE CALLED HELD IN $1000

Large Attendance at Prescott Hall To Stop Wrestling Bout Men Are Accused of Being Pickpockets

Large attendances marked the second day of the May Festival in aid of the Day Nursery, which is being held in Prescott hall and which will come to a close tonight. Yesterday afternoon hundreds of people were present, while in the evening the hall was packed to its capacity. Owing to the fact that the proceeds of the fair are devoted to a very worthy cause, the booths and sales tables have been well patronized.

The afternoon was devoted to bridge, the prizes being motor bonnets, a hydrangea and rubber plant and a brass bookrack for the ladies; and for the juvenile winners there was a tennis racket, a fishing rod, and two tennis covers. Mrs. Thomas Stout won first prize, Mrs. Hurd second, Mrs. P. L. Batchelder third, Mrs. Frederick A. Blather fourth, and Mrs. C. E. Hoxis fifth.

The managers of the whist express their sincere gratitude to the following people who contributed the prizes: Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. Rose Jordan, Hartford, Mrs. May Dunlop Leighton, Morse & Beals, and McManmon.

In the evening the opera, "Cupid's Garden," was repeated with the same cast as on the first night.

This afternoon there was a matinee with a Punch and Judy show as a special attraction for the children, and also fancy dancing by the pupils of Miss Perrin, and general dancing for the young people. The supper menu, from 5 to 8, is as follows: Baked beans and brown bread, cold ham, chicken, potatoes, chicken salad, ice cream, frozen pudding, tea and coffee.

The fair committee is very grateful to Mr. Daniel Carroll for general assistance rendered before and during the fair.

GREAT INCREASE

The monthly statement of exports of breadstuffs, meats, food animals, cotton and mineral oils, issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, shows a total for the month of April, 1910, of 46.5 million dollars, against 53 million in April of last year; and for the 10 months ending with April, 1910, 700 million dollars, against 741 million in the corresponding months of last year. Wheat responds a material increase in the movements, but a decline in the total for the 10 months, being 2,650,475 bushels in April, 1910, against 5,029,229 bushels in April, 1909; but for the 10 months ending with April, 1910, the total is but 41,522,264 bushels, against 62,481,940 bushels in the corresponding months of last year. The export price of wheat averages more than 1 dollar per bushel in the 10 months ending with April, 1910, the 41,522,264 bushels exported being valued at $42,870,090. Corn exports are for the 10 months ending with April, 1910, 30 3-4 million bushels, against 33 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year; the corresponding months of last year, about 8 million barrels against 9 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year; meat and dairy products 33 1-2 million dollars in the 10 months of 1910, against 123 million in the corresponding months of last year. Eggs, hogs and sheep 11 1-2 million dollar value in the 10 months ending with April, 1910, against 15 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year; and mineral oils 75 1-3 million dollars in value, against 85 1-4 million in the corresponding months of last year. Cotton is the only article in the list which shows an increased value in exports during the 10 months of 1910, and this is entirely due to the higher prices, since the quantity exported in the 10 months ending with April of the present year is but 2,590,885,538 pounds, against 4,066,361,400 pounds in the same months of last year. The value, however, being in 1910, $406,793,204, against $377,410,452 in the corresponding months of last year. The average value of the cotton exported per pound in April, 1910, is 14.4 cents, and in April, 1909, 14.1 cents per pound, against 9.3 cents per pound in the corresponding months of last year.

LOWELL COOPERATIVE BANK

The annual meeting of the Lowell Cooperative bank was held last night in the rooms in the Central block. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Artemas B. Woodworth; first vice president, Stephen R. Kitchen; second vice president, William P. Brown; directors for three years, Edwin S. Bickford, Warren F. Sanborn, John O. Gullins, James Munkland and Frank E. Bramhall; auditors, Lucius F. Paulin, Herbert L. Bishop and Samuel A. Greenhead; secretary, William D. Brown; attorney, Stanley E. Quin.

The financial report which was submitted showed that the amount of cash credited to the bank at the present time is $520,849.42; assets, $728,746.88; liabilities, $228,746.88; total number of shares, 18,843; number of members, 1077; borrowers, 432; non-borrowers, 1378; real estate loans, 442; amount of same, $657,050; share loans, 103; amount of same, $36,395.

The growth of the assets of the bank for the past 20 years is as follows: 1890, $151,167.30; 1895, $220,820.41; 1900, $320,610.22; 1905, $454,542.61; 1910, $728,746.88. About $20,000 was loaned last night at good rates of interest.

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 14.—

Owing to the roughness of the bout between John Percoll and William Demetrate in a wrestling match at the Queen City A. C. last night the police were obliged to interfere after the principals had struggled about the ring for twenty-five minutes without either one gaining a fall. Percoll and Demetrate squared off at each other, and were engaging in a back-swing fight when the police stopped the bout. Much excitement prevailed and it appeared for a few moments that a riot would ensue.

In preliminaries, Lucien Landry defeated William Berry, both of Manchester, in a wrestling match at the Queen City A. C. last night. Landry threw Berry three times in 31 minutes and 53 seconds. Landry agreed to throw Berry three times in one hour.

John Kilonis failed to win his bout with Fred Chenevix of Manchester, his agreement being to throw Chenevix twice within an hour. He won the first fall from Chenevix in 41 minutes and 50 seconds but failed to throw him twice in the required period.

WHITE RANCHERS

In Danger of Being Massacred

EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., May 14.—An uprising of serious proportions has broken out among the Pueblo Indians at Taos, seventy miles northwest, and troops are hurrying by special train from Santa Fe to check a possible massacre of white ranchers. The Indians have cut all telephone and telegraph wires from Taos, but reports indicate that the depredations have been confined to an attack on the wife and children of L. L. Myers, a homesteader, the cutting of fences and the theft of horses and cattle.

Further attacks are feared by ranchers, and yesterday Judge J. R. McPhee, conducting court at Taos, made an urgent demand for troops upon Governor Mills. He declared a massacre was imminent.

The uprising of the Indians, who for years have been peaceful, is believed to have been caused by the punishment of Pueblos by territorial officers.

During the year 104 applications were made to the board for intervention. Three of the controversies submitted were settled by agreement, two were abandoned and 15 were still under consideration at the end of the year. The remaining 84 controversies were determined in 83 decisions by the board, all of which have been accepted by both parties.

The report is taken up with the 33 decisions of the board. The board is composed of William Howard chairman, Richard P. Barry and Harry P. Morse.

Was Defeated in Lower Branch of the Legislature

BOSTON, May 14.—The senate yesterday, by a roll call, 8 to 24, refused to postpone the motion to reconsider the vote whereby the senate on Thursday refused to adopt the Riley resolutions for a convention for a constitutional amendment to permit the election of U. S. senators by popular vote.

This action was taken after Senator Malley of Springfield had moved a postponement, saying that he did so because Senator Farley of Irving, chairman of the committee on federal relations, was absent and he would like to debate the matter.

Senator Willmot R. Evans of Everett said he thought no agreement would be broken if the senate should act on the motion made by Senator Mahoney of Holyoke Thursday to reconsider the rejection of the resolve now. He did not believe that the senate would change its attitude. By a roll call, 6 to 24, the senate refused to postpone reconsideration. Those who voted for Senator Malley's motion were: Harvey, Mahoney, Malley, Nason, O'Connor, Telling—6.

On the motion to reconsider the vote was:

Yes—Bunting, Butler, Mahoney, Malley, Meany, Nason, O'Connor, Telling—24.

No—Bennett, Blanchard, Bray, Burnham, Crosby, Denny, Evans, Greenwood, Harvey, Hibbard, Keith, Mellen, Mulligan, Nash, Newhall, Parlor, Pickford, Rankin, Rockwood, Tinkham, Tolman, Turner, Tuttle, White—24.

Not voting—Doyle Lomasney, Farley, Ross, Treadway (president).

Senator Spalding's Salary

A resolve was introduced by Senator Blanchard of Somerville to pay the father of the late Senator Thorne Spalding of Cambridge the salary and mileage to which the senator would have been entitled had he lived to the close of the session.

On motion of Senator Tuttle of Pittsfield an order was adopted to print 300 copies of a Berkshire bill for the use of the committee on railroads and street railways sitting jointly.

In the house yesterday morning the committee on ways and means reported a bill to pass on the bill to establish a bureau of land and to provide for the purchase of land by the commonwealth, and ought not to pass also on the bill relative to the taxation of property of a resident decedent not in the commonwealth at the time of his death.

The resolve concerning the railroad commission to bring about the speedy abolition of the Sullivan square grade crossing in Charlestown was ordered on a rising vote, to a third reading, 69 to 23.

The bill requiring the state board of education to assist teachers in securing positions was passed to be engrossed without debate, as was the bill making an appropriation of $55,000 for the New Bedford textile school.

The Tinkham peaceful picketing bill was rejected on a rising vote, 29 to 32, without debate, and a roll call was refused. Mr. Riley gave notice of a motion to reconsider on Monday.

The "lights on vehicles" bill was rejected without debate, 25 to 49.

On motion of Mr. Cavanagh of Everett the house reconsidered yesterday's rejection of the bill providing for an excise tax on express companies, and further consideration was postponed until Tuesday.

Without debate, the house passed to be engrossed the bill to regulate the issue of restraining orders and injunctions, and ordered to a third reading the bill providing that the hours of labor of street railway employees shall not exceed nine per day, and that they shall be performed within 11 consecutive hours.

"JIM" JEFFRIES HALLEY'S COMET

To be Assisted in Training by Brother

BEN LOMOND, Cal., May 14.—Jim Jeffries has been urged on in his training by his brother Jack who arrived here recently and who is expected to furnish the big fighter grueling ring work during the remainder of Jim's training. It has been many years since Jack has donned the mitts for a scrap in the arena but he is in fair shape and says he is now prepared to go up against Jim in light bouts and from now on the brothers are expected to box together regularly. For the last two years Jack has been in Mexico and has not seen his brother since leaving the states.

"I have studied Jim closely since I have been here," said Jack last night. "From every viewpoint I honestly believe Jim is going to be better in this fight with Johnson than he ever was. I think Johnson is going to be a snap for him."

Just before leaving last evening for San Francisco, San Diego, in discussing the referee question, Jim intimated that the situation seemed so tangled that an eastern man would probably have to be selected.

Impressive Ceremony at Sacred Heart Church This Morning

With impressive ceremonies and in the presence of a congregation that filled the pretty church of the Sacred Heart, four young members of the Oblate order, three of whom are Lowell boys, were ordained to the priesthood by Most Rev. Archbishop Lomeny, O. M. I., D. D., titular archbishop of Ptolemais and superior general of the Oblate order.

The ceremony was of more than usual importance to the members of the order on account of the identity of the distinguished prelate who officiated at the ceremony. Prior to the ordination, which took place at a low mass, the following orders were given: Sub-deacon, Bro. Anthony Sweeney, O. M. I.; Bro. Robert McCoy, O. M. I.; Bro. Herbert Blissett, O. M. I.; and Bro. Daniel McCullough, O. M. I.

The order of Benediction conferred on Rev. Daniel Barry, O. M. I., resident of St. Patrick's parish in this city. The ordination followed the minor orders, the four young priests kneeling on prie dieus before the main altar at the low mass.

Yesterday 12 Oblate brothers received orders preparatory to ordination, the deaconate being bestowed on the four young men who were ordained this morning. Prior to the ordination, which took place at a low mass, the following orders were given: Sub-deacon, Bro. Anthony Sweeney, O. M. I.; Bro. Robert McCoy, O. M. I.; Bro. Herbert Blissett, O. M. I.; and Bro. Daniel McCullough, O. M. I.

The order of Benediction conferred on Rev. Daniel Barry, O. M. I., resident of St. Patrick's parish in this city. The ordination followed the minor orders, the four young priests kneeling on prie dieus before the main altar at the low mass.

Assisting within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial; Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I.; Rev. Fr. Barrett, O. M. I.; Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. I.; Rev. Edmund J. Cornely, O. M. I.; Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I.; of Green Bay, Wis.; Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I.; Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I.; Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I.; Rev. Julian Racette, O. M. I.; Rev. Fr. Berneche, O. M. I.; Rev. Leon Lamotha, O. M. I.; Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I.; Rev. Fr. Harte, O. M. I.; Rev. Charles Denzot, O. M. I.; Rev. Edward Strauss, O. M. I.; and 23 brothers from the Tewksbury novitiate. There were also present the Sisters of Mary of the Sacred Heart school and Sisters of Charity from St. John's hospital.

Four young priests ordained were Rev. John J. Roche, O. M. I., Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., Rev. Edward J. Chaput, O. M. I., and Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., of Buffalo, N. Y.

The service lasted over two hours and concluded with the pontifical blessing upon all present. At the conclusion of the service the parents and relatives of the young priests, who occupied reserved seats near the altar, were invited into the sanctuary to receive the blessing of the newly ordained clergyman. It was intended to have the meeting for the relatives only but nearly all of the congregation fled in and knelt before the young men.

Tomorrow will be a memorable day at the Sacred Heart church for at 10:20 o'clock Rev. Fr. Wood will celebrate his first mass and he will be assisted by Rev. Fr. Roche, O. M. I. Rev. Edward J. Chaput will occupy a throne within the sanctuary and the sermon will be preached by Rev. W. J. Kerwin, O. M. I., formerly of this city but now superior of Holy Angels' college at Buffalo, N. Y. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Mahoney, will repeat the Eucharistic prayer and at the offertory Mrs. Muldon will sing the "Jesu-

Confirmation at St. Joseph's

At St. Joseph's church at 3:30 yesterday afternoon Archbishop Lomeny administered confirmation to a class of 150 girls and 123 boys. Prior to the service the girls were tendered a reception by the children of St. Joseph's school and college an account of which appeared in The Sun last evening.

The archbishop was assisted in administering the sacrament by Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., superior of the parish, and Rev. Fr. Barry, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church; Rev. Fr. Ouellette, O. M. I., spiritual director of the boys, and Rev. Fr. Gratton, O. M. I., spiritual director of the girls, were masters of ceremonies.

For the ceremony Mrs. Denton will speak to the children on the significance of the sacrament they were about to receive.

A choir of school children sang appropriate hymns during the ceremony, with Joseph A. Bernard at the organ. The children being confirmed also sang downstairs, from their seats, in unison with the choir above. The effect was deeply impressive.

Acting as sponsors to the children receiving the sacrament were Mrs. Euchariste Champagne, president of St. Anne's sodality, and Mr. Lavordiere, president of the Holy Family sodality. Attending the service was a congregation that completely filled the church.

Gilmore's, Belle Grove, tonight.

A PISTOL BATTLE

Two Persons Are Dead and Two Others Injured

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 14.—The hand which held the club. Ammons then drew his gun and fired six shots, today as a result of a pistol battle between the police and a saloon keeper shortly before midnight last night. The fight followed the efforts of Officer Ammons to close Danson's saloon, which was open after lawful hours. After some heated words Patrolman Ammons proceeded to club Dan Danson when the latter's son Harry opened fire on the officer shattering against him.

SUGAR SCANDAL CASES

Misfortune Seems to be Pursuing Witnesses in Them

NEW YORK, May 14.—Misfortune seems to be pursuing witnesses in the sugar scandal cases. Recently Richard Parr, star witness in preceding trials and expected to figure prominently in the trial of Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Refining Co., was threatened with perjury and it is still uncertain whether he can appear at the trial next week. Today it was learned that Otto Schmeiter, one of the American Sugar Refining Co.'s bookkeepers, a man upon whose testimony the government's legal lights depend even more largely in the Heike prosecution, is seriously ill. The prospects are that he will be unable to testify. Parr uncovered the crooked work with the scales on the Williamsburg sugar docks which sent a quartet of checkers and Oliver Spitzer, their boss, to the penitentiary after a sensational trial on the government's charges that they had conspired to defraud the customs in unweighed sugar, canoes in process of importation by means of cheating scales. The hole in the scale post, the concealed spring and the signature of the use of caution at the inspectors' approach, which figured in Parr's declarations—are classics in sugar scandal history. Schmeiter, at his post in the sugar company offices, checked the weighing operations. It was the tables he prepared and concerning which he testified at previous trials that enabled the government to show the differences proving the underweighing, which sent the checkers to prison and which resulted in the refunding to the government by the sugar company of more than $2,000,000 in duties. Schmeiter is said to have suffered a breakdown as a result of the laborious work he did in making the computations and the nervous strain of the long continued prosecutions. The government counsel are somewhat cast down at the illness of Parr and the indicated breakdown of Schmeiter. They insist, however, that other evidence has developed that makes their case stronger than ever and that the trial of Heike and others accused in the sugar conspiracy cases will start next Monday, according to schedule.

BANKERS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Ten prominent Pittsburghers, including bankers, physicians and politicians, faced Judge Frazer in criminal courts today to receive their sentences on various charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with connecmanie corruption recently exposed. All except one have already pleaded no defense to indictments alleging the giving and receiving of bribe money. When court opened the name of A. A. Vilsack, former cashier of the German National bank, was called. Vilsack's attorney, ex-Gov. William A. Stone, moved for an argument to appeal any sentence that might be forthcoming later. At the conclusion of the argument Judge Frazer imposed a sentence of eight months in the county jail and a fine of $500.

BIG OYSTER GROWER DEAD

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 14.—Robert Pettis of this city, 90 years of age, the oldest and most prominent oyster grower and dealer in Rhode Island, died at his summer home at Pawtuxet Neck today. Since 1845 he had followed the oyster industry steadily, owning all of the best beds along the coast.

ROOSEVELT AS AMBASSADOR

LONDON, May 14.—When Mr. Roosevelt arrives here on Monday morning he will have dropped the role of a private citizen and so will be accorded the honors due to the special American ambassador to the funeral of King Edward VII. King George today designated two aides-de-camp to attend upon the American ambassador during his stay in London. These are Lord Dundonald and Commander Charles E. Cunningham-Graham, both distinguished in the service of the crown.

Lord Dundonald served with Sir Herbert Stewart's column for the relief of Khartoum and was subsequently commander of the mounted brigade of the Natal army and commander of the Canadian militia in the Boer war.

Commander Cunningham-Graham is a groom-in-waiting to his majesty the king. He served for many years in the royal navy.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, May 14.—With Chief of Field Division Schwartz, the man who has assumed all responsibility for every step taken by the interior department in the Cunningham claims, on the stand, the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation proceeded today. When the committee met today the request of Mr. Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Olavis, that Atty. Gen. Wickersham should be subpoenaed as a witness, remained to be acted upon.

THE IRISH LEAGUE

To Hear Rev. Dr. Keleher Tomorrow

There was a well attended meeting of the executive committee of the United Irish league at A. O. H. hall last evening, at which arrangements were made for a public meeting in the same hall on Sunday evening. It was announced that Rev. Dr. Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church, would deliver an address and a musical program of a high order will be presented. Among the singers will be the well known young baritone, Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy, of St. Patrick's choir.

Announcement was made that the second biennial convention of the American league would be held this year in Buffalo, N. Y., on September 27 and 28. Messrs. John E. Redmond, P. P. O'Connor and Joseph Devlin will attend as a delegation from the Irish party. They will remain in this country about six weeks going in different directions to address meetings.

Secretary Mr. John O'Callaghan, an urgent request to have John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, speak in Lowell before his return.

The meeting on tonight evening is free to the public and all friends of the cause, particularly the old members are invited as the address of Rev. Dr. Keleher is sure to be a rare treat.

TWO ACCIDENTS

At the Lowell Machine Shop

The ambulance was called to the Lowell Machine shop in Dutton street twice this morning to remove employees who had met with accidents.

About 5 o'clock Joseph Stafford, residing at 8 Dutton street, and his left leg injured as a result of a heavy beam falling on that member. He was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

Shortly after 9 o'clock James E. Stuart, of 40 West Adams street, had his left hand caught in a heading machine in the wood shop and three fingers were removed. He was also taken to the Lowell hospital.

COUNTING OUR POPULATION.

Some of the census enumerators report that a lot of people hide to avoid them, thinking that a meeting with the census enumerator means the subsequent visit of a poll tax collector. If this report be true we can rely that the population will not be fully counted, and that Lowell will not, therefore, get a square deal. If some of the enumerators, on the other hand, shirk their work and make it easy for those who so desire to escape being counted, then we may be sure the census will show no increase of population for Lowell.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

In his Berlin speech Col. Roosevelt essayed the profound and philosophical to a greater extent than he has attempted on any previous occasion perhaps. Yet when boiled down his speech amounts to little more than what he delivered in much simpler terms in France regarding the necessity of maintaining the homely, every day, all important virtues that guarantee large families of healthy children, good citizenship and a readiness to fight against a foreign enemy. Without these virtues he said a nation is liable to fail and to vanish like some of those known now only to history. And as the individual should be a good citizen so the nation has a duty first to itself and then to the world in the general movement for the highest and most enduring civilization.

TO OBSERVE THE COMET.

Those who are interested in the coming of Halley's comet should cut out the illustration in yesterday's Sun and keep it for reference when the comet appears next week. It shows the relative positions of the earth and the comet for various dates, making particularly clear the positions of both bodies in reference to the sun from May 6 to May 30. It will be noted that on May 18 the comet will reach its nearest point to the earth which is about 14,000,000 miles distant. As the tail of the comet, which is nothing more than electrified dust and gas, reaches out millions of miles on the side remote from the sun, our planet may pass through a portion of it, but there will be no danger of injurious effects. It is surmised that the approach of the comet may exert some influence on the workings of the wireless telegraph. As this is the first time the effect of a comet's approach on the wireless could be observed, those who are interested in that science will watch for any unusual influence upon the ethereal waves.

THE ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS.

As was expected, the Massachusetts senate promptly killed the bill favoring an amendment of the constitution so as to provide for election of United States senators by popular vote. Only two more states are needed with the 29 that have already voted upon the question to make the two-thirds necessary to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of formulating an amendment to the constitution in regard to the mode of selecting United States senators.

There have been so many instances in which United States senators seemed to have been in league with large corporations profiting by congressional measures that collusion has been suspected. Then again there have been many instances in which senators were charged with securing their election by corrupt methods. Indeed, there are two senators at the present time accused of this offense. The people seem to have lost confidence in the United States senate as at present constituted, although there are members of that body who are absolutely incorruptible and who are men of the most eminent ability. Nevertheless, the senate is like every other public body—its reputation is smirched by the action of a few members.

It is quite probable that this question rejected so unceremoniously by twenty members of the Massachusetts senate may be submitted to popular vote next November. It is quite likely, however, that of the states yet to pass upon the measure at least two will vote in favor of it and thus furnish the number necessary for calling a constitutional convention.

THE REJECTION OF HIBBARD.

The rejection of Ex-mayor Hibbard of Boston as appointee for tax collector is probably the last blow that frail gentleman can stand. There were two reasons for the rejection, one because of his physical unfitness for any position requiring close attention and the other because his appointment seemed to be in payment of a political debt. If the commission would never do anything worse than this it might well be forgiven.

The system under which the commission is given power to hold up the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald on secret information conveyed in anonymous letters or orally by irresponsible individuals, political enemies of the officials appointed, official cutthroats, unscrupulous hars, hypocrites and humbugs, is one that belongs to past ages, and should not be tolerated under a republican form of government because it encourages calumny, slander and false testimony. Under the shield of secrecy it protects the most infamous liars and assassins of character, while the men attacked have no opportunity to defend themselves because they are acquainted with neither the nature of the charges nor the identity of the authors. No such star chamber method can long survive if justice is to prevail. It is unfair to the candidates appointed and it is unfair to Mayor Fitzgerald who has to bear the responsibility for the government of the city of Boston.

The civil service commission is a state body and thus vested with a certain power over the choice of department heads for the city of Boston we see how pernicious its influence may be. Unless the commission shows more fairness and justice in its judgment of the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald, some of the members should be removed to give place to men who will not permit any good man to be defeated by the secret vilification of men who dare not make the charges publicly.

Everybody connected with the publication of newspapers knows what vile stuff is sent in by anonymous writers against men in public and even in private life.

SEEN AND HEARD

Conductors find that their experience with people gives them occasion to study their ways and habits to a degree and in a way that would scarcely be possible even by such close association as living in the same neighborhood with them. A conductor on one of the city lines remarked that one of the passengers in his car, which happened to be filled with ladies, had not paid, and he would like to know which one it was. A man riding on the rear platform remarked that any one evading her carfare could be detected by the way in which she nervously occupied herself with some personal attention to herself as the conductor was passing along the aisle. "Look for the one who fiddles with her hairpins or her hair," he remarked. "They always do something like that when they are trying to beat their fare. I've seen them." This was a suggestion to the conductor, and he replied "I'll try that." He walked up the aisle toward the front of the car. A few moments afterward he returned to the rear vestibule and as he closed the door the man inquired, "Well was I right?" The conductor nodded a little sheepishly. "Yes, sir," he replied. "She-o-e said you'd fix it. She said to tell you to pay for her." "What I never heard of such impudence in all my life. She pay her fare. What does she take me for?" "You was too much for the conductor, and he began to think that the man was trying to evade his responsibility." She's the woman sitting at the end of the seat on the right hand side," the conductor remarked in a firm manner, at the same time nodding his head in that direction. The man in the vestibule kind of half apologized, and at the same time began to fish for a nickel, remarking sullenly as he passed the coin to the conductor, "Oh, yes, I perceive. I know her. She—happens to be my wife."

Into the office of a banking firm the other afternoon walked the boss. The office boy, with feet on his employer's desk, was chatting gaily and the sound reached the other offices. "Young man," said the boss sternly, "this is no way for you to behave. You asked me to raise your pay recently. I cannot do so if you are going to snarl and forget yourself as to whistle in my office."

The office boy looked up meekly and replied, "I wanted to show you. I could still be cheerful in spite of my miserable salary."

The boss, in telling the story, said that he was so much impressed by the answer that he had got an extra dollar on his weekly stipend. Striking his cane at intervals on the sidewalk, a blind man was making fairly good progress.

His familiar tap of the cane and shuffle of feet attracted the attention of other pedestrians, who stepped aside and gave him the right of way. For several squares everything went

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

STAR THEATRE

Fight pictures will command the attention of Lowell sports on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the Star theatre. The Volgaist-Nelson battle of over 40 rounds will be depicted as it originally went, and Lowell sports will be the first in New England, outside of Boston, to view the pictures which are regarded as the best ever produced showing a prize fight. A lecturer will be on hand to explain everything. First of all, Ad. Volgaist will be shown in his training quarters; then Battling Nelson will be seen in his training stunts. We will next watch the crowds going into the arena. Before the battle starts, the promoters introduce Owen Moran, Harlem Tommy Murphy and many others. Now the fighters are called to the centre of the ring and instructed by the referee. They return to their respective corners and in a few seconds are up at the top of the first round, starting one of the fiercest battles in ring history. The pictures have been looked for Lowell at such an early date only under big expense. The sports of Lowell will be able to get a line on the fighters and pick their man for the second clash of the sturdy Ad. Volgaist and the famous Battling Nelson.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Every one of the new acts at the Empire theatre, which constitute today's program, is a feature in itself. There is a selection of the best vaudeville and an assortment of the funniest pictures on the market, including the leading comedy and dramatic subjects which go to make up such a show as picture lovers like. The vaudeville numbers are of a high class. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Young in their musical comedy "Early Days East," have again made a hit, just as they have done on previous days. Lillian Maynard in her singing specialty act keeps up the fun and is cheered several times, her singing is so good. Mr. Charles Rogers sings a ballad with illustrations. For Sunday, a list of pictures has been selected which cannot help but

IN POLICE COURT

Short Session Quickly
Disposed of

This morning's session of the police court was rather characteristic owing to its brevity. For the past several weeks the sessions have been rather lengthy, but this morning the business was rushed through.

Martin Ryan, charged with being drunk, admitted the charge and a fine of $5 was imposed, but Probation Officer Slattery after having a conversation with the man decided that owing to the fact that the defendant had eight children dependent upon him and that he promised to reform, requested the judge to change the sentence, so the fine was revoked and Ryan was given a chance to do better.

Peter Drolet, minus his legs from the knees down, pleaded guilty to being drunk. Owing to his physical infirmity, he was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Phoebe E. Phillips, drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Peter Larkin, who claims to have a residence in Boston, was arrested in Middlesex street last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The latter said that Larkin had been soliciting money from people in the street and as soon as he got any money he went to one of the liquor saloons and spent it, after which he did more soliciting. He was sent to the state farm.

Michael J. McDonald, who was under a suspended sentence of three months in jail, was surrendered by the probation officer this morning.

George Cross was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Marie A. He entered a plea of not guilty through his counsel, J. Joseph Hennessy. D. J. Donahue, who appeared for the government, started to give the court an explanation of the case, but the court decided that he would hear the testimony. When the government witnesses were called it was found that one Alphonse Bilbault was missing, and Judge Hadley ordered a subpoena issued for him and continued the case till next Wednesday, holding the defendant under $200 bonds.

Charles W. Johnson was charged with violating a city ordinance covered by section 15 of chapter 6 of the city ordinances, relative to allowing an automobile to remain standing for more than 20 minutes in that part of Merrimack street between John and Bridge streets. Mr. Johnson admitted that his machine had been there more than 20 minutes, but that he was ignorant of the law. He was fined $2.

In the case of Spieros Zecapopoulos, charged with assault and battery on Vasilios Pappoustantinos, the former through his counsel, J. Joseph Hennessy, entered a plea of guilty and a fine of $5 was imposed. It seems that the pair got into an argument in Market street yesterday and after a couple of blows were exchanged they were separated by Constable Harry Demaras.

FUNERAL NOTICES

SPILLANE—The funeral of the late Ellen Teresa Spillane, will take place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of her parents, 3 Larrange street. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WELCH—The funeral of the late Margaret T. Welch will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her son, Andrew J. Welch, 82 Bowden street. Burial services will be held at the Sacred Heart church at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery under charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons. On Monday morning at 8 o'clock a requiem mass will be sung at the Sacred Heart church.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Albert Nobes, the well known roller skater, and Miss Anna Harriet Emsey were married Thursday at the home of the bride, 67 Pine street, by

Rev. George F. Kennigott, pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational church, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Miss Emsey was attended by Anna Nobes and Mr. John F. Conley was best man.

Mrs. Maude Hobden of White street, Pawtucketville, has gone to Detroit, Mich. where she will join her husband, Mr. George T. Hobden.

FOUR DEATH TRAPS

at Cost of Over $400,000

The Boston & Maine railroad will soon start the work of removing the School and Walker street grade crossings in this city. The work as laid out at present by the grade crossing commission will involve an outlay of over $400,000 as not only the School and Walker street crossings are to be removed, but also the crossings on Lincoln and Plain streets.

The School street crossing is by far the most dangerous in Lowell, and the accidents there, fatal and otherwise, have been more numerous than at all the other crossings together. The reason is, that it is so far from the depot the trains outward have attained high speed and those inward have not lessened their speed to any great extent, so that express trains pass there almost at full speed. The Walker street crossing is not quite so bad, because it is nearer the depot, not so wide and better protected. The crossing at Middlesex street is the least dangerous of all, because there the trains are running very slowly and the tracks are close together.

The Lincoln street and Plain street crossings are about as dangerous as that of Walker street and quite a number of accidents have been recorded at both.

The work of bridging over the School street crossing will be very difficult. The grade will begin to rise at Rock street on the north side and continue beyond Spring avenue on the south side. The bridging of the canal and the wide span of tracks will be a very difficult matter, requiring a number of strong abutments under the long iron bridge. The tracks will not be lowered and the bridge will be at least sixteen feet in the clear.

The sketch presented herewith gives a perspective view of the bridge that will span the Walker street tracks. It will be forty feet long and sixteen feet in the clear, the roadbed remaining at the same level as at present. The grade of the new roadway will vary from three to four per cent on either side the middle of the bridge.

The grade will begin to rise almost midway between Columbus avenue and West Adams street on the south and between Bryant and Waugh streets on the north side.

Considerable grading will be required to bring West Adams and Waugh streets to the grade of the new roadway.

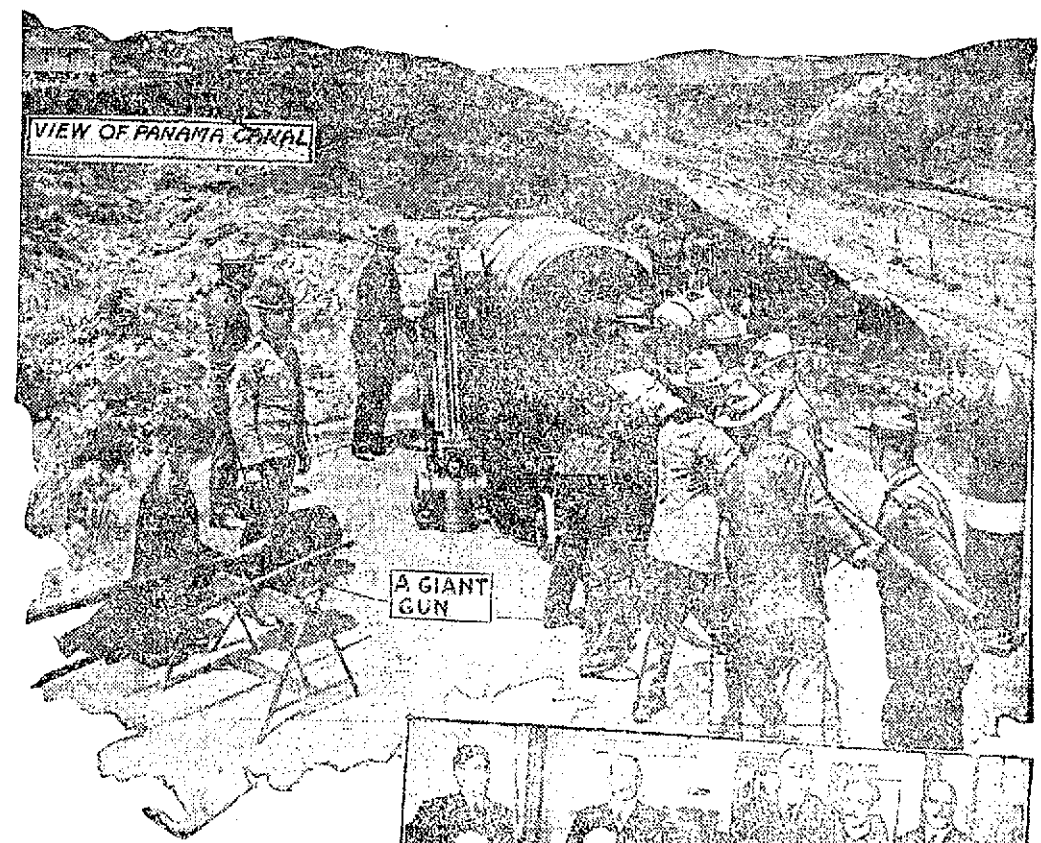

The tracks at Plain street will be lowered five and a half feet and this will necessitate the lowering of the tracks for quite a distance on either side.

Owing to the change of grade Boston road will be built up and a new street constructed across the angle between Plain street and the Boston road through the land of Robert C. Bartlett. The street will extend through to Marshall road. The bridge will be 60 feet long.

The bridge spanning the tracks at Lincoln street will be 100 feet long and Lincoln street from Autumn to Quebec will have to be raised. The difference in grade ranges from zero at Autumn street to 19 feet at the highest point. The removal of this crossing will require a vast amount of regrading and raising of buildings to bring the houses to street grade.

The work of widening the Batterica street bridge is now under way.

The Boston and Maine railroad has its hands full in grade crossing work this year, having undertaken to remove the very bad crossing at Lynn depot, others in Malden, Salem, Waltham and Worcester.

FORTIFICATION COMMITTEE OF THE
PANAMA CANAL AND VIEW OF DITCH

PANAMA, May 14.—Acting under orders of President Taft, the Panama canal fortification committee has concluded its report of how Uncle Sam will guard the big ditch in time of war. President Taft's report is in the hands of the congressional committee and action on his recommendations is expected by June 1. The reports do not give the exact locations of the proposed fortifications, but it is explained that this cannot be furnished until information has been obtained regarding the "status and availability of certain parcels of land situated along the route of the canal." The argument for the proposed fortifications is enumerated as follows: Ten fourteen-inch rifles, twelve six-inch rifles and twenty-five twelve-inch mortars. The cost is estimated in excess of $14,000,000. The report states that the board has examined the ground at the terminal of the canal and of territory in the neighborhood of the canal's terminations near the approaches to the course with a view of choosing the best sites for the big guns. "It is the right and duty of the United States to defend the work upon which it is expending such an enormous sum," the president says in his message. "An adequate defense requires suitable forti-

Cram and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Walker, Mr. Edward Boardman; wreath on base, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mahoney; wreath on base, the "Boys"; 63 pinks, Mr. George Driann. Undertaker George W. Healey had charge of the funeral arrangements.

BARKER—The funeral of Miss Eleanor A. Barker took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lowell cemetery chapel. The services were conducted by Rev. A. St. John Champlin, pastor of St. Anne's Episcopal church. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

DEATHS

MARTIN—Mrs. John T. Martin died yesterday at the Lowell hospital, aged 30 years, 7 months. She leaves her husband, three daughters, Beatrice Corneen and Alice; three brothers, Omer, Joseph and Alphonse Landry, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Bruneau, all of Lowell. The body was removed by Undertaker Joseph Albert to her home, 11 McIntyre street.

McLARNY—Elizabeth McLarny, aged 58 years, died Friday night at the home of her nephew, James A. McLarny, the well known plumber, on Centre street, Chelmsford Centre. The deceased had been a resident of Newbury, N. H., until about five years ago, when she came to Chelmsford to make her home with her nephew. She is survived by two nephews, James A. McLarny of Chelmsford and Hugh McLarny of Lowell, and three nieces, Mrs. Mary A. McGann and the Misses Bella and Eliza McLarny of Lowell.

WELCH—Margaret T. Welch, aged 70 years, died yesterday morning at the home of her son, Andrew J. Welch, 83 Bowden street. Deceased was an old resident of this city and for many years a member of the Sacred Heart church. She leaves a husband, Patrick; one son, Andrew J., and one brother, Patrick Ford.

McNALLY—Mrs. Elizabeth McNally, aged 52 years, died this morning at her home, 165 Ayon street. She leaves a husband, Michael, three daughters, Mary, Elizabeth and Mrs. Bridget St. John and one son, James.

FINE BASE BALL

Highland Schools

For a contest between Grammar school boys the game between the Edson and Highland school on the South Common this morning was a remarkable exhibition. The Edsons won by a score of 4 to 0 in a pitcher's battle in which both Roane and Wilson covered themselves with glory. Roane struck out 14 men and Wilson struck out 10. Roane was the star of the game for he made a home run and a three-bagger and then stole home. Donahue of the Edsons played a great game at first base. Janitor Condon, coach of the Edsons, says that the Edsons is the best grammar school team in all New England.

Colors Not Flattering to the Complexion

FOLLOWING the example of the trees and shrubs, we have chosen this spring to dress in all possible shades of green—from the murky golden green of the lettuce to the fresh cool green of the lime.

Green, however, is difficult to wear. We must be well and strong in body to don this charming nuance. True, like

Even our tussore silks seek relief from the monotony of their sand-colored schemes in gay printed borders of rosebuds or poppy flowers. And, as you know, bordered fabrics are very chic this season, and the borders are being used anywhere but where they are entitled to be. They appear as hosiery, they edge fichus, they are seen in the guise of coat revers—in for ribbons just now. We wear endless yards of ribbon on our hats, on our neck ruffles and on our dresses. Sometimes a black ribbon is used in the guise of a stock. There is a stiff tie bow in the front, with long ends that reach down to the knees. This is an extremely new stock and has the Parisian approval of the moment. When black is not becoming or advis-

gear worn by the officers of Napoleon's army. In the "modern instance" the hat is of taupe hemp straw, with heron feathers. To say that it is a Georgette model stamps it as the latest word of fashion.

Milinery gets more and more festive, and some of the hats are perfect flower gardens. All the flowerettes that one could gather on a country walk are very careful of their complexions, for some of the shades worn are very trying, such as vivid red that borders on purple or the whole gamut of yellows, which are not flattering to all women. Some of the shot materials if filled chosen show up the lines of age. Still, the materials and colorings of the season are so fascinating that a woman is almost tempted to risk the

HOW TO CARE FOR WOOD FLOORS.

A HOUSEKEEPER who is noted for her neatness says that a wood floor is as much care as a baby. This is no doubt true, and yet a little attention given systematically to the floor each day is productive of splendid results. A flannel bag made to slip over the bristles of the broom makes an excellent and convenient polisher. The wood floor should be swept each morning with this flannel covered broom, and twice a week it should be carefully oiled. If the floor is of hard wood use linseed oil, while if it is stained or painted the inexpensive crude oil will answer just as well. It should be rubbed upon the floor with cheesecloth rather than flannel to avoid the lint scattering over the floor. Deep stained or varnished floors should be wiped lightly and frequently with a solution of milk and water.

A USEFUL BRACKET.

It is often difficult in a small room to know how to dispose of soiled linen. A basket is expensive, often in the way and is not ornamental, while a bag swinging on the door is unsightly. Both outlay and unsightliness may be avoided by procuring a cheap corner bracket with a shelf, enameling it and fixing it from thirty inches to thirty-six inches from the floor.

Next make a clothes bag, the bottom being stiffened out by means of a three cornered piece of cardboard. Into the upper hem run a piece of stout wire, bending it so as to fit into the corner of the wall to keep the bag open. Screw a hook under each corner of the bracket and saw a loop of tape at each corner of the bag to hang it by, allowing space between the top of the bag and the shelf to drop in the linen easily.

WHEN MEASURING MEDICINE.

When drops have to be measured out of a medicine bottle cut a small notch at the edge of the cork just big enough for one drop to come through at a time.

This answers the same purpose as a lip. The cork should be pushed well in when not in use to keep in the strength of the contents of the bottle.

GIFT FOR THE TRAVELER.

A useful gift for the traveler is a cushion covered with heavy crash and decorated with raffia in a simple design. This pillow is made from eighteen to twenty inches long, and sixteen to eighteen inches in width will be a desirable size. Diamonds, squares or any other geometrical design should be worked on both sides, using strands of raffia in harmonizing shades.

The bottom of the pillow may be finished with a fringe of the raffia and the top fitted with handles made from the raffia braided into strands. This is for convenience when carrying the pillow from place to place.

RHUBARB RIVAL OF HALLEY'S COMET

LIKE Halley's comet, the rhubarb season is at hand, and the occasion serves to prove that there are pessimists and alarmists in every walk of life and thought. While one school of astronomers is busy hinting at all kinds of deadly dangers we are to face when our earth passes through the fiery tail of our illustrious visitor, medical men are to be heard lifting up their voices in a similar minor key and uttering the warning that rhubarb, the tart filling for pie, is nothing better than poison. We are told that there can be no possible doubt of the injurious effects of eating rhubarb. The harm is due by the abundance of oxalate of lime in the vegetable—or dare it be called fruit? This is in the form of oxalic crystals, which are hidden away in the center of the bundle of cells that make up the heart of the stalk. If any still doubt let him know that these crystals are known as raphides and, being practically insoluble, set up irritation in the stomach and intestines and finally in the kidneys. Generous consumption of rhubarb easily can be responsible for gravel, gallstones and similar troubles, and the crisper the rhubarb the more dangerous it is, according to some physicians. Halley's comet, after all, will not have to shoulder the blame of all the troubles that may afflict mankind.

An Adjustable Petticoat.

THE petticoat with an adjustable flounce is one of the most useful garments a girl can add to her summer outfit. The skirt may be made of silk, and the flounces may be attached by means of a series of buttonholes in the flounce and buttons on the skirt or when the skirt material is not washable glove snappers are excellent for this purpose.

The skirt illustrated is of white silk and the flounce of embroidered chiffon.

TO RID THE HOUSE OF ANTS AND MOTHS

ANTS may be driven from closet, sink and pantry by painting the infested places with a strong solution of alum. Potash and sugar in equal parts dissolved in water also make an efficient ant exterminator.

A simple plan is to "paint" a bit of lath or thick cardboard with jelly, honey or sirup. The ants are attracted by the smell and will settle upon the stick. They cannot get away and may easily be destroyed together with the bit of wood.

An excellent dry exterminator for ants, roaches, centipedes, etc., is made by mixing borax, flour and powdered sugar in equal parts and sprinkling the infested regions very thickly with the powder.

Few moth preventives are as good as the old fashioned white pepper, freshly ground or pounded in a mortar just before using. Applied by means of an insect "gun" it will render fur coats, cloaks and skirts which have been thoroughly brushed and aired immune from the pests.

An excellent liquid spray for furniture and carpets as well as for treating closet shelves and corners is made as follows: For a pint of alcohol use six red peppers and two ounces of gum camphor. With your scissors cut the peppers into shreds and together with the camphor put into the bottle of alcohol. Let the mixture stand well corked for thirty-six hours, strain through a piece of muslin and apply from an atomizer or with a brush. Keep this mixture away from fire and light, as it is very inflammable.

THE NAPOLEON HAT

the Parisiennes, we can rouge up to it, but that is another story.

My advice is for a fallow woman to let green costumes severely alone, but the rosy cheeked blond with pink cheeks looks her best in the livery of spring.

In foulard, and voile green is a delightful color scheme to select, and these materials breathe the perfume of simplicity to the uninitiated. Alas, how deceptive are outward appearances! The truth is we have complicated everything nowadays, dress included. Our smart foulard gowns, beflowered and fanciful, are veiled in a mist of mousseline du sole, which enhances their charm and their price, for we have two dresses to buy instead of one. But foulard lends itself to simple effects delightfully, and altogether it is one of the most serviceable gowns a woman can own for summer wear. It is cool; it does not crease; it can be worn by young and old. What more would you have, readers mine?

To continue the story of foulard, its suppleness allows for all the new modes of trimming. It can be fashioned into quilting, ruffles, and nounces, all of which are indispensable adornments for our sheath-like skirts. We have forgotten the ways of the stiff old foulard. Those we wear now have the suppleness of satin, and they are beflowered or show dots in all sizes and checks galore, which latter designs in black and white make up into smart "tailored frocks," enlivened by a touch of the chanticleer red.

fact, they make the most original and inexpensive of trimmings. One of the gowns illustrated is of natural colored tussore with a Persian border, which is used for the trimming scheme.

There is a tendency to discard the plaited skirts and to do away with all but the back and side plaits, and very lovely are the Greek tunics of silk muslin with kimono tops, which veil some of the short satin frocks. Tall, slim women are affecting the three tiered skirt, and those of less Juno-like proportions are content with merely two flounces. In thin materials quilted headings are used to finish these flounced gowns, with rosettes of the silk, satin or whatever the trimming used to trim the side or fronts. These rosettes illustrate the passion

ble to use about the neck of a frock the new Egyptian blues, which savor of metallic green, are much in favor, and a bright chanticleer or cherry red has captured Paris. For the nonce it is seen in straw hats or the broad ribbons worn under the chiffon veiling blouse. But to speak of hats, the Napoleon chapeau is having things all its own way this season, and a 1910 hat that has its inception from the French period at the time of "the Little Corporal" is reproduced in the shape pictured. It is an exact copy of the head-

are grouped together, with bits of moss, ferns and asparagus plant thrown in. Black velvet flowers continue fashionable. The strangest shapes are seen, and it is said that low crowns are coming in, but most eccentric of all are the models with jockey crowns of finely plaited silk muslin and black and white straw brims. Cinnamon colored straws are very smart, and there is a new shade called reddish de carmin, which is really a reddish shade of plum color. And, apropos of the new colors, women this season will have to

THIS problem is soon solved. It is because women of the present day are too extravagant, and the reason of this is that so many girls are never brought into contact with the experiences of home life.

If mothers would teach their daughters how to be economical wives and allow them to take their part in the household duties and teach them how to cook and go through household accounts much unhappiness might be prevented.

For instance, a girl leaves her home, where she has been accustomed to every luxury and comfort, and marries a man in receipt of a small income and expects to live in the same style as before, forgetting that her husband's income will not allow it.

In many cases the husband lunches out and the wife might prepare a dainty little meal that he could take with him, which would be a great saving.

The wife, too, if she is clever with her needle, can make a number of pretty things to wear, so that she can look her best at all times. It is a great mistake for a woman to think that because she has married she need not trouble about her personal appearance any longer.

She should recognize that if her petty troubles of home life are serious how much more serious are her husband's business worries and anxieties, and she should endeavor to brighten his life with her love and womanly sympathy.

It is possible for a young couple to be happy though poor when each tries to make the home a place of cheerfulness, but the great trouble now is that young people want to begin where their parents left off.

A PRETTY WEDDING GIFT.

Are You Taking Care of Baby's Skin?

A PHYSICIAN who makes the care of children a special study has remarked that "there is nothing of more importance to the well being of a child than the care which is bestowed on their skins." There can be no doubt that from the very earliest start of an infant's life the mother ought to pay particular attention to the condition of her child's skin so that it may not become irritated, for irritation of any sort is a great source of discomfort. One of the most usual causes of this irritation is lack of absolute cleanliness, which is perhaps quite a different matter from what is ordinarily regarded as cleanliness. The skin of children is peculiarly sensitive, especially that of very young ones, and should be washed with the softest water obtainable and with good, pure soap.

Water for a baby's bath can be softened by putting into it a handful of coarse oatmeal, but it is an inconvenient way of using it, and it is much better to put the meal into small muslin bags. Boiling water is poured over them and allowed to stand until almost cool; then the bag is squeezed and the liquid added to the regular bath water.

Ammonia is used for softening the water in baths for older children, but it should be used sparingly, for ammonia will take away too much of the natural grease of the skin and leave it hard and dry. Don't treat the child's skin as a scrubbing board. One extreme is as harmful as the other.

There is a popular belief that when children are not feeling well it is a bad thing to wash them. As a matter of fact, the best thing for a child under such circumstances is to see that the skin is absolutely clean, for dirt even when it is not visible sometimes makes the little ones feel very ill.

Many affections of the skin are due to a disordered stomach, and when this is the case it is useless to do anything to affect the skin primarily. The cause of the trouble must be removed. Children having ringworms must be rigorously kept away from brothers, sisters and other companions. No doubt it is hard on the child to be denied its playmates, but until the disease is cured there is always the danger of one child infecting another. One cause of infection from this disease is the reprehensible habit of children wearing one another's hats. It is a trivial matter, but it is a point on which too much insistence cannot be laid.

The idea of hardening children by exposure of the skin is one which is responsible for not a little suffering and discomfort. Sending children out in the cold with their arms and legs bared in the spring when the weather does not warrant such exposure is very bad. It looks pretty, but a moment's good looks are often the cause of much later loss of beauty.

The practice of letting children's hair grow long is not to be commended for several reasons, but specially on the score of cleanliness. Girls' hair should be kept short until they are ten or eleven years old. There is a general belief that by doing this the hair becomes longer, stronger and thicker, but whether this is so or not is a moot point. At all events, it can do no harm to the hair of the future woman, and it may do good, while at the same time it insures that cleanliness which, after all, is one of the greatest charms of childhood.

THE LATEST HAND PAINTED SLIPPER

HERB's good news for the artistic girl. Let her get out her paint tubes and set to work on painting her slippers to match her summer frocks. The illustration shows a white kid slipper of the latest vogue adorned with painted forget-me-nots. Naturally small blossoms are the best to select for reproduction, but some of the larger flowers might be conventionally and worked up into good slipper subjects.

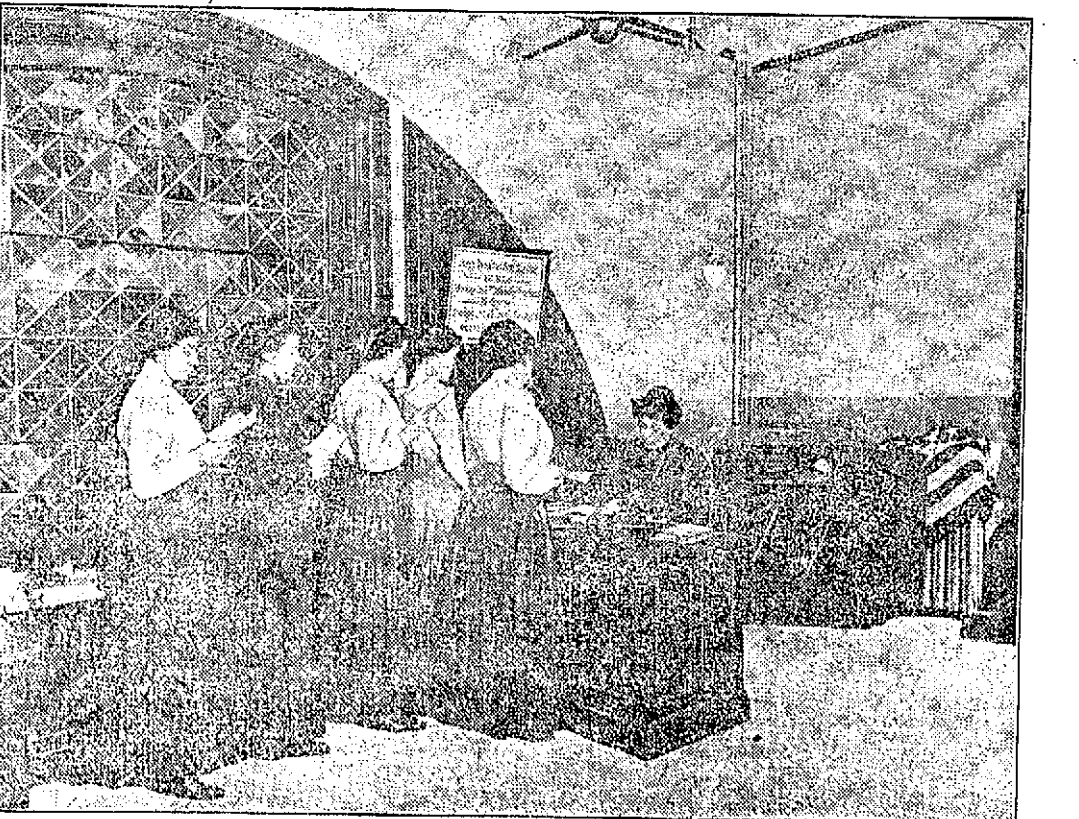

Very artistic, too, are the slippers of brocade outlined with dull gold or silver threads. The cloth of steel slippers are equally pretty and may be worn with a gown of almost any color. Black velvet pumps are one of the novelties of the summer for wear with lingerie gowns. By the way, the new pumps have ankle straps which make them much more comfortable than the old models, which kept slipping off.

Laced sandals will be used for dress shoes. They are fascinating and have a tendency to decrease the size of the foot because the toes are short.

PENNY SAVINGS BANK FOR WORKING GIRLS

Photograph copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

IN one of the most congested districts of New York city there has recently been established a penny savings bank for working girls. This institution is run in connection with a settlement house which is doing splendid work along socialistic lines. There is great need all over the country for institutions of this sort that encourage saving in a very small way.

Girls say: "What's the use thinking about putting away money. It's all we can do to make ends meet." So it is in a number of cases, but it is the exceptional girl who could not save a penny a day from her salary. "Great oaks from little acorns grow." Andrew Carnegie's fabulous wealth was begun from very small savings. Indeed, there is no more important thing for a wage earning girl to bear in mind than the necessity of putting aside a certain part of her income in view of a possible "rainy day."

It is hard to depend upon charity, but it is harder still when out of work or ill to accept things from relatives or friends. Most girls argue that they will marry. Possibly so, but all don't. Then, again, it is hard to save when there are so many pleasures to be had for the spending of a little money and so many pretty things in the shops to tempt one. Yes, that's true, but don't let the temptation get the better of your judgment. If there is no penny savings bank near your home buy a little savings bank and put all your spare pennies in it, and some day you will find that you have accumulated $5, and you can then open a real bank account.

Summer Service

Just the same as at all times—always as perfect as modern ideas can suggest.

We have a complete and up-to-date stock of drug store goods. We also have the latest in toilet and cosmetic and our prices are always as low as the lowest.

It costs no more to be perfectly satisfied in purchasing your drug store needs—which means trade here.

MR. VANDERBILT

Arranging for Roosevelt Reception

NEW YORK, May 14.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, chairman of the Roosevelt reception committee, has received a telegram from the colonel announcing that he will not change his plans for his arrival in New York. June 13 has been set as the day, the ship being due to arrive in the New York harbor at 9 o'clock in the morning. Chairman Vanderbilt has called a meeting of the committee for May 20, when the final plans will be gone over in detail and sent to Col. Roosevelt for his approval.

VANDERBILT

ALREADY MARRIED

OFFICERS SAY CORRESPONDENT WAS REED'S WIFE

BOSTON, May 14.—In the divorce case of Lottie M. Reed against Clayton
A. Reed, before Judge Moore, yesterday, it was testified that, when the officers were searching for Reed to serve him with the papers, they found he was already married to the woman whom
Mrs. Reed has named as correspondent.

Mrs. Reed charges her husband with cruel and abusive treatment, with gross and confirmed habits of intoxication and with infidelity. She testified that she was married to Clayton Reed on Westminster street.

Miss Ida Cummings, who was named in the libel, was the woman Reed married. The second marriage took place on Jan. 10, 1906. She also testified that Reed was living with her at 27 Pine street, Cambridge, till Tuesday night, when the libel was served, and that there was one child born to the second marriage. Miss Cummings, when on the witness stand, appeared on the verge of collapse.

Mrs. Reed said that her husband left her in September, 1906, after he had struck her in the face.

Reed, it is believed, has gone away.

FOR AUTO RACE

PETITION FOR POWER TO CLOSE ROADS IN SEPTEMBER

The petition for the closing of certain roads on and about the so-called Merrimack Valley course during two days in the middle of September has been handed to Senator Hibbard and it is expected that he will introduce it in the legislature next week.

The petition, which has been circulated among the business men by Thos.
C. Lee, met with ready response from men. Should the committee on roads and bridges favor the petition a bill will be introduced in the legislature to grant the city council the right to vote on the matter of closing the roads.

HALLEY'S COMET

GENEVA, N. Y., May 14.—Dr. William R. Banks of Smith observatory reports that changes in Halley's comet during the last three days. The nucleus, the brightest part of the com-et's head, has grown larger and brighter, while the coma surrounding the nucleus has greatly changed in form and is now distorted and much broader than it was a few days ago. This, says Prof. Banks, gives evidence of violent turbulence.

The dark streak extending back from the nucleus, through the middle of the tail, has also grown broader, dividing a large part of the tail into two distinct branches.

MAYOR MEEHAN

To Reappoint Mr. Hall of Park Board

Mayor Meehan will reappoint Thales
P. Hall to the board of park commissioners for a term of five years. He will reappoint Mr. Hall, said the mayor, and I sincerely hope that he will accept the reappointment. Mr. Hall is the type of man that should be encouraged to hold public office. He is intensely interested in the work of the park department and he is a splendid public official.

HELD IN $2000 Big Crowd Turned Out at ONE MAN KILLED

Wife of Ex-Gov. Rollins Arraigned Before U. S. Commissioner

Several Others Injured at 24-Hour Auto Race

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Catherine Rollins, the wife of Frank W. Rollins, former governor of New Hampshire and a Boston banker, appeared with her lawyer before U. S. Commissioner Shields in the federal building today to answer to a charge made by Customs Inspector Matthew P. Cassidy, charging her with entering into a conspiracy with her husband and son, Douglas, to smuggle wearing apparel, jewelry and trinkets on the Cunarder Lusitania yesterday on her arrival here. Commissioner Shields fixed bail at $2,000 and bond was immediately offered and accepted.

Ex-Governor Rollins and his twenty-five-year-old son Douglas were released yesterday at the pier and released in $2,000 bail each for appearance next Friday, at which time Mrs. Rollins will also appear.

Mrs. Rollins broke down yesterday when her husband and son were taken into custody and she was not brought before Commissioner Shields for arraignment at that time.

The Rollins family returned from England yesterday on the Lusitania and customs men say their declaration was only one dutiable article, a fur jacket valued at $300. The customs officers searched Mr. Rollins, his wife and son and say they found jewelry worth several hundred dollars on them. Six of the nine trunks belonging to the Rollins family awaited examination at the customs stores today.

George W. Wamaker, appraiser, said that these trunks would not be examined before Monday at the earliest.

"At the present time," he said, "I have no official cognizance of the attempted smuggling and I am not aware officially that I have any trunks to examine. When an order comes from the custom house for the examination and appraisal of matter contained in the trunks I shall proceed forthwith. Of course, results of the search will be made known by me to the proper authorities in a confidential report."

Former Gov. Rollins gave out the following statement this afternoon: "The newspapers in the last twenty-four hours have contained statements in regard to my landing from the Lusitania on the 13th which are highly colored and give a wrong impression. My natural impulse is to publish a statement correcting the misconception but I do not deem it wise or advisable at this time to make any statement through the papers. At the proper time I expect to make a statement which will put the matter in a different light."

There were about 3000 people at Spalding park this afternoon to witness the game between Haverhill and Lowell. Despite the fact that the Lowell team met with reverses during the past few days the local enthusiasts felt that there was a chance for a change today and the large attendance encouraged the local players. There was an addition to the Lowell lineup. Cooney of the Boston Nationals playing short stop. Ordway was sent to third base and played a good game at that position.

Umpire Byrne was the decision maker and called the game shortly after three o'clock, the batting order being as follows:

Lowell
Fitzpatrick, 2b
Wetzel, 3b
Fluharty, 1b
Mages, 1b
Cooney, ss
Jones, cf
Huston, c
Morse, 1b
Tyler, p

Haverhill

2b, Foulke
cf, Moore
2b, Noblett
1b, Merrill
1b, Fleming c, Sebastian p, O'Toole

First inning
Lowell scored a run in the first inning, but the visitors failed to send a man across the plate. Hagan hit to Fitzpatrick, who fumbled and the runner reached first. Wetzel was out on a fly and Hagan in trying to steal second was nailed. Foulke struck out.

In the latter half of the inning Fitz drew a base on balls and Ordway struck out. Fluharty hit to right field for a single and in trying to make second was caught between the bases. Fitz scoring on the put out. Mages got a single and Cooney hit to Wetzel and died at first.

Score—Lowell 1, Haverhill 0.

Second inning
There was nothing doing in the second inning. Hagan drew a base on balls and Noblett was the second man out. Merrill drew a free pass and Fleming hit to Fitz and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Jones hit to Wetzel and was out at first. Huston flied to Moore and was second out. Morse hit in front of the plate and was third out.

Score—Lowell 1, Haverhill 0.

Third inning
There were two more goose eggs registered in the third inning. Sebastian flied to Moore and O'Toole hit to Fitz and was out at first. Hagan drew a base on balls. Hagan tried to steal second and was thrown out.

In the latter half of the inning Tyler hit to Noblett and was out at first. Fitzpatrick hit to Wetzel and was also out at first. Ordway struck out.

Score—Lowell 1, Haverhill 0.

Fourth inning
In the fourth inning Wetzel flied to Fitzpatrick. Foulke drew a free pass. Two passed balls allowed the runner to go to third. Moore struck out. Noblett drew a base on balls and stole second. Merrill also drew a base on balls, but Fleming struck out.

In the latter half of the inning, Fluharty hit a grounder to O'Toole, and was out at first. Mages flied to

BOY WAS KILLED
He Was on Way to Buy Candy

BOSTON, May 14.—An electric runabout owned and operated by Charles P. Cummings of 8 Walnut avenue, No. Cambridge, knocked down and almost instantly killed Constantino Smyrnos, aged 8, of 11 Clark street, North End, in front of 30 Ferdinand street, South End, about 3 yesterday afternoon.

Constantino and his sister Angela, who is about two years his senior, attended the Greek school on Winchester street. At recess yesterday they left the school and were crossing the street to a candy store when the auto came along Ferdinand street from Castle square.

Angela crossed the street safely, but her brother was knocked down by the front mud guard. It is thought, one of the rear wheels passing over his head, crushing it.

Mr. Cummings is positive that the front of the car did not strike the boy. His theory, which is supported by bystanders, is that the little boy started to run across the street after his sister and that the auto came along before he could stop himself, and that he ran against the mudguard, being thrown in such a way that his head was struck by the rear wheel.

Mr. Cummings hurried to his garage at 52 Church street for medical assistance while the injured boy was carried to the school. Dr. Charles A. Bangs of 519 Boylston street was at the garage and he hurried to the school to attend to the sufferings of the child. Three of Mr. Cummings' employees hastily equipped a fast touring car as an ambulance. Little Constantino was placed in the car, but he died before the city hospital was reached.

BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, N. Y., May 14.—One man killed and another painfully maimed and three more badly bruised was the hospital record for the first ten hours for the 24 hour race held at the Brighton beach motor-drome track last night and today. At the end of the 10th hour the Fiat car led with 407 miles to its credit and the Rainier was only one mile behind.

Pessimistic people figured that as the race began on Friday, the 13th of the month, something bad would happen, but Friday and the 18th got away clear. Cars which led ran without a serious mishap until after midnight and as the track was then in excellent condition there seemed ground for hope that the race would be devoid of accident.

Eighteen minutes after midnight the looked for crash came. The Marlon car, driven by Hubert Anderson, tore through the fence on the turn of the home stretch and turned turtle. Anderson jumped clear of the wreck but his mechanic, Bill Bradley, was so badly mangled that he died an hour later in the emergency hospital at Coney Island from concussion of the brain and fracture of the skull. The second accident happened at 2 o'clock this morning, when the Buick car No. 2, driven by George DeWitt, crashed through the inner fence on the turn into the back stretch. The driver escaped unhurt, but the mechanic, Jack Powers, an experienced man, was badly bruised. He sustained a fracture of a leg and internal injuries, but early this morning the doctors at the emergency hospital in Coney Island said that he was resting easily and would probably recover.

About three hours later the other Buick car was disabled by the breaking of a crank shaft and it was towed into the paddock by the official car. Louis Strang, after an hour's delay, had the Marlon car going again and he made a good showing. In speeding around the turn into the home stretch Strang had a miraculous escape from a spill as he tore through the fence and came out through the other angle of the barrier without a scratch.

The score for the 11th hour, 5 a. m., was: Rainier, 550; Fiat, 548; Simplex, 545; Stearns No. 1, 528; Buick No. 1, 508; Croston-Kerten, 491; Stearns No. 2, 435; Seldon, 329; Cole, 339; Buick No. 2, 35; Houtt, 298.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE
MOULIERS, France, May 14.—A severe earth shock was felt here at 5:45 o'clock this morning. No material damage was done.

OLDEST PRINTER

C. M. Langley is 83 Years Old

Lowell's oldest printer, C. M. Langley, was 83 years old yesterday. During the day he busied himself at his place of business in the basement of Wyman's Exchange and in the evening there was a little gathering at his home, 83 Fremont street. Among those who called to offer congratulations was C. Oliver Barnes of the J. C. Ayer company. Mr. Barnes is one of the old-time printers and a great admirer of the dean of the "art preservative of art" in Lowell. Mr. Langley, Mr. Barnes is still a printer, and he makes rubber stamps which, of course, is along the same line. He was as busy as a bee when the writer dropped in upon him this afternoon and when asked as to his health he replied that he was feeling "top top." He is a wonderful man for his years and he bids fair to make the century run.

PEARY'S DOGS DEAD

PORTLAND, Me., May 14.—The comparatively tropical climate of Maine has proved fatal to the Esquimaux dogs which Commander Peary brought back with him from his successful trip to the North pole. Twelve of the fourteen Arctic animals have succumbed to some form of distemper at Flag Island, where they have been kept near the explorer's summer home on Eagle Island, Casco bay.

BOSTON & MAINE Y. M. C. A.

PORTLAND, Me., May 14.—Charles Clark of Concord, N. H., was chosen president at the closing session today of the railroad Y. M. C. A. of the Boston & Maine system. H. R. Bolden of Troy, N. Y., was elected secretary and F. C. Brown of East Deerfield, Mass., treasurer.

THOMAS GOODALL BURIED

SANFORD, Me., May 14.—The entire town of Sanford ceased activities today to pay tribute to the memory of Thomas Goodall, the pioneer blanket and robe manufacturer, during the funeral services in the town hall. The Goodall mills and other places of business were closed during the whole day and other places of business were closed for two hours. Even the postoffice by sanction of the post office department at Washington was closed during the services. Nearly three thousand persons viewed the body as it lay in state in front of the stage, surrounded by a great mass of flowers and guarded by four members of the local company of the coast artillery corps. Rev. E. J. Prescott, pastor of the local Unitarian church, conducted the services. Burial was in Oakdale cemetery.

QUEEN'S ACCOUCHMENT

MADRID, May 14.—It was learned today that the accouchment of Queen Victoria is expected within a month.

FUNERALS

BOYANOWSKI.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Yuzefka Boyanowski took place this morning from her home, 28 Clark's place, off South street. At 2 o'clock a funeral service was sung at the Lutheran church. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott.

MISS DEVOE SUED

ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS IS ALLEGED

PROVIDENCE, May 14.—Mrs. Marie Louise Payne, wife of Fireman Frederick B. Payne, whose suit for $5000 against Miss Florence Devoe for alleged alienation of affections was made known, is a petitioner for separation.

Miss Devoe, who is a jewelry worker, engaged counsel yesterday and last night said she would resist to the utmost the effort to make her settle for just a simple flirtation. She denies that there was any intrigue between herself and Payne and that whenever they had a wireless communication from the jewelry factory to the fire station there "was no love in the case at all."

"Only know Florence casually," said Payne. "My wife is suffering from inordinate jealousy and her allegations are absurd. She has had dreams of the past, women just talking to me in the past."

Mrs. Payne's petition for separate maintenance will come up before the $5000 alienation case, in all probability.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 14.—A jury today acquitted Thomas Hurst of Ashland, who was charged with the murder of 18-year-old Viola Curry. Hurst, who is a brother of Tim Hurst, the well-known baseball umpire, ten weeks ago called at the home of John Curry to collect rent. Ill feeling existed and a quarrel ensued in which Hurst drew a pistol and shot the girl. His defense was that he was being attacked by the girl, her brother, and her father and had been struck on the head with a poker when he pulled his pistol, which was discharged while the older Curry was trying to take it from him.

ELECTION DECLARED VOID

LONDON, May 14.—The special election court today declared void the election to the house of commons in January last of Frederick Edward Guest from the east division of Dorset on the ground that the candidate's expenses were excessive and that a full return concerning the same had not been made by his agent. Justice Lawrence exonerated Guest of foreknowledge that the motor cars sent into the constituency on the day of the election by his father-in-law, Henry Phipps, the steel manufacturer of Pittsburgh, were hired on his behalf. The hiring of vehicles for use in getting out the vote is not permissible under the British election laws.

Mr. Guest married Miss Amy Phipps in London on June 28, 1905. He is a son of Lord Wiltshire and a cousin of Home Secretary Churchill, to whom he is parliamentary private secretary.

BELMONT PARK RACES

BELMONT PARK, N. Y., May 14.—First race: Miss Nett, 89, Glass, 7 to 1, 2 to 1, 4 to 5, won; Winning Widow, 98, Ramsell, 5 to 1, 3 to 1, 6 to 5, second; Agawam, 106, Creevy, 5 to 1, 3 to 1, 5 to 1, third. Time 48 1-5.

Second race: Sweep, 121, Rutwell, 1 to 6, out, won; King Olympian, 116, Dugan, 40 to 1, 4 to 1, even, second; Sandrian, 115, Shilling, 6 to 1, 2 to 5, out, third. Time—1:26 1-5.

HARVARD-YALE

Big Track Meet is on Today

CAMBRIDGE, May 14.—Seldom in the long history of the Harvard and Yale track games have the two universities met under such equal conditions as those that prevailed when the lightly clad athletes trooped into the Stadium under the clearest skies this afternoon. Even the close followers of track athletics were unwilling to venture a prediction regarding the outcome of the meet and the expectations of many an exciting contest into the long rows of spectators' seats several thousand students and other enthusiasts over college sports.

The Yale team arrived last night and the trainers of both organizations declared their men today to be in the proper condition.

Weather conditions were almost perfect and what little wind there was came from the east, blowing into the bow of the Stadium and on the backs of the runners in the sprints.

Before the games began, Harvard was conceded to be strong in the short and long distance runs and in a couple of the field events, while Yale was thought to have the better chance in the middle distance runs, the weights and the pole vault.

The weather continued to improve during the day from a spectator's viewpoint, for the east wind subsided to a gentle zephyr.

As usual the three place winners were allowed five, two and one points respectively, this method having obtained in the Harvard and Yale meets since their inception, nineteen years ago.

120 yard hurdles won by G. A. Chisholm, Yale, 1. M. King, Yale, second; J. H. Long, Harvard, third. Time—1:15 seconds.

One mile run, won by Jacques, Harvard; Miller, Yale, second; Gray, Harvard, third. Time—4:27.

440 yards dash won by H. W. Kelley, Harvard, 1. M. Desjardis, Harvard, second; S. C. Simmons, Harvard, third. Time—50 2-5 seconds.

100 yards dash, won by G. P. Gardner, Jr., Harvard; L. Thayer, Harvard, second; J. Taylor, Harvard, third. Time—10 1-5 seconds.

TRAGIC DEATH

WAS MET BY A YOUNG AVIATOR

LYONS, France, May 14.—Chevrolet Michelin, a young Frenchman, met a tragic death here yesterday while competing in the races of an aviation meeting.

Shortly after leaving the ground in an Antoinette monoplane, Michelin seemed to lose control of the machine, which bumped into a telephone booth, and knocked over a derrick, which struck the aviator, fracturing his skull. The horrified spectators wrecked the barriers built to keep the crowds from the aviation field and rushed to the spot where the monoplane was lying.

Michelin was still in the seat of the machine. He was quickly taken in an ambulance to a hospital, where his skull was trepanned in a vain attempt to save his life. He died shortly after the operation. Michelin was only 23 years old. To an assistant who wished him luck as his machine arose into the air, the young aviator said: "No more aviation for me after this meeting; I have had enough."

MILK PRODUCERS STRUCK ON HEAD

To Get Aid From N. Y. Grange

BOSTON, May 4.—The Massachusetts milk producers who are fighting for the maintenance of the winter rates were encouraged today by receiving pledges of support from the New York state grange. A circular to the subordinate organizations in New York calling attention to the strike and asking that farmers in the Empire state withhold their milk from the Boston market has been sent out by F. M. Godfrey, the master of the state grange and a copy sent to C. M. Gardner of the Massachusetts grange. The strike has been in progress two weeks and neither side shows any disposition of yielding. When legislative investigation will probably be finished by the last of next week.

JUDGE HOLT

DISMISSED WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IN HOFFSTOT CASE

NEW YORK, May 11.—Judge Holt in an opinion filed today in the United States circuit court dismissed the writ of habeas corpus sued out in behalf of Frank Hoffstot, president of the Pressed Steel Car Co., whose extradition to Pittsburgh, Pa., was ordered by Governor Hughes. In case Hoffstot desired to appeal Judge Holt says a stay will be granted as the question involved in the case in his opinion is doubtful. Mr. Hoffstot is charged with conspiracy to bribe certain Pittsburgh municipal officers.

The writ of habeas corpus was sued out to test the legality of the detention of Hoffstot who is held under Gov. Hughes' warrant directing his surrender to the authorities of Pennsylvania as a fugitive from justice.

TREATY WITH CANADA

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The United States government has already taken steps looking to the negotiation of a trade treaty with Canada. It was officially announced today that last Thursday the secretary of state sent a communication to the British ambassador here transmitting to the Canadian government the formal proposal of the United States that tariff negotiations between the two countries be initiated at the earliest convenient date and agreeable to the Dominion government. The state department officials have no doubt that Canada will accept the proposal of this government but on what lines the negotiations will proceed and as far as this government is concerned, has not been determined.

Man Was Killed While Shoveling Coal

CALAIS, Me., May 14.—By being struck on the head by a heavy hook attached to a fall which slipped from a staging, Seymour Thelault, 35, of St. George, was killed today while shoveling coal in the hold of the schooner W. B. Herrick.

AERONAUTS RECOVERING

GLASGOW, Ky., May 14.—A. Holland Forbes and J. C. Yates, the aeronauts who narrowly escaped death in the fall of their balloon last Tuesday, have recovered sufficiently of their undertaking the trip to New York. They will leave tonight Sunday afternoon and will probably remain overnight at Louisville.

BIG TRACK MEET

NEW HAVEN, May 14.—Athletes from thirteen preparatory schools have gathered here today to participate in the interscholastic track meet which Yale has sponsored for eight years. Strong teams have been sent by both Phillips-Andover and Phillips-Exeter academies and they meet some classy youngsters carrying the colors of the Worcester academy, Mercersburg and Lawrenceville schools.

BELGIAN MINISTER INJURED

BRUSSELS, May 14.—J. Liebaert, Belgian minister of finance, was knocked down in the street by an automobile and severely injured today.

STOLEN CLOTH

Found in a House

In Methuen

LAWRENCE, May 14.—The discovery of a dwelling in Methuen last night of 300 yards of cloth, alleged to have been stolen from the Arlington mills in this city led to the appearance of two men and two women in the local police court today on charges of theft. The persons under arrest are George Yelland, at whose home the cloth was found, Timothy Murphy, Mrs. Sarah Rosenberg and Mrs. Sarah Kimmell. Murphy pleaded guilty while the others entered pleas of not guilty and all the cases were continued until Wednesday next. Bail was fixed at $1000 each for Yelland, Murphy and Mrs. Rosenberg and $500 for Mrs. Kimmell.

BIG GOLF TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, May 14.—Golfers swarmed over the Fox Hills links today to take part in the handicap and matchplay divisions. The four who had worked their way to the semi-final stage in the chief division appeared to be quite evenly matched. On the upper side were George Baxter of Brooklyn and L. A. Hamilton, who enters from the Englewood Golf club, while in the lower half appeared Spotswood D. Bowers, the Bridgeport veteran who distinguished himself by beating Jerome D. Travers yesterday and W. E. Conklyn of Dunwoodie. There is more than usual interest in the beaten eight set of the first division because of the presence of Travers, the former national champion from Montclair, N. J., and G. V. White, the Cutter schoolboy who recently won the interscholastic title.

If you want a good lawn swing, order one of The Thompson Hardware Co., who are making a special run on their $5 swing for $4.25.

JAPAN-BRITISH EXPOSITION

LONDON, May 14.—The Japan-British exposition at the White City, Shepherd's Bush, London, was opened to the public today. Owing to the national mourning the ceremony planned for the first day was omitted.

Although called the Japan-British, this year's exhibition depends for its success almost entirely upon the efforts of the Japanese government and the big commercial companies of Japan. It is said nothing like the Japanese collections have here before been seen outside the emperor's kingdom.

GLIDDEN TOUR

Date Has Been Changed to June 14

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—Following the arrival of the official 1910 Glidden tour pathfinding car here yesterday morning, a conference was held between Samuel M. Butler, chairman of the American Automobile Association contest board; David Beecroft, a member of the board; D. H. Lewis, the association scout, and E. L. Ferguson, business manager of the tour, who covered the route taken by Lewis from Cincinnati to Dallas and Chicago.

Mr. Butler, who came from New York to greet the pathfinders on their arrival, was much pleased by the reports made by Lewis and Ferguson. The stops and time were determined upon, and Mr. Butler characterized the entire tour as the most promising ever conducted.

The route is 2850 miles and over roads superior to those encountered in any previous contest. The date tentatively set for the start, June 15, was changed to June 11, because of an extra day's running between Dallas and Oklahoma City, which was not reckoned with in framing the pathfinding schedule. The tour will include Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, Little Rock, Fort Worth, Wichita, Omaha, Des Moines and Davenport.

The Sunday stops will be made at Hot Springs and Kansas City. Thirteen states will be visited. Mr. Butler, after attending a banquet given by the Chicago Motor Club in honor of the pathfinders' return, left for Indianapolis and Detroit to confer with the manufacturers of Indiana and Michigan regarding the tour.

The Chalmers, with Dal Lewis and the three other members of the trail-blazing crew, arrived this noon, accompanied by a procession of cars from the Chicago Motor Club, which met the travelers at Geneva.

The question of the need of topographical surveys in order that the streets might be laid out in an intelligent manner was brought up and City Engineer Bowers, who is a member of the surveying board, said that he had no funds of his department are too low to admit of such work being undertaken by the city. He said that the undulating country made a topographical survey almost necessary before proper street layouts could be made. The survey could best be made in the summer months when a force of students from the technical schools could be obtained at student prices to do the work. Mr. Bowers said that it would cost $500 or $700 to do the work in this district. He said it would be well worth while and his ideas were seconded by Supt. of Streets Newell F. Putnam, who is a member of the committee.

The committee has found that the men in the vicinity have no objection to the line of work which the committee has laid out for itself and that the results will therefore be easily obtained if all the land owners will act as a unit.

The matter of widening Rogers street was not taken up, it being decided to allow it to go over until another meeting. Engineer Bowers showed a plan of streets for a city in the northwest corner of the city, which was prepared by a force of experts. It was full of winding, curving and diagonal streets, and provided slanting streets for all grades that would otherwise be too steep. He considered the plan an admirable one. Such a plan can be adopted in the new lands about Lowell and for this purpose the committee has started its work. Thoroughfares are to be urged through all the new territory which shall lead across to the main objective points from the points nearest the city proper.

Several causes are given as the possible reason for the outbreak. Opposition to census taking and general dissatisfaction with the whites because of what the Indians believe to be encroachments on their rights are generally accepted as the cause of the trouble. The attack upon the Myers ranch is explained by the fact that Myers had fenced in a section of land which the Indians claimed.

Belle Grove opens tonight.

CARD OF THANKS

To our many kind friends and neighbors who take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness and words of condolence extended to us in the loss of our beloved husband and father and also to those who sent floral offerings. To all who are so graciously and promptly giving us their kindness shall never be forgotten by us.

BOARD OF TRADE

Committee on Street Improvement

The board of trade committee on new streets met yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock in the rooms of the Old Lowell National bank and discussed a number of important matters, including new streets, plans for the Andover street district and other improvements.

A few days ago the committee invited land owners of lower Andover street district to meet with it and discuss the committee's plan for making a street development. The tract lying between Wentworth avenue and the city line, as well as that land between the river and Andover street, make up the special district which was under consideration.

Charles I. Hood, together with Robert G. Bartlett, are the owners of the largest tract of land in the vicinity, and they sent George H. Taylor to represent them at yesterday's meeting. Albert E. O'Neil was present, and J. Harry Boardman represented Frank J. Ladd.

A long discussion was held over the proper layout of streets in the vicinity and Mr. Taylor assured the committee that the land he represented could very easily be accommodated to the committee's ideas. He said that Messrs. Hood and Bartlett would be willing to adopt the methods proposed and would be glad to enter into any agreement which would enable the land to be laid out to streets without reference to land owners and then have the land owners come to agreement among themselves as to a fair disposition of the spots where one owner suffered to the advantage of another.

At present there are no buildings to be erected on the land, and only a few land owners and the district could be laid out admirably.

The question of the need of topographical surveys in order that the streets might be laid out in an intelligent manner was brought up and City Engineer Bowers, who is a member of the surveying board, said that he had no funds of his department are too low to admit of such work being undertaken by the city. He said that the undulating country made a topographical survey almost necessary before proper street layouts could be made. ## GREAT INCREASE

The monthly statement of exports of breadstuffs, meats, food animals, cotton and mineral oils, issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, shows a total for the month of April, 1910, of 46.5 million dollars, against 53 million in April of last year; and for the 10 months ending with April, 1910, 700 million dollars, against 741 million in the corresponding months of last year. Wheat shows a material increase in the April movement, from 100,000 bushels in the month of April, 1909, to 2,569,423 bushels in April, 1910, against 309,929 bushels in April, 1909; but for the 10 months ending with April, 1910, the total is but 41,632,264 bushels, against 62,484,935 bushels in the corresponding months of last year. The export price of wheat averages more than 1 dollar of which the 10 months ending with April, 1910, the 41,632,264 bushels exported being valued at $42,870,099. Corn exports are for the 10 months ending with April, 1910, 20 3-4 million bushels against 33 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year; four about 8 million barrels against 9 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year; meat and dairy products 93 1-2 million dollars in the 10 months of 1910, against 123 million in the corresponding months of last year; cattle, hogs and sheep 11 1-2 million dollar value in the 10 months ending with April, 1910, against 15 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year; and mineral oils 78 1-2 million dollars in value, against 35 1-4 million in the corresponding months of last year. Cotton is the only article in the list which shows an increased value in exports during the 10 months ending with April, 1910, against 15 1-2 million in the corresponding months of last year. The average value of the cotton exported per pound in April, 1910, is 14 cents, and in April, 1909, 14 1-2 cents per pound, against 9 1-2 cents per pound in the corresponding months of last year.

DISQUALIFIED IN HIS BOUT WITH LEACH CROSS

NEW YORK, May 14.—Matty Baldwin of Boston was disqualified last night in the eighth round of a 10-round fight with Leach Cross of Brooklyn, before the National Sporting Club, Joe Hesse, the referee, was loudly hissed for his decision.

Baldwin had the better of the fight from the start and scored clean knockdowns in the third and sixth rounds.

One True Medicinal Whiskey

BEWARE OF SO-CALLED ONES—IMITATIONS

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of their profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low grade mixtures, which they tell you are "as good as" Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Some go so far as to try to make you believe it is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. These cheap concoctions are foisted on the people with the intent to deceive.

When a remedy has been before the public for more than half a century, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. They may imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain. Its palatability and its freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. It has been used with remarkable results in the treatment of consumption, pneumonia, grip, coughs, colds, malaria, fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions.

It is sold in sealed bottles only. The Old Chemist's Head on the label, and over the cork is an engraved seal. Be certain the seal is unbroken. Sold by druggists, grocers, dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle.

DAY NURSERY FAIR

Large Attendance at Prescott Hall

Large attendances marked the second day of the May Festival in aid of the Day Nursery, which is being held in Prescott hall and which will come to a close tonight. Yesterday afternoon hundreds of people were present, while in the evening the hall was packed to its capacity. Owing to the fact that the proceeds of the fair are to be devoted to a very worthy cause, the booths and sales tables have been well patronized.

The afternoon was devoted to bridge, the prizes being motor bouquets, hydranges and rubber plant and a brass bookrack for the ladies; and for the juvenile winners there was a tennis racket, a fishing rod, and two tennis covers. Mrs. Thomas Stott won first prize, Mrs. Harry Reed second, Mrs. F. T. Hatchelder third, Mrs. Fredrick A. Flather fourth, and Mrs. E. E. Hoxie fifth.

The managers of the whist played their sincere gratitude to the following people who contributed the prizes: Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. Rose Jordan, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. May Dunlap Leighton, Mrs. E. E. Hoxie, and Mrs. McManmon.

In the evening the operetta "Cupid's Garden," was repeated with the same cast as on the first night. This afternoon there was a matinee with a Punch and Judy show as a special attraction for the children, and also fancy dancing by the pupils of Miss Ferrin, and musical dancing for the young people. The supper menu, from 5 to 8, is as follows: Baked beans and brown bread, cold ham, chicken patties, chicken salad, ice cream, frozen pudding, tea and coffee.

The fair committee is very grateful to the Daniel Carroll for general assistance rendered before and during the fair.

POLICE CALLED HELD IN $1000

To Stop Wrestling Bout Men Are Accused of Being Pickpockets

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 14.—Owing to the roughness of the bout between John Perrell and William Demetrale in a wrestling match at the Queen City A. C. last night the police were obliged to interfere after the principals had struggled about the ring for twenty-five minutes without either one gaining a fall. Perrell and Demetrale squared off at each other and were engaging in a bareknuckle fight when the police stepped the bout. Much excitement prevailed and it appeared for a few moments that a riot would ensue.

In preliminaries, Lucien Landry defeated William Berry, both of Manchester, Landry throwing Berry three times in 21 minutes and 52 seconds. Landry agreed to throw Berry three times in one hour.

John Kilouis failed to win his bout with Fred Chenette of Manchester, his agreement being to throw Chenette twice within an hour. He won the first fall from Chenette in 41 minutes and 50 seconds but failed to throw him twice in the required period.

LABOR FIGHTS

SETTLED BY THE BOARD OF CONCILIATION

That the past year has been a favorable one for industrial arbitration is the opinion of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, as expressed in their annual report just published. "Industrial controversies of 1909," the report says, "with few exceptions resulted in mutual adjustments or in agreements to submit differences to arbitrators."

"Difficulties of the magnitude specified by statute, where strike had been declared or was expected, were few in which hostilities and threats had not been replaced by friendly overtures. The board often found that the parties were already seeking to terminate their contests and were willing to be advised."

During the year 104 applications were made to the board for intervention. Three of the controversies submitted were settled by agreement, two were abandoned and 15 were still under consideration at the end of the year. The remaining 84 controversies were determined in 63 decisions by the board, all of which have been accepted by both parties.

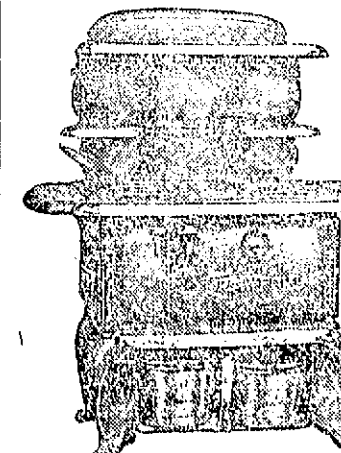

The bulk of the report is taken up with the 83 decisions of the board. The board is composed of Willard Howard, chairman, Richard P. Barry and Harry P. Morse.

6 O'CLOCK PICKETING BILL

Was Defeated in Lower Branch of the Legislature

BOSTON, May 14.—The senate yesterday, by a roll call, 8 to 24, refused to postpone the motion to reconsider the vote whereby the senate on Thursday refused to adopt the Riley resolution for a convention for a constitutional amendment to permit the election of U. S. senators by popular vote.

This action was taken after Senator Mailey of Springfield had moved a postponement, saying that he did so because Senator Farley of Frying, chairman of the committee on federal relations, was absent and he would like to debate the matter.

Senator Willmot R. Evans of Everett said he thought no agreement would be broken if the senate should act on the motion made by Senator Mahoney of Holyoke Thursday to reconsider the rejection of the resolve now. He did not believe that the senate would change its attitude. By a roll call, 6 to 24, the senate refused to postpone reconsideration. Those who voted for Senator Mailey's motion were: Harvey, Mahoney, Mailey, Nason, O'Connor, Teeling.

On the motion to reconsider the vote was:—Bunting, Butler, Mahoney, Mailey, Meany, Nason, O'Connor, Teeling.

No—Bennett, Blanchard, Bray, Burnham, Crosby, Denney, Evans, Greenwood, Harvey, Hubbard, Keith, Meilen, Mulligan, Nash, Newhall, Parker, Pickford, Rankin, Rockwood, Tinkham, Tolman, Turner, Tuttle, White.

Not voting—Doyle Lomasney, Farley, Ross, Treadway (president).

Senator Spalding's Salary
A resolve was introduced by Senator Blanchard of Somerville to pay the father of the late Senator Thorne-Wike Spalding of Cambridge the salary and mileage to which the senator would have been entitled had he lived to the close of the session.

On motion of Senator Tuttle of Pittsfield an order was adopted to print 300 copies of a Berkshire trolley bill for the use of the committee on railroads and street railways sitting jointly.

In the house yesterday morning the committee on ways and means reported ought not to pass on the bill to establish a homestead commission and to provide for the purchase of land by the commonwealth, and ought not to pass also on the bill relative to the taxation of property of a resident decedent not in the commonwealth at the time of his death.

The resolve directing the railroad commission to bring about the speedy abolition of the Sullivan square grade crossing in Charlestown was ordered on a rising vote, 25 to 3, to a third reading, 58 to 32.

The bill requiring the state board of education to assist teachers in securing positions was passed to be engrossed without debate, as was the bill making an appropriation of $65,000 for the New Bedford textile school.

The Pinkham peaceful picketing bill was rejected on a rising vote, 29 to 52, without debate, and a roll call was refused. Mr. Riley gave notice of a motion to reconsider on Monday.

The "rights on vehicles" bill was rejected without debate, 25 to 49. On motion of Mr. Cavanaugh of Everett the house reconsidered yesterday's rejection of the bill providing for an excise tax on express companies, and further consideration was postponed until Tuesday.

Without debate, the house passed to be engrossed the bill to regulate the issue of restraining orders and injunctions, and ordered to a third reading the bill providing that the hours of labor of street railway employees shall not exceed nine per day, and that they shall be performed within 11 consecutive hours.

Firecracker Bill Goes Over

Mr. Riley's motion to substitute for an adverse report a bill providing for a more effective enforcement of the law relative to the survey of lumber was opposed by Mr. Bayley of Lexington. Substitution was refused on a voice vote.

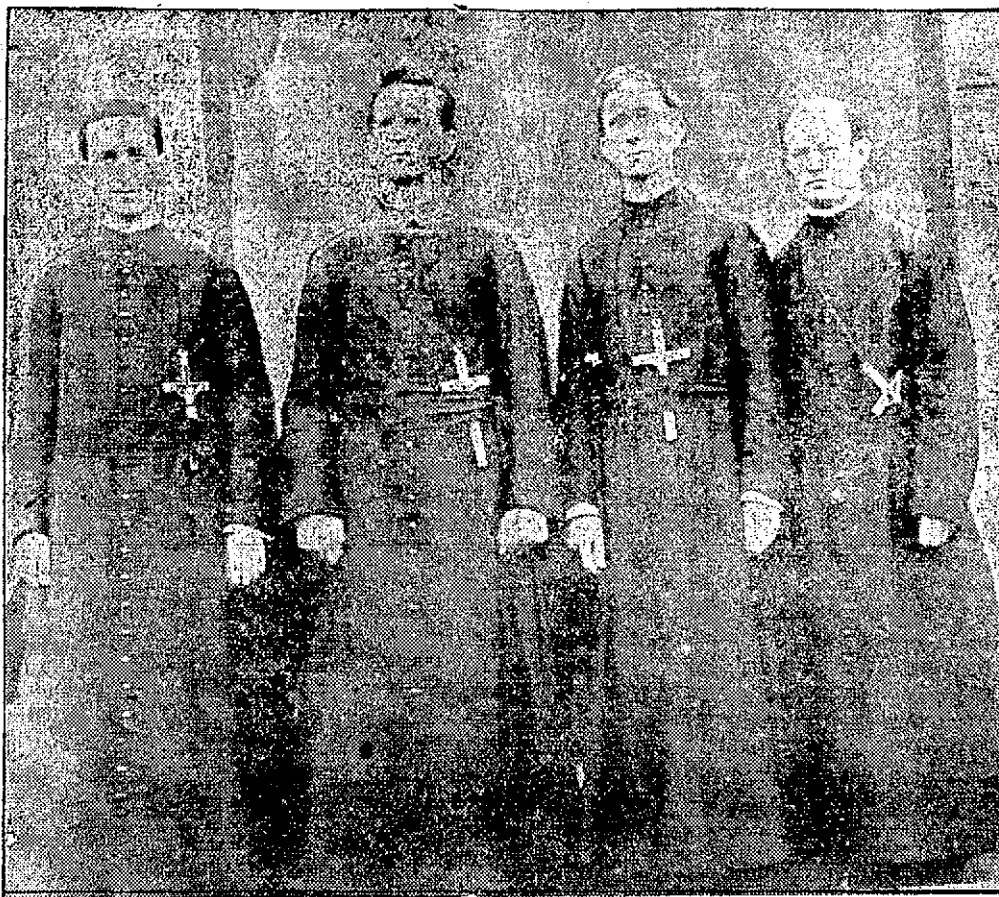

The adverse report of the committee on ways and means on the bill providing for reimbursing cities and towns for loss of taxes on land used for public institutions was laid over until Tuesday; the bill relative to the payment of pensions to the members of the teaching or supervising staff of the public schools of the city of Boston until Wednesday, and the bill to change the boundary line between the cities of Chelsea and Everett in Island Pond river until Thursday.

The bill to restrict the sale and use of fireworks and the bill to amend the collector's, treasurer's and penal institutions department in Boston under the civil service were laid over until Monday.

The resolve providing for an investigation of the employment and intelligence of officers of the commonwealth by the director of the bureau of statistics was ordered to a third reading without debate.

For the first time in many weeks the house disposed of every matter on its calendar and adjourned at 12:35 p. m.

Impressive Ceremony at Sacred Heart Church This Morning

With impressive ceremonies and in the presence of a congregation that filled the pretty church of the Sacred Heart, four young members of the Oblate order, three of whom are Lowell boys, were ordained to the priesthood by Most Rev. Archbishop Donnelly, O. M. I., D. D., titular archbishop of Ploianelli and superior general of the Oblate order.

The ceremony was of more than usual importance to the members of the order on account of the identity of the distinguished prelate who officiated. Archbishop Donnelly resides in Rome, but at present is on a tour of the Oblate houses on the American continent.

Yesterday 12 Oblate brothers received orders preparatory to ordination, the deaconate being bestowed upon the four young men who were ordained this morning. Prior to the ordination, which took place at a low mass, the following orders were given: Sub-deacon, Bro. Anthony Sewewski, O. M. I., Bro. Robert McCoy, O. M. I., Bro. Herbert Bisette, O. M. I., and Bro. Daniel McCullough, O. M. I.

The order of deacon was conferred on Rev. Daniel Barry, O. M. I., a resident of St. Patrick's parish in this city. The ordination followed the minor orders, the four young priests kneeling on prie Dieu before the main altar adorned in full vestments.

The ordaining prelate and celebrant of the mass was Archbishop Donnelly, who was assisted by Rev. John Foley, O. M. I., of Billerica as arch-deacon; Rev. John R. McElroy, O. M. I., as notary of the mass; Rev. Patrick Phelan, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, master of ceremonies, and Bro. John McLaughlin, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, assistant master of ceremonies.

Assisting within the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial; Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Barrett, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. I., Rev. Edmund J. Cornell, O. M. I., Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I., of Green Bay, Wis., Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., Rev. Henri Wattelle, O. M. I., Rev. Julian Racette, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Bernache, O. M. I., Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., Rev. Owen McQuade, O. M. I., Rev. Herve Racette, O. M. I., Rev. Charles Denicot, O. M. I., Rev. Edward Strauss, O. M. I., and 22 brothers from the Tewksbury novitiate. There were also present the Sisters of Mary of the Sacred Heart school and Sisters of Charity from St. John's hospital.

The four priests ordained were Rev. John J. Roche, O. M. I., Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., Rev. Edward J. Chaput, O. M. I., and Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., of Buffalo, N. Y.

The service lasted over two hours and concluded with the pontifical blessing upon all present. At the conclusion of the service the parents and relatives of the young priests, who occupied reserved seats near the altar, were invited into the sanctuary to receive the blessing of the newly ordained clergyman. It was intended to have the meeting for the relatives only but nearly all of the congregation filled in and kept before the young men, who occupied reserved seats near the altar, were invited into the sanctuary to receive the blessing of the newly ordained clergyman. composed by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell.

Rev. Fr. Roche will celebrate his first low mass at the Sacred Heart church tomorrow at 8 o'clock and his first high mass on Sunday, May 29th. Rev. Fr. Chaput will celebrate his first mass at the church of Notre Dame de Lourdes at 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Sketch of the New Priests
Rev. John J. Roche, O. M. I., was born in Ireland and in September, 1900, some two years after coming to this country, he entered the College of Holy Angels at Buffalo, N. Y., where he pursued his preparatory studies for the priesthood. He entered the Oblate novitiate at Tewksbury in August, 1904, receiving his perpetual vows in September, 1906. In June, 1908, he received the tonsure and was raised to minor orders. On October 9, 1909, he was ordained to a sub-deaconship. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roche of 85 Moore street, and a brother of Sister Isabella of the Sacred Heart convent of Notre Dame, Boston.

Rev. Edward J. Chaput, O. M. I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chaput, was born in St. John, Quebec, Canada, May 12, 1884. The following year his father moved to Lowell. The young priest received his early education at the Marist Brothers' school, Lowell, later attending the Oblate novitiate at Ottawa, following a classical course at the university. In 1905 he began his novitiate at Tewksbury, where he made his final vows in the Oblate order in September, 1906. He has been at Tewksbury pursuing his theological studies since that time.

Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1886. He is the son of Mrs. Winifred M. O'Brien and the late John M. O'Brien, after completing his classical studies in Holy Angels college, Buffalo, he entered the scholastic at Tewksbury, where he has pursued his philosophical and theological studies.

Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., is a son of Mrs. Mary Millerick Wood and the late Frank C. Wood, one time superintendent of police. After graduating from the Sacred Heart school he entered the preparatory college of Holy Angels, Buffalo. In the spring of 1903 he attended the Lowell high school. In the fall of the same year he went to the University of Ottawa, where he completed his classical studies. His first vows were made in 1906, and since that time he has been pursuing his ecclesiastical studies at the scholastic at Tewksbury. Fr. Wood enjoys the unusual privilege of being ordained and of celebrating his first mass in the same church where he received his first communion and was ordained. As he is not yet 24 years old, a dispensation from the pope was necessary for his ordination to the priesthood.

All four young priests will return to the novitiate at Tewksbury where they will continue their studies for another year.

Confirmation at St. Joseph's
At St. Joseph's church at 3:30 yesterday afternoon Archbishop Donnelly administered confirmation to a class of 159 girls and 125 boys. Prior to the service His Grace was tendered a reception by the children of St. Joseph's school and college an account of which appeared in The Sun last evening.

The archbishop was assisted in administering the sacrament by Rev. Fr. Wattelle, O. M. I., superior of the parish, and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church. Rev. Fr. Donnelly, O. M. I., spiritual director of the boys, and Rev. Fr. Gratton, O. M. I., spiritual director of the girls, were masters of ceremonies.

nificance of the sacrament they were about to receive.

Acting as sponsors to the children receiving the sacrament were Mrs. Pachariste Champagne, president of St. Anne's sodality, and Mr. Lavordiere, president of the Holy Family sodality. Attending the service was a congregation that completely filled the church.

Gilmore's, Belle Grove, tonight.

THE IRISH LEAGUE

To Hear Rev. Dr. Keleher Tomorrow

There was a well attended meeting of the executive committee of the United Irish league at A. O. H. hall last evening, at which arrangements were made for a public meeting in the same hall on Sunday evening. It was announced that Rev. Dr. Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church, would deliver an address and a musical program of a high order will be presented. Among the singers will be the well known young baritone, Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy, of St. Patrick's choir.

Announcement was made that the second biennial convention of the American league would be held this year in Buffalo, N. Y., on September 27 and 28. Messrs. John E. Redmond, T. P. O'Connor and Joseph Devlin will attend as a delegation from the Irish party. They will remain in this country about six weeks going in different directions to address meetings. It was voted to send to the national secretary, Mr. John O'Connell, an urgent request to have John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, speak in Lowell before his return.

The meeting on tomorrow evening is free to the public and all friends of the cause, particularly the old members are invited, as the address of Rev. Dr. Keleher is sure to be a rare treat.

Cut prices for camera users. See page six.

TWO ACCIDENTS

At the Lowell Machine Shop

The ambulance was called to the Lowell Machine shop in Dutton street twice this morning to remove employees who had met with accidents. About 8 o'clock Joseph Stafford, residing at 8 Dutton street, had his left leg injured as a result of a heavy beam falling on that member. He was taken to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

Shortly after 9 o'clock James E. Stuart, of 40 West Adams street, had his left hand caught in a heading machine in the wood shop and three fingers were removed. He was also taken to the Lowell hospital.

A PISTOL BATTLE

Two Persons Are Dead and Two Others Injured

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 14.—Two persons are dead and two injured today as a result of a pistol battle between the police and a saloon keeper shortly before midnight last night. The fight followed the efforts of Officer Ammons to close Danson's saloon which was open after lawful hours. After some heated words Patrolman Ammons proceeded to shut Dan Danson when the latter's son, Harry, opened fire on the officer shattering the hand which held the club. Ammons then drew his gun and fired six shots, every one of which took effect in the body of the elder Danson who fell dead in his tracks.

Policeman Heise, attracted by the shooting, was shot through the head by young Danson as he entered the saloon. A woman was hit by a stray bullet and her condition is serious. Harry Danson was placed in jail and a formal charge of murder entered against him.

SUGAR SCANDAL CASES

Misfortune Seems to be Pursuing Witnesses in Them

NEW YORK, May 14.—Misfortune seems to be pursuing witnesses in the sugar scandal cases. Recently Richard Parr, star witness in preceding trials and expected to figure prominently in the trial of Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Refining Co., was threatened with peritonitis and it is still uncertain whether he can appear at the trial next week. Today it was learned that Otto Schmetzer, one of the American Sugar Refining Co.'s bookkeepers, a man upon whose testimony the government's legal lights depend even more largely in the Heike prosecution, is seriously ill. The prospects are that he will be unable to testify.

Parr uncovered the crooked work with the scales on the Williamsburg sugar docks which sent a quartet of checkers and Oliver Spitzer, their boss, to the penitentiary after a sensational trial on the government's charges that they had conspired to defraud the customs in underweighing sugar cargoes in process of importation by means of cheating scales. The hole in the scale post, the concealed spring and the signal for the use of caution at the inspectors' approach, which figured in Parr's declarations—were classics in sugar scandal history. Schmetzer, at his post in the sugar company offices, checked the weighing operations. It was the scales he prepared and concerning which he testified at previous trials that enabled the government to take about the differences proving the underweighing, which sent the checkers to prison and which resulted in the refunding to the government by the sugar company of more than $2,000,000 in duties. Schmetzer is said to have suffered a breakdown as a result of the laborious work he did in making the computations and the nervous strain of the long continued prosecutions.

The government counsel are somewhat cast down at the illness of Parr and the indicated breakdown of Schmetzer. They insist, however, that other evidence has been developed that makes their case stronger than ever and that the trial of Heike and others accused in the sugar conspiracy cases will start next Monday, according to schedule.

BANKERS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Ten prominent Pittsburghers, including bankers, physicians and politicians, faced Judge Frazer in criminal courts today to receive their sentences on various charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with councilman corruption recently exposed. All except one have already pleaded no defense to indictments alleging the giving and receiving of bribe money. When court opened the name of A. A. Vilsack, former cashier of the German National bank, was called. Vilsack's attorney, ex-Gov. William A. Stone, moved for an argument to appeal any sentence that might be forthcoming later. At the conclusion of the argument Judge Frazer imposed a sentence of eight months in the county jail and a fine of $500.

BIG OYSTER GROWER DEAD

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 14.—Robert Pettis of this city, 90 years of age, the oldest and most prominent oyster grower and dealer in Rhode Island, died at his summer home at Pawtuxet Neck today. Since 1845 he had followed the oyster industry steadily, owning all of the best beds along the coast.

ROOSEVELT AS AMBASSADOR

LONDON, May 14.—When Mr. Roosevelt arrives here on Monday morning he will have dropped the role of a private citizen and so will be accorded the honors due to the special American ambassador to the funeral of King Edward VII. King George today designated two aides-de-camp to attend upon the American ambassador during his stay in London. These are Lord Dundonald and Commander Charles E. Cunningham-Graham, both distinguished in the service of the crown.

Lord Dundonald served with Sir Herbert Stewart's column for the relief of Khartoum and was subsequently commander of the mounted brigade of the Natal army and commander of the Canadian militia in the Boer war.

Commander Cunningham-Graham is a groom-in-waiting to his majesty the king. He served for many years in the royal navy.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, May 14.—With Chief of Field Division Schwartz, the man who has assumed all responsibility for every step taken by the interior department in the Cunningham claims, on the stand, the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation proceeded today. When the committee met today the request of Mr. Brandeis, counsel for J. R. Glavis, that Atty. Gen. Wickersham should be subpoenaed as a witness, remained to be acted upon.

"JIM" JEFFRIES

To be Assisted in Training by Brother

BEN LOMOND, Cal., May 14.—Jim Jeffries has been urged on in his training by his brother Jack who arrived here recently and who is expected to furnish the big fighter grueling ring work during the remainder of Jim's training. It has been many years since Jack has donned the mitts for a scrap in the arena but he is in fair shape and says he is now prepared to go up against Jim in light bouts and from now on the brothers are expected to box together regularly. For the last two years Jack has been in Mexico and has not seen his brother since leaving the states.

"I have studied Jim closely since I have been here," said Jack last night. "From every viewpoint I honestly believe Jim is going to be better in this fight with Johnson than he ever was. I think Johnson is going to be a snap for him."

Just before leaving last evening for San Francisco, Sam Berger, in discussing the referee question intimated that the situation seemed so tangled that an eastern man would probably have to be selected.

Latest music, Belle Grove, tonight.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 14.—Having completed his inspection of the Pikes mines, in which a disastrous explosion occurred May 5, Chief State Mine Inspector Hillhouse stated that the explosion was due to the lighting of a pocket of gas and the prevalence of dust in the mines.

Eighty-three bodies were recovered from the mine.

YALE MISSION

HAS BEEN PLACARDED FOR DESTRUCTION BY FIRE

PEKING, May 14.—Advices from Chang-Sha, the capital of the disturbed province of Hunan, state that the Yale mission in that city has been placarded for destruction by fire but that the plot of the native rioters has not been executed. The foreigners who were beginning to return to Chang-Sha are again living on the boats in the river under the protection of the Chinese authorities or of their own gangs.

Some persons from Changsu have arrived at Chang-Sha.

CORNELL VS. PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., May 14.—The Cornell-Princeton track meet this afternoon is expected for the first time in years to prove a close contest. The Ithacans have always romped away with the annual meet met by a large score, but Princeton's heavy losses by graduation, have equalized conditions.

HALLEY'S COMET

Seen by Harvard Men This Morning

CAMBRIDGE, May 14.—Halley's comet has attained first magnitude and tomorrow morning will give one of its last performances in the eastern sky preparatory to fulfilling a long and brilliant engagement in the west during the evenings of May, June and July. It is looked for a return engagement in 1985, but only the youngest children of the present day will be admitted.

The Harvard observatory astronomers caught a fleeting glimpse of the visitor this morning when the clouds broke and showed the comet burning like a firebrand low in the east. Then the curtain of haze again shut off the searchers' gaze. But in those few seconds it revealed itself grandly and was a match for Vega, sparkling overhead. It also showed that its splendor will make it a thrilling object about a week from today when it will sweep across the western sky and carry consternation to the superstitious of the world.

MORSE PLEASED

That Heinze Has Been Acquitted

ATLANTA, Ga., May 14.—Probably no friend or former business associate finds deeper joy in the acquittal of F. Augustus Heinze than Charles W. Morse, the New York banker who is serving a fifteen year term in the Atlanta federal prison and who lives in daily hope that efforts being made by his attorney and other powerful friends will serve to bring to him the same freedom that Heinze enjoys.

"The glad indeed that Heinze is cleared and I expected no other results from a fair trial," said the imprisoned banker. "Furthermore, I am thoroughly hopeful that justice will soon be done me and I will enjoy my freedom again."

COUNTING OUR POPULATION.

Some of the census enumerators report that a lot of people hide to avoid them, thinking that a meeting with the census enumerator means the subsequent visit of a poll tax collector. If this report be true we can rely that the population will not be fully counted, and that Lowell will not, therefore, get a square deal. If some of the enumerators, on the other hand, shirk their work and make it easy for those who so desire to escape being counted, then we may be sure the census will show no increase of population for Lowell.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

In his Berlin speech Col. Roosevelt essayed the profound and philosophical to a greater extent than he has attempted on any previous occasion perhaps. Yet when boiled down his speech amounts to little more than what he delivered in much simpler terms in France regarding the necessity of maintaining the homely, every day, all important virtues that guarantee large families of healthy children, good citizenship and a readiness to fight against a foreign enemy. Without these virtues he said a nation is liable to fail and to vanish like some of those known now only to history. And as the individual should be a good citizen so the nation has a duty first to itself and then to the world in the general movement for the highest and most enduring civilization.

TO OBSERVE THE COMET.

Those who are interested in the coming of Halley's comet should cut out the illustration in yesterday's Sun and keep it for reference when the comet appears next week. It shows the relative positions of the earth and the comet for various dates, making particularly clear the positions of both bodies in reference to the sun from May 6 to May 30. It will be noted that on May 18 the comet will reach its nearest point to the earth which is about 14,000,000 miles distant. As the tail of the comet, which is nothing more than electrified dust and gas, reaches out millions of miles on the side remote from the sun, our planet may pass through a portion of it, but there will be no danger of injurious effects. It is surmised that the approach of the comet may exert some influence on the workings of the wireless telegraph. As this is the first time the effect of a comet's approach on the wireless could be observed, those who are interested in that science will watch for any unusual influence upon the ethereal waves.

THE ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS.

As was expected, the Massachusetts senate promptly killed the bill favoring an amendment of the constitution so as to provide for election of United States senators by popular vote. Only two more states are needed with the 29 that have already voted upon the question to make the two-thirds necessary to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of formulating an amendment to the constitution in regard to the mode of selecting United States senators.

There have been so many instances in which United States senators seemed to have been in league with large corporations profiting by congressional measures that collusion has been suspected. Then again there have been many instances in which senators were charged with securing their election by corrupt methods. Indeed, there are two senators at the present time accused of this offense. The people seem to have lost confidence in the United States senate as at present constituted, although there are members of that body who are absolutely incorruptible and who are men of the most eminent ability. Nevertheless, the senate is like every other public body—its reputation is smirched by the action of a few members.

It is quite probable that this question rejected so unceremoniously by twenty members of the Massachusetts senate may be submitted to popular vote next November. It is quite likely, however, that of the states yet to vote upon the measure at least two will vote in favor of it and thus furnish the number necessary for calling a constitutional convention.

THE REJECTION OF HIBBARD.

The rejection of Ex-mayor Hibbard of Boston as appointee for tax collector is probably the last blow that frail gentleman can stand. There were two reasons for the rejection, one because of his physical infirmity for any position requiring close attention and the other because his appointment seemed to be in payment of a political debt. If the commission would never do anything worse than this it might well be forgiven.

The system under which the commission is given power to hold up the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald on secret information conveyed in anonymous letters or orally by irresponsible individuals, political enemies of the officials appointed, official outbursts, unscrupulous liars, hypocrites and humbugs, is one that belongs to past ages, and should not be tolerated under a republican form of government because it encourages calumny, slander and false testimony. Under the shield of secrecy it protects the most infamous liars and assassins of character, while the men attacked have no opportunity to defend themselves because they are acquainted with neither the nature of the charges nor the identity of the authors. No such star chamber method can long survive if justice is to prevail. It is unfair to the candidates appointed and it is unfair to Mayor Fitzgerald who has to bear the responsibility for the government of the city of Boston.

The civil service commission is a state body and thus vested with a certain power over the choice of department heads for the city of Boston we see how pernicious its influence may be. Unless the commission shows more fairness and justice in its judgment of the appointees of Mayor Fitzgerald, some of the members should be removed to give place to men who will not permit any good man to be defeated by the secret vilification of men who dare not make the charges publicly.

Everybody connected with the publication of newspapers knows what vile stuff is sent in by anonymous writers against men in public and even in private life.

SEEN AND HEARD

Conductors find that their experience with people gives them occasion to study their ways and habits to a degree and in a way that would scarcely be possible even by such close association as living in the same neighborhood with them. A conductor on one of the city lines remarked that one of the passengers in his car, which happened to be filled with ladies, had paid, and he would like to know which one it was. A man riding on the rear platform remarked that he would offer the suggestion that any one evading the conductor could be detected by the way in which she nervously occupied herself with some personal attention to herself as the conductor was passing along the aisle. "Look for the one who fiddles with her hatpins or her hair," he remarked. "They always do something like that when they are trying to beat their fare. I've seen them." This was a suggestion to the conductor, and he replied "I'll try that." He walked up the aisle toward the front of the car. A few moments afterward he returned to the rear vestibule and as he closed the door the man inquired, "Well was I right?" The conductor nodded a little sheepishly. "Yes, sir," he replied. "She-e-e said you'd do it." "Me? I never heard of such impudence in all my life. Me pay her fare. What does she take me for?" This was too much for the conductor, and he began to think that the man was trying to evade his responsibility. She's the woman sitting at the end of the car on the right hand side," the conductor remarked in a firm manner, at the same time nodding his head in that direction. The man in the vestibule kind of half apologized, and at the same time began to look for a ticket, remarking sulkily as he passed the coin to the conductor, "Oh, yes, I perceive. I know her. She—happens to be my wife."

Into the office of a banking firm the other afternoon walked the boss. The office boy, with feet on his employer's desk, was whistling gaily and the sound reached the other offices. "Young man," said the boss sternly, "there is no way for you to behave. You asked me to raise your pay recently, I cannot do so if you are going to forget yourself as to whistle in my office."

The office boy looked up meekly and replied, "I wanted to show that I could still be cheerful in spite of my miserable salary."

The boss, in telling the story, said that he was so much impressed by the answer that the lad got an extra dollar on his weekly stipend.

Striking his cane at intervals on the sidewalk, a blind man was making fairly good progress.

His familiar tap of the cane and shuffle of feet attracted the attention of other pedestrians, who stepped aside and gave him the right of way. For several squares everything went and his hat fell from his head and rolled into the gutter. "You fool why don't you watch where you are going. Didn't you hear me knocking my stick on the ground?" The other man stood still and said nothing.

"Pick up my hat," shouted the first blind man, growing exasperated, "can't you see that I am blind?"

At the mention of the word "blind" the other man smiled. "Well isn't that unusual," he muttered and then turning around and touching the other on the arm he added, "You must forgive me. I didn't know that you were blind, for I am blind myself."

WHAT THE SPARROW CHIRPS
I am only a little sparrow,
A bird of low degree;
My life is of little value,
But the dear Lord careth for me.

He gave me a coat of feathers
This very plain I know,
With never a speck of crimson,
For it was not made for show.

By and by when it is springtime
I will build me a little nest,
With many a chirp of pleasure,
In the spot I like the best.

I have no barn or storehouse,
Neither sow nor reap;
God gives me a sparrow's portion,
With never a speck to keep.

I fly through the thickest forests,
I light on the smallest spray;
I have no chart or compass,
But I never lose my way.

I am only a little sparrow,
A bird of low degree;
But I know the dear Lord loves me,
Have you less faith than I?

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Marilla Ricker, one year old, of Dover, N. H., is thought to have more grandparents than any other girl in New England. She has eight grandmothers and three grandfathers.

Justices of the Peace W. A. Purcell of Jersey City will give 1000 trading stamps to each couple he marries between now and July 1. He has performed 500 ceremonies and wants to make it 1,000 by that date.

Lawyer Francis J. Heney, the celebrated graft prosecutor of the Pacific coast, has gone to New York to practice.

Lady Mair Mackenzie, wife of the senior member of the governor's council, is said to be the moving spirit of the women's club of Poona, India. At a recent exhibition of women's work in the club rooms, she made a speech in defense of the women of India and their dissatisfaction with present-day conditions.

Senators have held that this dissatisfaction was not confined to India alone, but was a world movement including every civilized nation.

Miss Gertrude Jordan, who was elected last November on the republican ticket treasurer of Cherry County, Nebraska, is entitled to hold that office. That was the decision of the supreme court of Nebraska, which says that under the constitution there is nothing to bar a woman from filling such a place. Miss Jordan's predecessor refused to surrender the office to her, on the ground that a woman is not competent under the statutes. Judge Jacob Favett dissented from the majority opinion, on the ground that it was establishing a dangerous precedent, urging that if a woman were competent to be county treasurer, there was no reason why she should not be governor.

By appointment of the Yale corporation, G. G. McCurdy of Peabody Museum, will represent the university at the International Congress of Americanists to be held in the city of Mexico next September. Mr. McCurdy will make archaeological researches in various parts of the country and may visit also the Chiriqui Indian region of Panama for the purpose of adding to the Chiriqui collection in the museum obtained by the late Professor G. C. March. This summer Professor H. E. Gregory will, under the direction of the United States geological survey, again visit Arizona to investigate the water supply of that territory.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Four full shows are given at the Opera House today, starting at 1.30, 3.7 and 8.30, and it will be the last opportunity of witnessing the current program which includes Berthe Fowler in a clever monolog and character impersonations; Prince Kanuzawa and brother, wonderful Japanese acrobats; Johnnie Wise and company in a comedy, singing and dancing sketch; and Davila and Davila, vocalists. The pictures are all new and include a biograph as well as a number of other good subjects. Tomorrow, afternoon and evening, a fine concert program has been arranged and will include an entire change of pictures, Iroh, Webster in new songs, Katherine Stowell, and Davila and Davila. Prices at the Opera House are always five and ten cents and are always insured of seeing a two program at this theatre and one of the biggest and best ever shown here for the money.

Another big program will be seen at the Opera House next week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Today at the Academy the performance will run continuous. Heading the vaudeville is the Paul Azard Trio, who are excellent hand-balancers and acrobats. Musical Faust is a finished musical and the way he handles musical instruments is wonderful. A fine list of moving pictures is shown and the biograph "Love Among the Roses," is one of the best love dramas ever released by the biograph company. Claudia Bessette is making a hit singing "I've Lost My Gal" in a way that pleases, and the travelogues of the different countries are instructive and entertaining. A complete change of program tomorrow, and a continuous performance. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

STAR THEATRE

Eight pictures will command the attention of Lowell sports on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the Star theatre. The Wolgast-Nelson battle of over 40 rounds will be depicted as it originally went, and Lowell sports will be the first in New England outside of Boston, to view the pictures which are regarded as the best ever produced showing a prize fight. A lecturer will be on hand to explain everything. First of all, Ad. Wolgast will be shown in his training quarters; then Battling Nelson will be seen in his training stunts. We will next watch the crowds going into the arena. Before the battle starts, the promoters introduce Owen Moran, Harlem Tommy Murphy and many others. Now the fighters are called to the centre of the ring and instructed by the referee. They return to their respective corners and in a few seconds are up at the top of the first round starting one of the fiercest battles in ring history.

The pictures have been booked for Lowell at such an early date only under big expense. The sports of Lowell will be able to get a line on the fighters and pick their man for the second clash of the sturdy Ad. Wolgast and the famous Battling Nelson.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Every one of the new acts at the Empire theatre, which constitute today's program, is a feature in itself. There is a selection of the best vaudeville and an assortment of the funniest pictures on the market, including the leading comedy and dramatic subjects which go to make up such a show as picture lovers like.

The vaudeville numbers are of a high class. Mr. Arthur Young in their musical comedy, "Early Days East," have again made a hit, just as they have done on previous days. Lillian Maynard in her singing specialty act keeps up the fun and is encased several times, her singing is so good. Mr. Charles Rogers sings a ballad with illustrations.

For Sunday, a list of pictures has been selected which cannot help but

THEATRE VOYONS

Tomorrow's concert at the Theatre Voyons will equal in quality any ever given for the closest attention is paid to securing the best pictures and musical features for Sunday performances. The admission is but ten cents to any part of the theatre. On Monday a big bill will be offered, the feature of which will be "Roosevelt in Cairo" which shows Teddy in a dozen different places in that interesting city and once both the Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt appear riding on camels bound for a trip to the pyramids. This is the first worth while picture of the ex-president since he left the wilds and should be seen by all. Another feature will be "Cleopatra" played by an excellent actress and staged in the best possible manner by Pathé.

GREENS ARE TABOO TO WOMEN WHEN NOT LOOKING THEIR BEST --- SMART FOULARDS

FOLLOWING the example of the trees and shrubs, we have chosen this spring to dress in all possible shades of green—from the murky golden green of abnath to the fresh cool green of the lettuce.

Green, however, is difficult to wear. We must be well and strong in body to do this charming nuance. True, like

Even our tussore silks seek relief from the monotony of their sand-colored schemes in gay printed borders of rosebuds or poppy flowers. And, as you know, bordered fabrics are very chic this season, and the borders are being used everywhere but where they are entitled to be. They appear as brotals, they edge fichus, they are seen in the guise of coat revers—in for ribbons just now. We wear endless yards of ribbon on our hats, on our neck ruffles and on our dresses. Sometimes a black ribbon is used in the guise of a stock. There is a stiff bow in the front, with long ends that reach down to the knees. This is an extremely new stock and has the Parisian approval of the moment. When black is not becoming or advisa-

gear worn by the officers of Napoleon's army. In the "modern instance" the hat is of taupe hemp straw, with horse feathers. To say that it is a Georgeanna model stamps it as the last word of fashion.

Millinery gets more and more festive, and some of the hats are perfect flower gardens. All the flowerettes that one could gather on a country walk be very careful of their complexions, for some of the shades worn are very trying, such as vivid red that borders on purple or the whole gamut of yellows, which are not flattering to all women. Some of the shot materials if all chosen show up the lines of age. Still, the materials and colorings of the season are so fascinating that a woman is almost tempted to risk the

ALL ABOUT THE HOUSE

HOW TO CARE FOR WOOD FLOORS.

A HOUSEKEEPER who is noted for her neatness says that a wood floor is as much care as a baby. This is no doubt true, and yet a little attention given systematically to the floor each day is productive of splendid results. A flannel bag made to slip over the bristles of the broom makes an excellent and convenient polisher. The wood floor should be swept each morning with this flannel covered broom, and twice a week it should be carefully oiled. If the floor is of hard wood use linseed oil, while if it is stained or painted the inexpensive crude oil will answer just as well. It should be rubbed upon the floor with cheesecloth rather than flannel to avoid the lint scattering over the floor. Deep stained or varnished floors should be wiped lightly and frequently with a solution of milk and water.

A USEFUL BRACKET.

It is often difficult in a small room to know how to dispose of soiled linen. A basket is expensive, often in the way and is not ornamental, while a bag swinging on the door is unsightly. Both outlying and unsightliness may be avoided by procuring a cheap corner bracket with a shelf, enameling it and fixing it from thirty inches to thirty-six inches from the floor.

Next make a clothes bag, the bottom being stiffened out by means of a three cornered piece of cardboard. Into the upper hem run a piece of stout wire, bending it so as to fit into the corner of the wall to keep the bag open. Sew a hook under each corner of the bracket and sew a loop of tape at each corner of the bag to hang it by, allowing space between the top of the bag and the shelf to drop in the linen easily.

WHEN MEASURING MEDICINE.

When drops have to be measured out of a medicine bottle cut a small notch at the edge of the cork just big enough for one drop to come through at a time.

This answers the same purpose as a lip. The cork should be pushed well in when not in use to keep in the strength of the contents of the bottle.

GIFT FOR THE TRAVELER.

A useful gift for the traveler is a cushion covered with heavy crash and decorated with raffia in a simple design. This pillow is made from eighteen to twenty inches long, and sixteen to eighteen inches in width will be a desirable size. Diamonds, squares or any other geometrical design should be worked on both sides, using strands of raffia in harmonizing shades.

The bottom of the pillow may be finished with a fringe of the raffia and the top fitted with handles made from the raffia braided into strands. This is for convenience when carrying the pillow from place to place.

RHUBARB RIVAL OF HALLEY'S COMET

LIKE Halley's comet, the rhubarb season is at hand, and the occasion serves to prove that there are pessimists and alarmists in every walk of life and thought. While one school of astronomers is busy hinting at all kinds of deadly dangers we are to face when our earth passes through the fiery tail of our illustrious visitor, medical men are to be heard lifting up their voices in a similar minor key and uttering the warning that rhubarb, the tart filling for pie, is nothing better than poison.

We are told that there can be no possible doubt of the injurious effects of eating rhubarb. The harm is due by the abundance of oxalate of lime in the vegetable—or dare it be called fruit? This is in the form of oxalic crystals, which are hidden away in the center of the bundle of cells that make up the heart of the stalk. If any still doubt let him know that these crystals are known as raphides and, being practically insoluble, set up irritation in the stomach and intestines and finally in the kidneys. Generous consumption of rhubarb easily can be responsible for gravel, gallstones and similar troubles, and the crisper the rhubarb the more dangerous it is, according to some physicians. Halley's comet, after all, will not have to shoulder the blame of all the troubles that may afflict mankind.

An Adjustable Petticoat.

THE petticoat with an adjustable flounce is one of the most useful garments a girl can add to her summer outfit. The skirt may be made of silk, and the flounces may be attached by means of a series of buttonholes in the flounce and buttons on the skirt or when the skirt material is not washable glove snappers are excellent for this purpose.

The skirt illustrated is of white silk and the flounce of embroidered chiffon.

display of a few facial lines to don them. Indeed, never was dress more luxurious and more seductive. The only crucial point is, What are women to do to whom money is a consideration? It is not only dress itself, but all the accessories it is made up of that run away with money. But if a woman has the instinct of dress in her composition the sartorial situation is robbed of much of its seriousness.

CATHERINE TALBOT.

TO RID THE HOUSE OF ANTS AND MOTHS

ANTS may be driven from closet, sink and pantry by painting the infested places with a strong solution of alum. Potash and sugar in equal parts dissolved in water also make an efficient ant exterminator.

A simple plan is to "paint" a bit of lath or thick cardboard with jelly, honey or sirup. The ants are attracted by the smell and will settle upon the stick. They cannot get away and may easily be destroyed together with the bit of wood.

An excellent dry exterminator for ants, roaches, centipedes, etc., is made by mixing borax, flour and powdered sugar in equal parts and sprinkling the infested regions very thickly with the powder.

Few moth preventives are as good as the old fashioned white pepper, freshly ground or pounded in a mortar just before using. Applied by means of an insect "gun" it will render fur coats, cloaks and skirts which have been thoroughly brushed and aired immune from the pests.

An excellent liquid spray for furniture and carpets as well as for treating closet shelves and corners is made as follows: For a pint of alcohol use six red peppers and two ounces of gum camphor. With your scissors cut the peppers into shreds and together with the camphor put into the bottle of alcohol. Let the mixture stand well corked for thirty-six hours, strain through a piece of muslin and apply from an atomizer or with a brush. Keep this mixture away from fire and light, as it is very inflammable.

THE NAPOLEON HAT

the Parisiennes, we can rough up to it, but that is another story.

My advice is for a fallow woman to let green costumes severely alone, but the rosy cheeked blond with pink cheeks looks her best in the livery of spring.

In foulard and voile green is a delightful color scheme to select, and these materials breathe the perfume of simplicity—to the uninformed. Alas, how deceptive are outward appearances! The truth is we have complicated everything nowadays, dress included. Our smart foulard gowns, beflowered and fanciful, are veiled in a mist of mousseline de soie, which enhances their charm and their price, for we have two dresses to buy instead of one. But foulard lends itself to simple effects delightfully, and altogether it is one of the most serviceable gowns a woman can own for summer wear. It is cool; it does not crease; it can be worn by young and old. What more would you have, readers mine?

To continue the story of foulard, its suppleness allows for all the new modes of trimming. It can be fashioned into quilting, frilling, ruffles and flounces, all of which are indispensable adornments for our sheath-like skirts. We have forgotten the ways of the stiff old foulard. Those we wear now have the suppleness of satin, and they are beflowered or show dots in all sizes and checks galore, which latter designs in black and white make up into smart "tailored frocks," enlivened by a touch of the chamoisier red.

fact, they make the most original and inexpensive of trimmings. One of the gowns illustrated is of natural colored tussore with a Persian border, which is used for the trimming scheme.

There is a tendency to discard the painted skirts and to do away with all but the back and side plaits, and very lovely are the Greek tunics of silk muslin with khono tops, which veil some of the short satin frocks. Tall, slim women are affecting the three-tiered skirt, and those of less Juno-like proportions are content with merely two flounces. In thin materials quilted headings are used to finish these flounced gowns, with rosettes of the silk, satin or whatever the trimming used to trim the side or fronts. These rosettes illustrate the passion

ble to use about the neck of a frock the new Egyptian blues, which savor of metallic green, are much in favor, and a bright chamoisier or cherry red has captured Paris. For the nonce it is seen in straw hats or the broad ribbons worn under the chiffon veiling blouse. But to speak of hats, the Napoleon chapeau is having things all its own way this season, and a 1910 hat that has its inception from the French period at the time of "the Little Corporal" is reproduced in the shape pictured. It is an exact copy of the head-

are grouped together, with bits of moss, ferns and asparagus plant thrown in. Black velvet flowers continue fashionable. The strangest shapes are seen, and it is said that low crowns are coming in, but most eccentric of all are the models with jockey crowns of finely plaited silk muslin and black and white straw brims. Chamois colored straws are very smart, and there is a new shade called raisin de carnth, which is really a reddish shade of plum color. And, apropos of the new colors, women this season will have to

THIS problem is soon solved. It is because women of the present day are too extravagant, and the reason of this is that so many girls are never brought into contact with the experiences of home life.

If mothers would teach their daughters how to be economical wives and allow them to take their part in the household duties and teach them how to cook and go through household accounts much unhappiness might be prevented.

For instance, a girl leaves her home, where she has been accustomed to every luxury and comfort, and marries a man in receipt of a small income and expects to live in the same style as before, forgetting that her husband's income will not allow it.

In many cases the husband lunches out and the wife might prepare a dainty little meal that he could take with him, which would be a great saving.

The wife, too, if she is clever with her needle, can make a number of pretty things to wear, so that she can look her best at all times. It is a great mistake for a woman to think that because she has married she need not trouble about her personal appearance any longer.

She should recognize that if her petty troubles of home life are serious how much more serious are her husband's business worries and anxieties, and she should endeavor to brighten his life with her love and womanly sympathy.

It is possible for a young couple to be happy though poor when each tries to make the home a place of cheerfulness, but the great trouble now is that young people want to begin where their parents left off.

A PRETTY WEDDING GIFT.

Are You Taking Care of Baby's Skin?

A PHYSICIAN who makes the care of children a special study has remarked that "there is nothing of more importance to the well being of a child than the care which is bestowed on their skins." There can be no doubt that from the very earliest start of an infant's life the mother ought to pay particular attention to the condition of her child's skin so that it may not become irritated, for irritation of any sort is a great source of discomfort. One of the most usual causes of this irritation is lack of absolute cleanliness, which is perhaps quite a different matter from what is ordinarily regarded as cleanliness. The skin of children is peculiarly sensitive, especially that of very young ones, and should be washed with the softest water obtainable and with good, pure soap.

Water for a baby's bath can be softened by putting into it a handful of coarse oatmeal, but it is an inconvenient way of using it, and it is much better to put the meal into small muslin bags. Boiling water is poured over them and allowed to stand until almost cool; then the bag is squeezed and the liquid added to the regular bath water.

Ammonia is used for softening the water in baths for older children, but it should be used sparingly, for ammonia will take away too much of the natural grease of the skin and leave it hard and dry. Don't treat the child's skin as a scrubbing board. One extreme is as harmful as the other.

There is a popular belief that when children are not feeling well it is a bad thing to wash them. As a matter of fact, the best thing for a child under such circumstances is to see that the skin is absolutely clean, for dirt even when it is not visible sometimes makes the little ones feel very ill.

Many affections of the skin are due to a disordered stomach, and when this is the case it is useless to do anything to affect the skin primarily. The cause of the trouble must be removed. Children having ringworms must be rigorously kept away from brothers, sisters and other companions. No doubt it is hard on the child to be denied its playmates, but until the disease is cured there is always the danger of one child infecting another. One cause of infection from this disease is the reprehensible habit of children wearing one another's hats. It is a trivial matter, but it is a point on which too much insistence cannot be laid.

The idea of hardening children by exposure of the skin is one which is responsible for not a little suffering and discomfort. Sending children out in the cold with their arms and legs bared in the spring when the weather does not warrant such exposure is very bad. It looks pretty, but a moment's good looks are often the cause of much later loss of beauty.

The practice of letting children's hair grow long is not to be commended for several reasons, but specially on the score of cleanliness. Girls' hair should be kept short until they are ten or eleven years old. There is a general belief that by doing this the hair becomes longer, stronger and thicker, but whether this is so or not is a mooted point. At all events, it can do no harm to the hair of the future woman, and it may do good, while at the same time it insures that cleanliness which, after all, is one of the greatest charms of childhood.

THE LATEST HAND PAINTED SLIPPER

HERE is good news for the artistic girl. Let her get out her paint tubes and set to work on painting kid slippers to match her summer frocks. The illustration shows a white kid slipper of the latest vogue adorned with painted forget-me-nots. Naturally small blossoms are the best to select for reproduction, but some of the larger flowers might be conventionalized and worked up into good slipper subjects.

Very artistic, too, are the slippers of the brocade outlined with dull gold or all-ver threads. The cloth of steel slippers are equally pretty and may be worn with a gown of almost any color. Black velvet pumps are one of the novelties of the summer for wear with lingerie gowns. By the way, the new pumps have ankle straps which make them much more comfortable than the old models, which kept slipping off. Laced sandals will be used for dress shoes. They are fascinating and have a tendency to decrease the size of the foot because the toes are short.

PENNY SAVINGS BANK FOR WORKING GIRLS

IN one of the most congested districts of New York city there has recently been established a penny savings bank for working girls. This institution is run in connection with a settlement house which is doing splendid work along sociality lines. There is great need all over the country for institutions of this sort that encourage saving in a very small way. Lots of girls say: "What's the use thinking about putting away money. It's all we can do to make ends meet." So it is in a number of cases, but it is the exceptional girl who could not save a penny a day from her salary. "Great odds there are no many pleasures to be had from the spending of a little money and so many pretty things in the shops to tempt one. Yes, that's true, but don't let the temptation get the better of your judgment. If there is no penny savings bank near your home buy a little savings bank and put all your spare pennies in it, and some day you will find that you have accumulated $5, and you can then open a real bank account. Possibly so, but all don't. Then, again, it is hard to save when there are no many pleasures to be had from the spending of a little money and so many pretty things in the shops to tempt one. Yes, that's true, but don't let the temptation get the better of your judgment. If there is no penny savings bank near your home buy a little savings bank and put all your spare pennies in it, and some day you will find that you have accumulated $5, and you can then open a real bank account.
